

A Preview of 2009-10 Feature Events

by Mickey Sullivan, PSIA-E/AASI Director of Education & Programs

his year we've put the BIG in our Big Events!

- Pro Jam at Killington!
- Spring Rally at Mount Snow!
- Children's Academy at Stratton!
- End of season Alpine exams at Sunday River!

And, this is only the start to a GREAT Snowsports season. With events held at local ski areas and big resorts from North Carolina to Maine there's something for everyone. Be sure to mark your calendar so you don't miss your favorite one.

For a complete look at all of the events be sure to look closely at the Events Schedule in this issue of SnowPro. Following are highlights of the "Feature Events:"

*Snowsports School Management Seminar – Mount Snow, VT

On Any Gear! December 1-3, 2009

The 2009 Snowsports School Management Seminar will be held at Mount Snow, VT, on December 1-3, 2009. Even though it's only early December, Mount Snow is the "Snowmaking Fan Gun Capital of North America." With only a little cold weather Mount Snow can pound out tons of snow and provide excellent skiing in the early season.

The Snowsports Management Committee has put together a great schedule of educational sessions and on-snow clinics for this year's event. New for this year: The opening session and Keynote address will be held on Tuesday evening at 7:30pm. This year's address will feature National Ski Areas Association President, Michael Berry. Michael will share with us the current trends in the industry and how snowsports schools play a significant role in the inside edge

5.....President's Message 8.....VIPrivileges the business of skiing. On-snow and indoor sessions will take place during the day on Wednesday and Thursday.

A great line-up of educators is being scheduled, including numerous National Team members. The seminar will include optional special "tracks" for AASI members and Adaptive members. A delicious banquet is planned for Wednesday evening, with special awards to be presented at that time, including the Einar Aas Memorial Award.

Complete details, lodging information, and a session schedule will be mailed to each school director in early October. If your mountain employment does not begin until late fall, please be sure to look for the mailing at that time or check the website under the Snowsports School Directors Help Desk.

Important note: There is no Southern Snowsports School Management Seminar scheduled for the 09-10 season. Directors that were planning to attend a Southern Seminar can fulfill their member school education requirement by attending either the Management Seminar at Mount Snow or one of the ART workshops for this season.

*AASI Rider's Rally Weekend – Killington, VT December 5-6, 2009

If you're an AASI Level II or Level III member and want to ride with a member of the AASI National Team, this is your opportunity. And, the possible bonus this year is that Lane Clegg, AASI National Team coach will be in the East at this time. We can't guarantee it, but you might just pull that lottery ticket and ride with Lane for two days!

And, for AASI Registered and Level I members, there is an event for you as well. Plus, here is your possible bonus - since the East is lucky enough to have a few AASI National Team members, it is likely you will also get to ride with a Team member as well! If I were you, I'd take the gamble; hey, what do you have to lose? Two days at Killington with any of AASI Eastern Education Staff sounds like a winning ticket to me!

*Ride with the Coach-Killington, VT Monday, December 7, 2009

Special Opportunity for AASI members: Add an extra day to an already great weekend and you will be guaranteed to "Ride with the Coach." Yes, it's open to Registered through LIII members who attend Rider Rally weekend. Limited to the first 10 who register – you are guaranteed to have an awesome day at Killington riding with Lane Clegg, AASI National Team coach!

Addressing the Challenges of an Inclusionary Model in our Snowsports Schools

Two New Programs to Meet this Need

by Leslie White and Mary Ellen Whitney

history of unsuccessful segregation of some students with special needs in educational environments has led to a model for delivery of educational services called inclusion. Including students who have been medically or educationally diagnosed into the regular or able-bodied curricula is happening more and more frequently, particularly as we see a rise in the incidence of children in the autism spectrum. This model creeps into our ski and snowboard lessons, sometimes without identifiable knowledge of the special student's needs, and can cause uncertainty about the roles and responsibilities of the snowsports pro instructor. Success in our lessons is determined by the ability of professionals to integrate special instructional methodology with the total group lesson. Just how this will unfold depends upon many factors.

Within the United States educational systems, "inclusion" has become a standard where students with special needs (physical or mental disabilities) are educated with their peers. Levels of inclusion vary among school systems and the nature of the student's disabilities. Full inclusionary education blurs the roles between special and regular teachers. Defining the roles of regular and special education teachers is critical in determining how inclusion will function in a school system. In a segregated adaptive program the roles are clear. In an inclusion model, where the parents of a student expect an inclusionary model, the adaptive instructor can play a significant role as a member of the team, and may co-teach with the regular instructor.

The dilemma facing snowsports schools is that parents may place a child with special needs in a non-adaptive lesson - a "regular" ski or snowboard lesson either as a part of a group lesson or a private lesson. The parent may not disclose that the student has special needs or may disclose it but expect your school to include the student in a group lesson. This situation can create a problem for the unsuspecting instructor - the special needs student may behave inappropriately and could create chaos within the lesson. When this happens, not only may the identified student become unsuccessful but the other class participants and the instructor may not leave with a positive experience.

The philosophy of inclusion of a student with special needs within regular lessons has taken firm root in many school systems across America, and the expectations of the families who believe in it are invading our snowsports industry. However, it is not the law.

In order to meet these needs better, the Adaptive Board of Educators (ABOE) will offer a one-day consult session event for non-adaptive instructors, supervisors and trainers to develop teaching techniques for a class that may include a student with special needs.

In addition, the ABOE is developing a session for the Snowsports Management Seminar on how to address and serve families who have expectations for inclusionary programs. The session, The Goals and Challenges of Inclusion: Managing the Mainstreamed Student, offers guidance on how to identify key learning needs and techniques for identifying and managing the situational behaviors for positive results. We encourage school directors and trainers to attend this session to learn how to handle the realities of inclusion and identify with expectations of parents and students who believe in inclusionary models for fun, productive lessons. Through this session we hope to expand the possibilities of serving a broader segment of individuals with positive experiences in snowsports.

Leslie White is the Adaptive Supervisor at Liberty Mountain Resort in Fairfield, PA. She is also the President of Blue Ridge Adaptive Snow Sports, Inc. Leslie is PSIA Adaptive Level III, PSIA Alpine Level II and Adaptive Clinic Leader for the ABOE.

Mary Ellen Whitney directs the STRIDE Adaptive Ski Programs Jiminy Peak Mt. Resort, Hancock, MA, Catamount Mountain in Hillsdale, NY, and Ski Sundown in New Hartford CT. She is PSIA Adaptive Level III, PSIA Alpine Level II and Adaptive Clinic Leader for the ABOE.

Updated Guidelines for Writing for the SnowPro

Greetings! We would like to sincerely thank the many hundreds of members who have written and submitted articles over the years for the "Your Turn" section of the SnowPro. They have provided insight and valuable information, generated discussion, and generally added value to our newsletter. Thanks to all who have participated and who will participate in the future.

As you may have read in the Summer SnowPro, necessary budget adjustments have limited the size of future issues of the SnowPro to 32 pages. This results in savings of about $5000. However, along with it will come a greater limit on our ability to publish some member articles in future issues.

What we don't want is for members to stop writing. We continue to invite your submissions. We have had a policy of limiting "Your Turn" submissions to about 1000 words. We have sometimes compromised on that policy, but we will now need to strictly adhere to the 1000 word limit. Plus, no photos or graphics, please.

This will provide the best opportunity for publication of your article at some point during the year, and will allow the greatest opportunity for the greatest number.

Also, as we noted in the Spring issue, we've accumulated a large number of submissions for the "Your Turn" section. If your article has not yet been published, it is either because of this backlog, or because it does not meet submission requirements for some reason – most likely length. This new need to limit length will make it even more likely that many past articles may not be published.

As possible, we will continue to publish some articles that meet the length policy. However, please be aware that many "Your Turn" article submissions may not be published in the newsletter, but will be available on the PSIA-E website (www.psia-e.org) at: http://www.psia-e.org/ms/eastbenefits/snowpros/ This is a special service to provide the opportunity for more member articles to appear, in addition to the newsletter.

If you have a question about these new policies, please feel free to inquire at (psia-e@psia-e.org), Attn: SnowPro Editor. Thanks for your cooperation.

Eastern Children's Academy - Stratton, VT Mind, Body, and Snow December 7-8, 2009 (Two day event)

December 7-9, 2009 (Three-day event; Registered Member participants wishing to complete the Level 1 exam must attend the Level 1 Exam held in conjunction with the Academy three-day event.)

