National Dues Increase Announced for 2012-13

By Andy Hawk, PSIA-AASI National Marketing Director

Financial analysis of the present and future needs of your organization, the PSIA-AASI Board of Directors voted to increase dues by $11 per member for 2012–13, with the option to increase by an additional $3 the following year. That's it . . . the rest of the news is good. To put into perspective the decision that the board made, it is important to first understand what the board knows.

Membership dues are a primary revenue source for any association and provide the foundation necessary to allow PSIA-AASI to fulfill its mission: to support us in our personal and professional development, provide us with the educational tools to create positive learning experiences, and have more fun. PSIA-AASI provides access to the people and resources you want and need in order to get people excited about skiing and snowboarding.

As you might expect, inflation and the cost of doing business are part of the consideration, but the factors that informed this decision are a little more complex than just that. In this article, we'll discuss those factors as well as provide insights into the opportunities that lie ahead for PSIA-AASI. Over time, we've kept our dues as low as possible, but costs have increased and some education development and programming had to be cut.

In