This year's Eastern Children's Academy will be held at Stratton, VT. Children's Committee Chair, Jeffrey "Jake" Jacobsen, and his committee are planning an exciting and valuable training event for this December. ACE Coach Mac Jackson and his ACE Team are preparing to deliver this highly educational and fun event. You definitely want to put this event on your schedule in order to keep up with the latest in children's snowsports education. The Academy is staffed by a select group of the Eastern Division's best children's educators (the Advanced Children's Educator squad - ACE Team) and strives to deliver the most up-to-date information on teaching kids. It's also an absolute blast and a boost for any children's instructor! Check out the article in this SnowPro for more details.

PSIA National Adaptive Academy (Hartford Ski Spectacular) -Breckenridge, CO

December 6-13, 2009

The Ski Spectacular Hartford is now in its 22nd year! Join us at Beaver Run Resort in Breckenridge, CO, December 6-13, 2009 and be part of one of the nation's largest winter sports festivals for people with disabilities. The PSIA National Adaptive Academy is one of the three components of the Ski Spectacular and offers continuing education for all levels of adaptive instructors. Although it involves traveling farther than other events on our schedule, if you can make it you will remember it for a lifetime. Check out the schedule and details on the Disabled Sports USA website at (www.DSUSA.org). Click on "The Hartford Ski Spectacular."

*Mini-Academy for Alpine and Telemark - Killington, VT December 12-13, 2009

Can't arrange for five days away? The Mini Academy may be for you! If you're an Alpine Level III instructor and want to ski with a member of the PSIA Alpine National Team, this is your opportunity. Telemarkers will have the opportunity to ski with some of this country's best Nords. Prepare for the season, get some valuable feedback, and have fun doing it, all on the weekend without missing any work! Attendance is limited by the number of team members available, and the event often closes before the deadline, so make your plans early.

*Snow Pro Jam, Master's Academy and Telemark Pro Jam – Killington, VT December 14-18, 2009

We're back at Killington, the largest ski resort in the east. The Killington Grand Hotel, great ski terrain, the most snow and tremendous hospitality will make this year's Pro Jam at Killington one to remember. Our staff for the week includes a great mix of exciting PSIA-E examiners and National Team members.

Any veteran Pro-Jammer can enlighten you about the "Pro Jam experience." There's almost always good early season snow, great Pro Jam dances, interesting weather, super duper "Ed Staff," great vendor support and demos, and everything else the event involves. As the season approaches, anticipation is high, our minds (and hopefully our bodies) are ready to go, and all we need now is a good start to the season. The Snow Pro Jam/Master's Academy is an excellent way to lock in your focus. There are groups for those who want to gear up for the season, or for people who want to begin preparing for exams. Regardless of which type of group you choose, you can expect to have a great time.

New this year will be an additional afternoon of "Optional Sessions." The popular optional sessions that have been held on Wednesday afternoon will also be held on Thursday afternoon. This will give everyone greater opportunity to attend the session that they want and the ability to attend more than one of the popular sessions.

Also new for this year will be the opportunity to incorporate the Children's "Intro to Kids Zone" course into your Pro Jam or Master's Academy week. This normally 2-day course will be given on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons from 1–4pm. An additional indoor session may be held on Wednesday evening. Members wishing to incorporate this into their Pro Jam week will leave their regular groups for those afternoons and join the Children's course, led by one of the PSIA-E ACE Team members.

If you haven't attended this event before, here is a little of what you can expect: Pro Jam is the gathering spot for nearly 500 snowsports instructors, sponsors and guests from all over the East Coast. It's an opportunity for Alpine Registered, Level I, and Level II members to ski with course conductors from the Eastern Educational staff. Level III members ski in the Master's Academy with members of the National Alpine Demonstration Team. Nordic members will also ski with some of the best ski coaches in the country. Most days include an après-ski activity, culminating in a dinner and dance on Thursday evening.

There's also a "super raffle" - with exceptional prizes - held during the Thursday evening banquet to benefit the Education Foundation and Membership Scholarship Fund. Our sponsors and industry partners have provided some exciting and unique items for the raffle. You won't want to miss this fun and important element of the evening. Please see the special registration policies outlined in the Summer 2009 SnowPro (also available online at www.psia-e. org). If you can't find your issue, or don't have access to the Internet, feel free to give the office a call for more information on registration.

Note: There are several Killington lodging options available. Please check the PSIA-E website for details.

*PSIA-E Race Camp – Okemo, VT January 11-13, 2010

The very popular PSIA-E Race Week is a great way to kick off your race season and get ready for the gates. Last year's camp featured Olympic Gold medalist Diann Roffe as our quest coach. She was accompanied by the best race coaches that PSIA-E has to offer. This year we're working hard to line up another great coaching staff for this event. The Okemo race camp is for advanced skiers who desire to learn how to race, or who already have race experience. There will be lots of coaching on both ski technique and race tactics along with timed runs through the gates. Participants should be prepared for both GS and slalom training. Groups are divided according to ability and needs. You can choose a two-day camp or a three-day camp. Check the PSIA-E website for guest coach announcements.

Alpine Women's Seminar for Skiers - Windham Mountain, NY

January 13-14, 2010

It's all women, all the time, at the Women's Seminar. Two super days this year in order to make it more convenient to attend. The Women's Seminar will be open for skiers only. Groups will be formed according to skiing ability level. This is a great two days to be with female snowsports educators and boost your skiing skills.

Check out the article in this SnowPro for more details.

PSIA-E Spring Academy – Mount Snow, VT March 25-28, 2010

It's all about the SNOW. And Mount Snow has plenty. Alpine members should definitely put the Spring Academy on their schedule this season. With Eastern Team members and National Team members at the peak of their game and ready to share with you, this will definitely be a highlight event of the season. The Spring Academy has been a huge success and this year the spring skiing at Mount Snow will be spectacular. If you are looking for a fun, dynamic and educational event for the end of the season, then this is it. Four days of skiing with our Eastern Team members and additional members of our Eastern Education staff! The groups will be small with a maximum of 8 members per coach.

A new event format this year will include optional sessions on days 2, 3 and 4 of the Academy. This will give all groups consistent training with the same coach each morning while having the opportunity to explore different programs each afternoon.

The Spring Academy will include participation in the Spring Rally weekend activities. There is no better way to finish your season than this.

*PSIA-E/AASI Spring Rally – Mount Snow, VT On Any Gear! March 27-28, 2010

Most everyone knows by now not to miss this event. Great sun, great snow, great mountain, great friends and Mount Snow is a great resort! A super weekend of skiing, riding, training and skill improvement! There will be an "Après-Ski Party" and spring celebration on Saturday afternoon at the mountain. And, don't forget the Hannes Schneider Memorial Race held on Sunday. Mark your calendar and meet your friends in March at Mount Snow!

* This event is made possible in part through a grant from the PSIA-AASI Education Foundation.

President's Message

by Dutch Karnan PSIA-E/AASI President

his may seem somewhat strange to ponder as temperatures hover in the mid nineties and the humidity makes the air weigh a ton, but I'm telling you, it's winter. I know because the first issue of "Ski Magazine" has been delivered to my house. This makes it official.

We waited all that time for summer to show up, but enough of that. Winter is on! Time to check out this year's new stuff. Snowsports are activities which are stuff-intensive, and manufacturers and R&D departments never fail to roll out a sea of new wares which immediately make us think about the stuff we already have. Can my eight-year-old skis go another year? Should I scarf up another snowboard to go with the three I already have? Do you think that new knee–friendly binding really does anything? Have you seen the new boot made of recycled textiles, foams, and bamboo?

These and many other questions need answers. Brutal work, but someone's got to do it. Yes, it's still warm out, no one has burned any wood yet (except maybe up in Maine), and the leaves haven't begun their annual display, but winter requires careful planning and preparation, plus the accumulation of more stuff. Most of us remember the so-called "shaped ski revolution ", which changed our ideas about what a ski should look like and how it should perform. Ski shapes have continued to evolve, growing an ever wider foot, yet somehow establishing grip on firm snow. Hard to believe, I know, but just try the stuff, see how it works for you. Some manufacturers have widened tips, but narrowed tails. Does this actually allow easier turn entry and a smoother release from the turn? Who knows? You gotta try the stuff to see. Other innovations include knee-friendly flat stance bindings, lighter but warmer helmets, and binding plates that accept a multitude of bindings. What will they think of next?

Well, I'd love to stay and chat, but time is not on my side. The winter is getting shorter every day, as they say, and I have important things to do. I've got to start finding all my stuff. See you on the hill, sooner than you think.

What's up with Alpine Written Exams for 09-10 season

by Peter Howard PSIA-E Alpine Education and Certification Committee Chair

s you may have noticed in the Summer SnowPro, there has been a change in when the written test will occur at exams. The written test will now take place on the afternoon of the second day of the skiing exam. This change was made for the following reasons:

People sometimes have trouble getting to the area early in the morning if they have a long commute and the weather is bad.

We know that the Part Two Exam days can be long and that the early morning written testing just adds to the length and stress of the day.

We also know there is down time before the end of the second day of the skiing exam when staff and candidates have most of an afternoon available.

It seemed logical to move the written testing to this time slot. This will also give people more time to take the test.

So, travel problems are lessened, stress is lessened, and, when Part 1 and Part 2 exams are run together in the same location, the results will come out about the same time.

Perhaps a few questions come to mind if you are contemplating certification this coming season or if you have been through part of the certification process during the past two seasons:

Do I have to pass Part 1 (the skiing exam) in order to take the written test?

No, you no longer need to pass Part 1 (The Skiing exam) to take the written test. In fact we will begin the test right after lunch and post the Part 1 scores after the written test is complete. We will also post the written exam scores as soon as we can correct them. This is very much like what is done in most other divisions now. In some of the other divisions a member must pass the written exam before he can take any other part of the exam. In other divisions they provide several testing sites throughout the season that are not associated with the on-mountain exam sites where candidates can take the written exam.

When will I take the written exam if I already passed the Part 1 skiing exam?

Members who passed Part 1 during the past two seasons and sign up for Part 2 of the exam will be able to take the written exam on the second morning of the Part 2 exam. This should relieve some of the stress of the long first day and possible travel issues.

What if I need to retake the written test? When will I have a chance to take it again? Will I have to travel to another place that has the Part 1 exam and take it on the second day, or will there always be the option to take it on the morning of the second day of a Part 2 exam?

If someone needs to retake the exam they will have several options. They could register to take the exam at another exam site. But, often, we make arrangements with the member and an examiner to give the test at a convenient location. We are very good at making accommodations for this.

In summation, giving the written exam in the afternoon of the second day of the ski exam does two things: It makes much better use of the available exam time; and, it follows more closely what other divisions are successfully doing with their exam process.

For this season some of the Master Teacher Program testing will be done on-line. If this goes well, on-line testing may be viable for all our exams in the future.

What's New with Events for 09-10?

by Mickey Sullivan Director of Education & Programs

You talk, we listen. We get great feedback and suggestions from you, the member, regarding what you like and don't like about our events. In response to some of this feedback we are adding some new events and adjusting current ones for the coming season. Check out the following event descriptions for highlights. When you're ready to sign up take a look at the events schedule for event dates and location.

Off-Piste

Open to Level I, Level II and Level III members. Participants will explore the mountain and seek out ungroomed terrain while skiing within the boundaries of the ski resort. Safety and endurance are strictly adhered to in these clinics. Both technique and tactics will be taught and explored during this course. You'll take home some valuable tips and suggestions to make your off-piste experience more enjoyable. This course can be taken many times as the excitement of off-piste skiing is that conditions are seldom exactly the same.

U30

Open to all Level I, Level II and Level III Alpine, Snowboard and Tele members under the age of 31. Exploring the mountain with your peers is the focus of this course. Skill improvement, tactical choices for given situations and understanding the how and why of contemporary sliding is what you can expect.

You may ride as a pack on skinny boards and wide boards, one plank or two. And you may split up into groups of riders and skiers. The group and the instructor will decide this at the event. In any case, "it's all downhill and it's all sliding." Of course you get your 2-year PSIA-E/AASI continuing education credit too.

Sunday-Double Workshop/Rider Update

Open to Level I, Level II and Level III Alpine & AASI members. This two-day event covers the same material as the Workshop Clinic, BUT, will be held on two consecutive Sundays. Participants MUST attend both days to receive educational credit - no exceptions.

In Search of Corduroy

Open to Level I, Level II and Level III members. Participants will ski all available groomed terrain, with particular attention to developing the skills and techniques preferred with the modern ski designs. This popular Senior event is now open to all ages.

Level II - Part 1 Practice Exam with Video

Open to Certified Level I members and Trainers, this course can be used as a prerequisite for the Level II exam. This event is conducted as a series of mock exam situations and gives you the opportunity to perform in exam conditions. Included is professional video taping of your skiing during the session. The trainer/examiner can then review with you your performance and your skiing skills, both on the mountain and during video review sessions. A plan for exam strategies and training activities will be developed for you. This 2-day course is an excellent way to prepare for the exam, especially if you are uncomfortable in exam situations. The video tape will be available to you after the clinic.

Level III Exam Clinic for the Part 1 Skiing with Video

Open to Level II instructors who plan to take the Part 1 of their Level III exam. This course is an optional clinic that covers material relative to the Part 1, skiing evaluation of the Level III exam.

This workshop will focus on refinement and mastery of the skills and tactics needed for high level skiing situations and accurate performance of demos and tasks. Included is professional video taping of your skiing during the session. The trainer/ examiner can then review with you your performance and your skiing skills, both on the mountain and during video review sessions. Bump skiing will be included but will not comprise a major part of the workshop. Movement analysis skills will be practiced and coached during skiing improvement activities.

Master Teacher – Back to Basics

By Melissa Skinner & Mickey Sullivan, PSIA-E Education Department

have all been there at one time or another.... You find yourself struggling to get to the next level. You change your thought process, your equipment, your surroundings, yet that next level is just out of reach. Then you realize and stop... you return to the basics and everything seems so clear.

The Eastern Division introduced the Master Teacher Program in 1999. Over time, the program has grown from only three accreditations to eight different specialty accreditation options. In addition, several new one-day optional courses have been added. As a result, the program can seem overwhelming for members interested in this advanced education option. There may be too much to consider and too many options to choose from. So, over the summer months we just said "STOP", think about what is most important to the membership, are there positive changes that can be made to this program and how is the program integrated with our current event selections? With much input from many of our professional staff, we have updated and revised the requirements that make sense to our mission and goals while keeping the integrity of the program intact. We also recognize that some members are in partial stages of the Master Teacher process. We will be working with each one of these members so that they may complete the Master Teacher program and not have taken one single course taken away from them towards their Master Teacher certification.

Changes to our Alpine Level II and Level III Exam Part 2 Teaching exam process took effect in 2007. This change adopted the Children and Youth module to the exam process. Since Master Teacher satisfies the requirements for the Alpine Level III Part 2 exam, we felt the Master Teacher Program should also require Children and Youth education in the process. Therefore, Intro to Kids Zone and Intermediate Kids Zone has become part of the core courses that all participants must attend to achieve Master Teacher Certification.

Several new courses have been added or replace old courses. And there are a few accreditations that have not been well attended that have been eliminated in the new Master Teacher program.

Here is a summary of how the program is re-designed and the requirements necessary for Master Teacher:

Master Teacher Requirements

- Freeride Accreditation- A new "Park Skills" event has been added to the regular alpine schedule
- Children's Specialist-Children's courses integrated into the Master Teacher required courses

Courses that have been discontinued or revised:

- Get In Gear Incorporated into the Science of Skiing course
- Knee High Knowledge material covered in required Children's "Zone" courses
- Physical & Mental Disabilities Material covered in Adaptive Accreditation courses

Master Teacher Exams

New for this season - Exams will be administered online. For $25 per season, participants may attempt an unlimited number of exams online during one season. Master Teacher participants are no longer required to accumulate a minimum number of credits before attempting any exam. When a course is completed, the exam can be taken on line by the course participant. Each exam consists of ten multiple choice questions and all members will be required to successfully pass all exams to achieve Master Teacher.

All requirements must be completed within the six season time frame to satisfy the Master Teacher Certification. For members who are using Master Teacher Certification to satisfy the Alpine Level III Exam – Part 2 Teaching, they must be Alpine Level II Certified. Master Teacher Certification may not be used to satisfy any exam in any other discipline. Complete and detailed information about the Master Teacher Program, courses, exams and processes can be viewed on the PSIA-E website.

Want to know what PSIA-E/AASI privileges you get as a member? Look for this column in each SnowPro and we will let you know what is new - or remind you of things you should be sure to take advantage of.....

SPECIAL EDITION!!

Here is your 2009/2010 Eastern Only membership benefits and promotions update. There is no rest for the weary here at PSIA-E when it comes to member benefits, so we hope to have further updates in the Fall VIPrivileges column. Most importantly, PLEASE go to the Eastern Division website Member Benefits section often to see what's new and for more details, forms, etc. on all of the programs mentioned in this article. Focusing on keeping our website up-to-date with the details allows us to get the timeliest info possible to you. Beginning this season forms for these programs will not be included within the SnowPro, but, instead, will be downloadable from the website. THANK YOU! We hope you take advantage of all of these great programs!

The VIPrivileges Partner Savings Program

This is the program to watch! The VIPrivileges Partner Savings Program offers members discounts at your favorite resorts on all sorts of activities. Discounts on everything from lift tickets and lodging to golf and water parks. Discounts are available at resorts up and down the east coast - all year round! These discounts are offered simply by showing your PSIA-AASI membership card!

For the most up-to-date listing of VIPrivileges Partner Savings Program (for our purposes "officially" abbreviated to VIP-PSP), be sure to check the VIP-PSP page of the Eastern website often.

This program will grow with your support. Please patronize participating Eastern Division VIPrivileges Partner Resorts.

Click on the program logo on our homepage and start saving!

AVALONCHE www.avalanche3kiwear.com Avalanche Skiwear – High performance PSIA-AASI logo ski clothing at up to 40% off retail.

For details, see this season's Avalanche brochure inserted in your membership card mailing or the Eastern Division website.

Yes, this popular program is back and will now be running TWICE during the 09-10 season. The current program is available to both members and non-members, and will be running through November 30, 2009. The next term of this program will be announced in the Spring SnowPro and will most likely run through May and June.

Print, fill out and submit the application provided on the Eastern Division website to get $10 off and an additional 3 months of membership at BJ's. Your application will also support the PSIA-E Education Fund. For each BJ's application submitted through the PSIA-E/AASI program, BJ's will donate $5 to the Education Fund.

Over the past few years this program has generated more than $1,500 for the EF.

Please keep in mind - you can also help by telling a friend about this great deal! If you have a non-member friend who is a BJ's member (or wants to be one), consider sending them an email about the program and attach the application. You will save them 30% off their membership cost and help us reach our goal.

Burton – AASI Certification Recognition Program

We've been having an absolute BLAST with Burton these past two years (of course! What else would we expect from Burton???) Burton is once again teaming up with us and there is a recognition drawing for all who attain their next level of AASI certification. As you would expect, the prize opportunities get bigger as you move up in certification level. For details about the 09-10 Burton promotions for Level I, II and III, go to the member benefits area of the Eastern Division website.

Choice Hotels - Usage of this great member CHOICE HOTELS INTERNATIONAL benefit program just keeps growing!

As an Eastern Member using our PSIA-E Promotion ID, you get a 15% discount when you book online for reservations at hundreds of Choice Hotel locations (including Comfort Inns, Clarion, Quality Inn and Econolodge) - plus, take advantage of their Choice Privilege promotions to earn free rooms, etc.

Be sure to tear off the Choice Hotels wallet-sized discount card which you will receive in your membership card mailing. Keep the card handy and book online through the link at the Eastern Division website.

National Report

by Bill Beerman PSIA-E Representative to the National Board of Directors

Multi-Divisional Spring Symposium

Multi-Divisional Spring Symposium will be held at Sun Valley, Idaho, April 9-11, 2010. Three divisions have in the past held this spring event that is open to their respective members: The Northwest, Northern Rocky Mountain and division host Northern Intermountain have planned the three-day event.

At the last National Board meeting I inquired regarding the possibility of Eastern Division members being able to participate this spring. We have been in contact with the Director of Education and Programs from the Northwest Division, which has taken the lead on setting the event up with Sun Valley. The Spring Symposium will host four to five hundred participants and their families.

We are currently working on logistics for our Eastern members to be able to attend, as it will be limited regarding the numbers we can register. Further details such as event cost, lodging, and registration will be provided as they become available. You might want to consider joining in at Sun Valley for the last week and weekend of the season. It will be an exciting time at one of the oldest and most heralded areas in the U.S.

Around the Regions

Region 1 (NH & ME)

Tom Butler, Regional Director, and Ross Boisvert, Regional Representative, report: Hello, Region 1. Without repeating everything already mentioned in this edition, here are a few things about our members that you may not have realized...

Jenni is helping children who need the most help.

Linda and Kit are hopefully having a German Pizza at the Red Onion.

Natalie continues to be one of the strongest women I've ever known.

Liz is making fabulous jewelry.

Gordon is putting the smackdown on the big C. Capron is reversing the effects of greenhouse gasses.

Stevie D must be having a dog and a beer at Fenway.

Skelvis is going to prove the doctors wrong!

Nate is powersliding (or is it drifting?).

Bobby is skiing at Hood (lucky dog).

Matt is working on his house.

Greg is mowing the fairways at Bretton Woods Resort.

Grace is riding her scooter to work or on the lake paddling her kayak.

Bertie is sitting at the lake with a margarita (sweet!).

Tom is getting ready for college.

Arielle is doing Yoga.

Lindsay is really enjoying her summer and could be grounded.

Jen is trying to get as many Facebook friends as possible.

Lorraine is paddling her kayak.

Jodi is teaching riding.

Phil is installing irrigation systems somewhere. Donna Kaye is wowing the guests at the Balsams.

Madness is trying to catch the big one.

Rocky is riding very well this summer. Sue is paddling.

Turbow is going to make the world a better place.

Coach Reynolds is bringing the course to its knees.

Leigh will never give up on the UMF Ski Industries program (that's a good thing too). Greg wants the grass to grow.

Tinker is leading campers on hiking trips. El Presidente is catching a delicious bass. Pete is trying to make his boat go faster. Bruce is helping people take much needed vacations.

Ross is hanging out in the 207.

Jake is helping out at Timberman. Troy is ducking range balls (unsuccessfully).

505 is helping 504 at his restaurant.

Tom is trying to keep his killer dogs from barking at the people getting their mail.

Dow continues to enjoy his witness protection status (oops was that a secret Rik?).

Steve is taking real nice care of his yard. Tappa is right out straight.

Mr. Dave is hitting range balls (not at Troy I'll have you know).

Jake is thinking of fish.

Hans is enjoying his kids.

Terri Ann blitzed it at the Bethel Triathlon.

Goofy is getting closer to Region 1.

.....And, I am spending way too much time on Facebook!

Thanks for reading, and we hope that you enjoyed our one week of summer!

Region 2 (VT)

Steve O'Connor, Regional Director, reports: New member inspiration! I recently spent time with two skiing friends who are converting some of their free time to our profession. We met during a seasonlong skiing program at Killington, Vt. The program was designed to be affordable, fun and socially vibrant. What was deemed to be an exciting program that would lure new prospects into our programs was also a recruiting scheme. We offered those interested a chance to join our in-house instructor training as a bonus, and, with that, the possibility that some would get hooked. The program was a success in many ways. My friends: Jennifer and Rick (and several others) took to the added training with a vengeance. As spring approached and the season closed, their thirst for more increased. Rick is very inguisitive and has a sports oriented mind. He listens, watches, asks a lot of questions and then tries to put it all together. Jennifer watches intently and jumps right in; she is more trial-and-error in her approach. We have absorbed them into our staff and they are both new members of PSIA-E. Last week we got on the subject of skiing and it seemed as though the season was already starting. I realize this happens often with all of us, but for me it was great that the inspiration came from these two new members.

Since I am on the subject of winter, snow and everything else that comes with it, now is a good time to re-visit your end-of-the-season goals and make them happen. I took the plunge! Lake Placid and the jumping venue were pretty cool and wet. As always, Mickey Stone facilitated a highly energetic and informative event. The range of ages was 16 to 60 and the interaction was good from all. Jumping into the pool off the ramp was easy in comparison to practicing on the trampolines. I am chicken at first when trying new things and self-conscience when being watched (sound familiar?) by peers and a coach. As it turned out the feedback and coaching came from many sources; sometimes it was timed well and other times it was distracting. Overall I'd say there was ample time for everyone to get what they needed before taking the plunge for the first time. The over-riding theme for this event became: Its all about the take off. Anyone working on freestyle maneuvers in the air will tell you that first you must get up before attempting a trick or the consequences may be harsh. We all found that out in a hurry. My goal was to be more comfortable in the air and try a helicopter. I accomplished both mostly by self-imposed peer pressure; I simply could not be outdone by my friend Joe. Joe was focused and really trying hard and he took several harsh crashes in the water. I just watched him, observed his misjudgments, swallowed hard and went for it. It was awesome! Lesson learned for me was this: If a coach creates an atmosphere where everyone is comfortable and safe, learning takes place without a whole lot of effort. The atmosphere is the key. The willingness of the players to engage with others is an element that only makes it better. In the spring issue I spoke of making a plan to make a change. This jumping event will no doubt help me make better decisions regarding air time, but also has re-energized my understanding of how people learn and are motivated in challenging situations.

By the time this gets to you the fall schedule of events will have been posted. Make a plan; pick some events that will help you get where you are going and think outside of your box. Please feel free to contact me: oconnor@together.net or 802-234-4032. Thanks for reading, look forward to hearing from you.

Region 3 (MA, CT & RI)

David Welch, Regional Representative, reports: With the first signs of fall upon us it's time to wake up your thoughts of making those first turns down the mountain for the 09-10 season! It's also time to start planning which AASI/PSIA-E event(s) you'd like to attend during the season. Whether it's an update, an exam or Master Teacher Course, one of the fine areas in our region will likely host it during the upcoming season. So, get out and take advantage of some great educational opportunities!

Each season the PSIA-E Education Foundation offers scholarships that are available to members in all disciplines; check out the article in the summer issue of SnowPro for all the details. The deadline to apply for this year is Friday, October 9, 2009, so don't delay or you'll miss out on this valuable benefit.

I'd like to remind you that Region 3 has a Facebook page called PSIA-E Region III group. We hope you will take advantage of this great way to communicate with other members in your region.

Get out and enjoy what's left of the warm weather. You'll be making those first turns before you know it!

Region 4 (PA & NJ)

Steve Kling, Regional Director, reports: Our region seemed to survive the recession better than other parts of the economy and country. Perhaps it was our guests giving up the big trip out west or up north for the weekends or snow days closer to home, but resorts in Region 4, on balance, had a good season last winter. Here's hoping 09-10 works out at least as well.

And, while it's still warm and the days are still relatively long, it really is the perfect time to start organizing your next ski season. New equipment? If you missed the industry trend, many manufacturers sell out their pro stock in the fall. Chances are you don't have the luxury of waiting for demo days to find the perfect board or boards, and picking them up mid-season.

Is this an update year for you? Are you thinking about a certification exam? Now is the time to get organized. The event calendar is published in this SnowPro, and it's available on- line. We are fortunate to have "Elk Week" in late January; a varied assortment of educational events that attracts the biggest concentration of our members, behind only ProJam. You should be able to find a top notch event close to home, on an excellent mountain with very good conditions. Also, remember that if you check the educational schedule on-line, you can sort it by event type, location, etc.

This is also a good time to start, or perhaps intensify, efforts to recruit new instructors. We are the best source for new staff at our schools and new members for PSIA. And, a few more bodies will always come in handy on those busy weekends next winter.

(Pssst, it's also OK to look at a manual or check out the Movement Matrix before the first frost.)

Region 5 (Western NY State)

Steve Howie, Regional Director, and Ron Kubicki, Regional Representative, report: With winter fast approaching we still have plenty of opportunity to participate in some summer activities. After several communications about a golf outing this fall, we have decided to try something a little different. On Sunday, October 11, Bristol Mountain will be having their annual fall festival, starting at noon. In conjunction, we will hold a Region 5 membership meeting at 1:00pm at the area. Prior to the meeting, for those interested, we will host a mountain biking tour at Ontario County Park right next to Bristol, and a road biking ride around the Canandaigua Lake area; routes will be planned based upon ability. For those that do not bike, bring the family and enjoy the fall festival activities at Bristol Mountain. To better plan the rides please contact me at showie1@rochester. rr.com or call 585-750-0242. If you are not sure in advance, all rides, including the mountain biking, will meet at Bristol Mountain at 10:00am and leave from there. I will have extra water and carb-fuels available at the area. If you have not toured the Finger Lake Region by bike, you'll have great new experience and find some great views.

We are still working on pre-season indoor clinics that will be open to all members. Our goal is to have them be all-day sessions, including lunch, for a very minimal fee. We are currently working on presenters for both skiers and riders. If everything works out we will email the details to everyone.

The deadline is quickly approaching for all scholarship applications for this season. To apply for all funds, eligible members can obtain a scholarship application by calling the PSIA-E office at 518-452-6095, or visiting the PSIA-E web site at: www.psia-e.org. You will find information on the scholarships under the "Member Services" heading and "Eastern Benefits" tab. Complete the entire application and mail or fax it to the PSIA-E office, postmarked no later than Friday, October 9, 2009. If you fax your application, please call to confirm receipt. The PSIA-E fax number is 518-452-6099. Don't miss out on this opportunity.

We hope to see you at Bristol for all the activities. As always, if you have any feedback or concerns, please contact any of the following Region 5 Representatives.

Region 5 BOD and Committee Members: Steve Howie - Region Director; showie1@rochester.rr.com Ron Kubicki - Region Representative, PSIA-EVP; rlkubicki@yahoo.com Debbie Goslin - SSMC Chairperson; debbieGos@aol.com Wendy Frank - SSMC Representative; wendy.frank@holimont.com Rick Downing - AE&CC; rdown@frontiernet.net Lee Dame - Children's Committee leedame@rochester.rr.com

Region 6 (Eastern NY State)

Scott Allard, Regional Director, reports: No news is good news. Nothing significant to report in Region 6 at this time.

No locations have been set for our two membership meetings, as of yet. Any input from the members of the region would be great. We have some ideas and are thinking that on-snow events may be the best approach for the meetings. Please share any thoughts you may have.

Have a great late summer and early fall. Contacts:

Scott Allard, Regional Director: allardc@frontiernet.net

Cherisse Young, Regional Rep: Young@mhcable. com

Region 7 (States south of PA & NJ)

John Cossaboom, Regional Director, reports: Time for a Change? We are hearing a lot about change right now, both in our lives and those around us. Change is a funny thing, and we all react differently to it. For some, change is a welcome addition, full of hope for the future. For others, it is something to dread, and we resist against it. And, for a few, change is great, as long as it doesn't affect them. We do love our routines and it's hard to give them up.

How does change apply to snowsports? I know that in my own 30+ years of teaching, I've had to constantly change to meet the guests' needs, as well as keep up with current treads. Certainly, our equipment has changed during this time, and my skills have had to change and improve just to keep up. I can attest that that my skiing doesn't look anything at all like the movements I first practiced - for the better, I might add.

So, is this the year for you to change? You know that the season is upon us when the first ski magazine arrives in the mail. There is a wealth of new equipment out there. Is yours due for a change? How about your teaching? If you are bored utilizing the same old routines, how interested do you think your students are? Dig out those manuals, seek out another pro and ask what they do; or, better yet, go and observe them. Eavesdrop (with permission) on another sport being taught, and see what those instructors do. See if there aren't some things you can change. Finally, what about your own skill development? Is it time for you to change your certification status, or your commitment to the sport, or to your school?

Change can be scary and uncomfortable at first, and takes a true effort. But, before you know it, it's a comfortable routine. However, be careful, because once it's comfortable, it's time to change again.

Have a great season on the slopes!

Snowsports School Management

Update from the Snowsports School Management Committee

by Debbie Goslin

Chair, Snowsports School Management Committee

ike most of us in the Northeast, this has been a summer with hit-or-miss weather! And, just like those winter days when the weather forecaster insists that everyone should "stay off the roads," I am pretty confident that most of you took the weather in stride and have been able to enjoy a few months of the warmer temperatures!

That said, the first of my "Gear Guides" was delivered yesterday, and I found myself devouring all of the information and new products on each and every page. And, so it continues... the passion for the sport of skiing and snowboarding and our passion for teaching.

The Snowsports School Management Committee (SSMC) met in June to discuss their thoughts for the Management Seminar as well as many requests for sessions from Eastern Directors. Several key issues were also discussed that were addressed and discussed at the June Board of Directors Meeting.

The Snowsports School Management Seminar (SSMS) will be held at Mount Snow, VT, December 1, 2 & 3, 2009. We will host our Keynote Speaker (NSAA President Michael Berry) on Tuesday evening, December 1, thereby opening the door for earlier on-snow sessions and additional indoor sessions. For many of you who have enjoyed the Personal Skiing/Riding on-snow sessions, these sessions will be offered on the last day, early in the afternoon. What a perfect opportunity for critique and a starting point for the new season!

Every region has a SSMC Representative that is appointed by their elected Regional Director. The job of the SSMC Representative is to report back to the committee the needs and comments from the directors and managers in their region. Following is a list of the members of the SSMC. Feel free to contact them with your management issues/needs. We'll do our best to bring your concerns to the table for discussion.

GET OUT! What's the Get Out AAPAR Outdoor Adventure & Education Conference, who or what is AAPAR, and why should I care anyway?

By Kim Seevers, Adaptive Sports Foundation

he first AAPAR Get Out! winter sports conference will be held at Gunstock, NH from December 3rd – 5th, 2009. The purpose of the Get Out! conference is to provide outdoor and adventure practices for professionals interested in leading winter snowsports programs. The conference is presented by the American Association for Physical Activity and Recreation. AAPAR is dedicated to enhancing quality of life by promoting creative and active lifestyles through meaningful physical activity, recreation and fitness experiences across the lifespan with particular focus on community-based programs. Participants will include physical educators, teacher preparation instructors, undergraduate and graduate students, ski/snowboard instructors, outdoor/recreation specialists and community leaders.

Conference highlights include indoor and on-snow sessions aimed at educating teachers and other outdoor recreational specialists on how to work together to forge relationships with local resorts. As a snowsports school director, manager or administrator, the opportunity for networking with the people who bring groups to your area abound. Join together with school and community group leaders to explore opportunities and best practices for growing our sports at your resort.

Please check out the Get Out! On the web at www.aapar.org/getout for information on session topics, lodging options, and registration.

"Problem Solving"

....Let Go and Empower Your Students for Creative Outcomes

by Mark Garon AASI Examiner Trainer Stowe, Vermont

Note: This is the third of a three-article series written by AASI Examiners on using different teaching and learning styles. The first two articles appeared in the Spring and Summer 2009 issues of SnowPro.

Solution of the most amazing ideas and inventions have come from the need to solve a problem. Using "Problem Solving" as a teaching approach can also result in some pretty awesome and unexpected outcomes! Tapping into the collective creativity of a group of people, or individuals, to figure something out can take you to unexpected places.

Using a "Problem Solving" style of teaching can sometimes go against our instincts as instructors. Often we may feel the need to solve all the problems for our students, provide all the answers, and point them directly towards the most effective solution. Think of school homework as a problem solving scenario. How involved was your teacher when you were doing your homework at home? Who actually solved the problem? Who was grinding the mental gears and taking ownership of the process of figuring it out, even though your teacher may have exposed you to the information or process necessary to find the answer? You were the one that had to apply those bits of information to get to the end result. Do you recall the feeling you had when you figured out a particularly challenging problem at some point in your life? Pride, ownership, relief, sense of accomplishment, confidence? Not a bad lineup of feelings if you ask me.

To apply this to snowboard coaching, try exposing your students to a variety of skills, then prompt them to figure out which ones work best. For example, let's say you worked on rolling the board onto its new edge before, at, or after the fall line. Then, ask the question, "Which approach works best in powder?" This example is focused on what the board is doing. You could easily apply the same idea to a variety of specific body movements, then prompt your students to figure out which movements work best for them in certain conditions or specific types of turns. Other problem solving questions could be: "How can we slow ourselves down in a carved turn? " "How can we get more air off of rollers? " "What can we do to stomp our switch landings better?" "What size turn works best in these bumps?" The options are endless. Suggesting a focus that's appropriate to the ability of the rider(s) works best. Encouraging students to figure out bump tactics when they've only ridden groomers will be a recipe for disaster.

Be careful not to switch into guided discovery mode with prescriptive comments like, "Try to match your board to the terrain on those landings by bending both knees instead of just your back knee. This will help you to distribute pressure across the whole board, not just the tail." This would be guiding people toward a specific answer. Instead, encourage your students to watch each other, feel different sensations and come up with their own conclusions with lots of practice time. "Did that landing feel better than the last one?", or, "What did you do different?" might be more appropriate comments to stay consistent with problem solving. "Is there another place we could practice this that might allow you to be more successful?" would be better than "Let's try this off of some rollers before bringing it into the park."

In order to avoid the black hole of explorations to nowhere with totally ineffective conclusions, make sure the topics you throw out work with the terrain you're on, conditions of the day, and experience of the group. When the conditions are icy you could suggest a topic like, "How can we position our body to keep from falling in these challenging conditions?" If you have a group that's solid at freestyle with a handful of tricks they are all comfortable doing, you could suggest a fun topic like, "Let's figure out how to do the steeziest back side 180's on the planet". This will draw on the skill of the group and their interpretations of what's styley and what's not. Encourage conversation and demos to clarify everyone's ideas. Then, you could finish the lesson with a mock steeze competition. By all means jump into the mix and play and explore with your group! If done well this can turn into a good 'ol fashioned ride'n-with-vour-buds session.

With a group that's more limited in their skills, this approach may work better: You've been working on the finer points of pivoting the board on beginner terrain, complete with skills, drills, feedback, demos, practice, etc. Ask them, "What happens to our turns if we make that movement last 3 seconds vs. 1 second?" You are still presenting a problem for your students to figure out, but the parameters are smaller, more controlled, and the options more limited, as well as using terrain and skills they are already familiar with. The group is still free to explore the idea and figure it out.

The "Problem Solving" style of teaching can be a lot of fun for your students. It can also cause frustration for students with less experience to draw from, say in a first time lesson. Some people may feel they are not getting their money's worth because you are not providing them with the info they need to learn to ride. Be careful to read the situation and your students and use it appropriately. Simple problems to solve for beginner riders might be, "How would you stand on your board in order to keep your balance, if I were to try to push you over?", or, "Let's try to figure out how to press down harder on our toe edge without falling over in these J-turns".

Let go of the temptation to control every variable. Listen and learn from your students with an open mind as they share their world of snowboarding with you, from their perspective. Be careful, you may just learn something new, and have a blast doing it!

The Down Low and Where to Go...aka... AASI Update and Event Highlights for '09-'10

by Ted Fleischer Eastern AASI Advisor

reetings from the Great White North ... or at least it will be soon. Right now, the Green Mountain State is still the great GREEN north, but with nighttime lows starting to drop and leaves starting to change, the white can't be far behind. The animals are all scurrying around feverishly trying to prepare for the long winter and I feel no different, since, for some reason, the woodshed still has some space left in it. Hmmm ...might have something to do with too much time spent fishing this summer. Progress on my preseason checklist is looking good but I always feel the combined sense of urgency of the change of seasons and the ridiculous excitement that precedes snowboarding. If you're anything like me you're already beginning to plan for your winter season: Looking at new decks, loading new playlists on the mp3 player, trying to find my left gloves (why do I only lose left gloves?), and figuring out which mountains and AASI events I really want to hit this year.

I'm settling into my new role as AASI Advisor, and I'm really looking forward to the upcoming season - even more than seasons past, perhaps. We've got a few fresh changes and a few new items that I'd like to clue you all into...

First, the Rider Rally. It returns to Killington and this year we're gonna rock the K-rock! That said, make this your year to join us. With two National Team members right here in the East (Tommy Morsch and Dave Lynch) and Lane Clegg's confirmation to be here in the East in December - it is likely you will ride with a National Team member whether you are a Registered, L-I, L-II or L-III member! Attendees at the Rally weekend will also have an opportunity to add on a special one-day "Ride with the Coach" Premium Event and be guaranteed to tear up the slopes with the man himself, AASI National Team Coach Lane Clegg! This one-day event is limited to 10! Get those event apps in! Rally 09-10 is sure to provide a great opportunity to get in a lot of awesome coaching and riding and to get to know the "ins and outs" of this multi-faceted mountain.

Next, L-II Exams for 09-10. If you prefer to ride your exams a little farther south (versus the traditional end-of-season exams at Killington) we'll be holding a Level II exam at one of my favorite spots in PA, Blue Knob! Last year I got to go home to my roots and ride with the instructors there. While I can't divulge exactly where they took me, I can tell you that everywhere we went it was in over a foot of fresh snow which we received during my three day visit! Stellar snow, a huge variety of terrain, and all the makings for a challenging and really fun exam there this year.

You asked for them......This season you'll also find we've added more Level II preps and lots of weekend events. One of the new weekend events is a Rider Update - Sunday Double Event that's held on two consecutive Sundays. You won't have to take time off of your "real job" and we'll avoid the heavy crowds on Saturdays. We'll be holding a Sunday Double at Holiday Valley and at Okemo.

Totally new, check out the U30 event designed for da yoots under thirty. This is a mixed-discipline event for Alpine, Nordic, and AASI members of a similar age and who think with a similar mind-set - regardless of the gear they arrive with. Should be fun!

We'll also still have the ever popular Jay Trees event, Stowe Steeps, the Resort Trainers Clinic (within the Snowsports School Management Seminar) and all of the other events you're familiar with. We've tried hard to pack as much into this upcoming season as possible. So, talk to your friends, git yer decks ready, add that extra sag to your thrift store one piece and join us on the hill again this year. We'll see you there!

Ted Fleischer is new AASI Advisor as of Season 09-10!

ed not only caught a big fish this summer, he also accepted the position as AASI Advisor beginning this season.

"I look forward to building on the strong foundation that those before me began. One of my goals as the AASI Advisor is to create an even better environment in which our members and our staff can achieve their goals. Communication, creativity and fun within our organization are key to our success."

With thoughts such as these, we are sure Ted will do a "ripping" good job as the AASI Advisor just as he has done as an AASI examiner!

Some of Ted's responsibilities include working with the Director of Education and Programs (Mickey Sullivan) and the AASI Education & Programs Associate (Eileen Carr) on such things as developing the annual AASI Schedule of Events, planning and implementing AASI steering committee meetings and reporting committee needs and findings to the appropriate office staff, attending B.O.D. meetings, and working to maintain, update and revise AASI Educational materials as required, such as Study Guides, Event Descriptions, and other member affecting documents – and more!

WELCOME TED!

Kids, Kids, Kids,

It's Back to the Academy!

by Jeffrey W "Jake" Jacobsen PSIA-E Children's Committee Chair ACE Team Member

ind, Body, and Snow...sounds like deep snow doesn't it? The key word in the theme of the PSIA-Eastern Children's Academy is BODY! For years now the ACE team has been telling participants (perhaps preaching is the better word) that any activity presented to our quests (regardless of age) needs to elicit, target, create, or enhance one or more of the fundamental movements involved in skiing or riding. In prior Academy sessions the mountain was explored for use in our presentations. We have created presentations based on movie themes, games, and current literature. Using themes, props, and prior experiences are very valid vehicles to the creative process and can lead to some amazing activities that improve skier/rider performance. The danger to all the creative thinking in snowsports education for children is that there is a chance to lose sight of the movements being addressed. I imagine creating activities can be like creating music...do the lyrics come first or does the melody come first? Elton John composes the music to fit the lyrics that Bernie Taupin writes. Some writers have a melody in their head long before the lyrics are written. In the end, it doesn't matter the order of movement as long as the result is a fun activity that elicits, targets, creates, or enhances one or more of the fundamental movements involved in skiing or riding.

This year (just for fun) we are going to write the melody first! The plan for the Academy 2009 is to ski/ride (a lot) with a focus on the K of V.A.K. Taking a Kinesthetic Approach to working with children, participants will explore Stratton Mountain with the ACE Team: What that split second of free fall down the steeps feels like, or, fly through the air off a jump or off a half pipe wall. How to get kids ages 4 to 18 to enjoy these sensations while they improve on their movements to make skiing and riding an amazing experience. The mountain is an enormous playground and we will discover how varying terrain may (or may not) affect the sensations felt by the movements. We will explore the "Real" vs. "Ideal" movements of children in different ages and stages of development.

Takeaways from this Academy will include the camaraderie of the children's snowsports world, an increased understanding of the fundamental movements, the "real" vs. "ideal" movements of children at different stages of development, and an enhanced ability to create age-appropriate activities based on the movements. You will most likely take home some sensations you've never had before as well!

You are cordially invited to the 2009 PSIA-E Children's Academy

15 Below "Bring it On" Event coming to Killington

(To run in conjunction with the Mini-Academy weekend on December 12 - 13, 2009)

The early season 15 Below "Bring It On" event is a great way for the kids to tune up their skiing and riding with the pros and to get ready for the season. If the Spring Rally last season at Killington was any indication of the young talent out there and the fun that can be had, we're sure this 15 Below event will be a blast! Gary "Griz" Caudle and others from the ACE staff look forward to seeing the "gang" in early December at Killington.

Check out the 15 Below event application on the Eastern Division website in the "Forms" section. See you when the snow flies! \blacksquare

Slalom or Giant Slalom

.....the Choice is Yours

by Brian C. Smith PSIA-E Examiner Race Programs Coordinator Eastern Team Member

f you're wondering whether or not people still like to race, you should have been at last year's Okemo race camp. With coaches like Diane Roffe and more than 35 participants, it was a great 3 days of fun, education and competitive racing.

For years I have worked race camps, and the most commonly asked question by participants is, "What are we running, slalom or giant slalom?" Every time there is a split in the group. To accommodate everyone's needs, this year we are adding some slalom-only and giant slalom-only events to the 2009-10 schedule. The PSIA-E race committee decided that by offering a choice of discipline-specific race camps combined with the two-day format will allow more time for increased learning and performance.

The goal is to continue providing quality coaching at all events. The Eastern division's most experienced coaches will staff all race events. Also, as in years past, we will be inviting the country's top former Olympians, PSIA's National Team members, and special quests to coach at the scheduled events. We will be announcing details at a later date.

If you have never taken a race camp event, this is the year to try it out! Racing is an excellent way to add excitement and variety to your skiing performance. It is a great way to develop the fundamental movements required to have a solid foundation of skills for all types of skiing, not just racing.

Stretch your comfort zone and take the "intro" event if you have never raced before. If you are an avid racer, continue to challenge yourself and take a Slalom or GS event. If you're like me and like both disciplines, take one of the multiple 2-day events. Remember, all race events are also open to nonmembers of the association. Spread the word and bring family, friends, or fellow race coaches to an event for great coaching, skiing and racing!

The Eastern division remains committed to supporting the race programs and our member's needs. I would like to thank the Board of Directors for their continued support.

In addition, I would like to thank the PSIA-E race committee members who contribute insight and experience to our programs each year. A special thanks to John Jacobs and the team at Reliable Racing in Glens Falls New York for sponsoring our events with timing equipment, gear, and discounted catalogs for all event attendees.

Enjoy the fall and get in shape for a great season!

Getting Ready for the Season

by Mickey Stone PSIA-E Nordic Coordinator

all is on the way and so is our anticipation of being on snow. Here are a couple of pics of the New Olympic Nordic Biathlon Center at Whistler/Blackcomb. The Cross Country Ski Areas Association held their National Convention there this past April and we had the chance to ski and shoot the firing range. There are 15 km of trails for the Olympics in less that 10 square km. The trails were designed by John Aalborg with constant change in elevation and direction to mitigate the opportunity for racers to draft each other. Go to www. whistlerolympicpark.com to check out the venue. Be sure to watch the Olympics this year!!!

Matt Sebastiani from Pinelands Farm in Maine manages the touring center and summer activities as well as being an International Biathlon Official. Matt gave us pointers and world class rules at the Olympic Center in Whistler.

Mickey Stone, Nordic Coordinator, shooting 10/10 and breathing heavily at the Olympic Nordic Center.

For you FreeHeelers out there here is a USTSA Team Member rounding a gate at Tamarack Resort 2 years ago. Notice the form and discipline. If you were to look at the Matrix for Nordic Downhill or the Telemark Components from PSIA-E you will see he fits the mold. This is a great visual for entering the season.

USTSA Team Member."

Just a few pictures to get you excited about the season. Check the event descriptions below and sign up for one of these, no matter what. The best training technically and endurance-wise is to participate in one of these great events. Enjoy the last of the summer and step it up so you are ready for the snow.

EARLY SEASON EVENT DESCRIPTIONS

Nordic Downhill

Snowsports Management Seminar: 12/1-3 @ Mount Snow, VT. There will be a learn-to-tele and a train-the-trainer portion again at this year's seminar. Information on rentals, pricing and lessons will also be available. Other topics like using tele to improve Alpine for Level II and III certification and teaching kids on Nordic gear will also be available.

Mini Academy: 12/12-13 @ Killington, VT. This is for all levels also and you can obtain Level I as in the Sno Pro Jam. Skier improvement with video and a quicker version of teaching activities for you to use to teach other students will be reviewed. Movement analysis of other skiers with description/ prescription will be utilized throughout the two to get you ready for the season. Nordic surprises here too. Mostly geared to skier improvement for yourself.

Tele Sno Pro Jam: 12/14-18 @ Killington, VT. This 5-day event will take students through beginner to advance teaching activities and progressions. Practice time for the student to actually teach tele and do movement analysis with video will also take place. Personal skiing improvement with video and specialized activities for each individual is another topic for the week. Lots of skiing and repetition of good movements to get into shape and perform efficiently will be included in a relaxed atmosphere and pace. Special Nordic surprises, as usual.

Early Season Primer: 12/12-13 @ Sunday River, ME and Seven Springs, PA. Teaching methodologies, strategies, description/prescription for movement analysis, along with the best teaching activity for the level of student will be reviewed and practiced by all. Progressions for beginners and intermediates as well as some personal feedback for your early season skiing skills will be included. This event is guided by the group's topics and questions also.

Kids Academy: 12/7-8 @ Stratton, VT.

Nordic Downhill participants only. Mind/Body/ Soul is the theme for this year's academy. Kids agespecific exercises that involve how the body makes things work physically will be the theme for this year. Lots of tricks, exercises, and involving their mind to overcome and understand snowsports at their level will be the topic.

Cross Country

Instructor Training Course: 12/15-17 @ Bretton Woods, NH. This 3-day course will review beginner to advanced teaching activities and strategies with your students. Practice teaching time and how to make an effective change in a student's skiing will be a major part of the clinic. Movement analysis with video for yourself and of others to unlock the secrets of the intermediate rut will be reviewed. A great way to buff up on the skills and techniques from the new Matrix, plus new information for the beginning of the season. Lots of skiing, a great way to start the year.

Early Season Primer: 12/7-8 @ Trapp Family Lodge, VT, and 12/19-20 @ Lapland Lake, NY. These two-day events will go snow, rain or sun. Be prepared for indoors and outdoors, if need be. An early season review of the skills, techniques, Matrix, teaching activities and personal skiing improvement to prepare you for the season of teaching. You may obtain a Level I, if need be, upgrade, or teaching practices to use during the season. These events are geared to the needs and questions of the group. Bring Classic and Skating gear. ■

Congratulations to 20, 30 & 40 Year Members

The following PSIA-E member have completed either 20, 30 or 40 consecutive years of membership in PSIA as of the end of the 2008-2009 season. We congratulate these individuals on this outstanding accomplishment and thank them for their dedication to snowsports education. All qualifying members have received a commemorative pin and a letter of recognition directly from the national PSIA office.

In Memoriam

Richard J. Bertrand, of Braintree, MA, has passed away at the age of 60. He was an Alpine Registered member of PSIA-E, having joined in 2008. He taught at Blue Hills Learning Center, MA.

Arnold Grant Koehler, of Erie, PA, passed away on August 4, 2009, at the age of 62. He was an Alpine Level III member of PSIA-E, having joined in 1993. He taught at Peek 'n Peak Snowsports School, NY.

Gordon McKenney, Jr., of Goffstown, NH, passed away on May 9, 2009, at the age of 76. He was an Alpine Level II member of PSIA-E, having joined in 1975. He taught at Pats Peak Ski & Snowboard School, NH. Gordon's daughter Lauren shares these thoughts: "My father taught skiing for the 42 years at Pat's Peak in Henniker, NH (He) taught part time - but EVERY single weekend - until he retired as an engineer; he then taught full time.no one was more of an optimist, no one more eager to show up for line-up each day ... with as much vigor last year as he had 42 years ago."

Eric J. Westerdahl, of Williamstown, MA, has passed away at the age of 44. He was an Alpine Registered member of PSIA-E, having joined in 2006. He taught at Jiminy Peak Ski & Snowboard School, MA.

PSIA-E/AASI extends its heartfelt sympathy to family and friends of our passing members.

Your Turn

The AEC Method to Dialing in a Trick

by Danny Murawinski AASI Level II Freestyle Coach Massanutten, VA

Reestyle snowboarding is huge these days, and the competition to become the best is unreal. Pros are throwing tricks that were unimaginable five years ago. Snowboarders who watch the pros on ESPN and all the snowboard videos feed off of the pros' progression. However, what most riders don't see is how much time and effort the pros put into each trick that they learn and how many times they practice the same trick to make it look as good as it does.

Progression is a big part of the enjoyment of snowboarding. Progression can be anything from learning a new trick, to becoming more dynamic, to learning how to do a J-turn. It can fuel a rider's ambition for the sport, but freestyle riders can become obsessed with progression. Once they learn a new trick they immediately move on to the next big trick. Yet, in that process they become sloppy with the tricks they already know. Sloppy tricks can be extremely dangerous and can result in injury.

As a freestyle coach I have seen many riders become obsessed with progression. To help cope with this situation I developed three steps to dialing in a trick. I call it the AEC method, where "A" stands for accomplishment, "E" for efficiency, and "C" for consistency.

Accomplishment

The first step to dialing in a trick is accomplishing the trick. Landing a new trick is very exciting, and normally results in an increase in the rider's confidence. The goal now is to take that excitement and confidence and to transform it to making that rider efficient at that trick.

Efficiency

Efficiency is defined as being "effective without wasting time or effort or expense" (web definition). If a rider is efficient at a trick, the trick looks effortless, and effortless tricks tend to look the best.

This part to the AEC method focuses on tweaking that maneuver to look great, whether that is poking a grab, stalling a rotation, or simply changing their approach slightly. As a coach it is our job to come up with new ideas to make our rider's tricks look awesome.

The important thing to remember, from a coaching perspective, is to start small. Offer the rider small adjustments and only offer one idea at a time. It is easy for coaches to over-analyze the maneuver and pick out multiple things that the rider could improve on. To give successful feedback it is important that we recognize all the things that affected the rider's maneuver and pick the one thing that will have a cascading effect on the other potential problems.

Now, once the student has became efficient with a trick it is time for them to focus on consistency.

This section is utilized for the publication of articles from the membership, and we invite your active participation. Content reflects the opinion and knowledge of the writers only, and is not to be interpreted as official PSIA-E information.

Consistency

Consistency comes from muscle memory. Muscle memory comes from practice. As coaches, we should be watching our students during the efficiency stage for the one time they stick the trick where it looks best. At that point we should encourage the rider to perform that same trick, the same way they just did.

Once they have reached this point it is time to practice that same trick over and over, until, as lan McAlexander, professional photographer and founder of itmexposerures.com, stated, they can put the trick on "autopilot". Autopilot means to perform the trick with as little effort as possible. Once they have the trick on autopilot they will become consistent with that trick. Consistency is extremely important when it comes to competition. Judges look for consistency and control, and if a rider is consistent with a trick they are also in full control of that trick as well.

In summary, honing in the skills learned from the AEC process teaches better board control, better understanding of where the body is in space, and a better feel for upper and lower body separation. In other words, if I accomplished a J-turn and I practiced it until I was consistent with it, the knowledge of how the board works and the muscle memory I gained from turning the board so many times will help me immensely when learning S-turns.

The AEC method does not make a maneuver perfect. There is no such thing as perfection in snowboarding. It is simply a way to break down the process of dialing in a maneuver.

Looking for a fun, unique and very useful gift for a friend, parent, spouse, or child who is a member of PSIA-E/AASI?

How about a Gift Certificate?

Yeah, that's right, we now have two types of Gift Certificates available!

• PSIA-E/AASI Event Gift Certificates are available in increments of $50 and can be used toward Eastern Division events. They can be designated to be used during the current season when purchased, or can be designated for the immediate upcoming season. Please note: Once designated, certificates cannot be carried over to another season.

• Or, purchase a PSIA-E/AASI Dues Gift Certificate for the exact amount of the recipient's dues. Please contact the Office to obtain this amount!

To purchase a Gift Certificate, please call the PSIA-E/AASI office at 518-452-6095 and ask for Colleen Plante.
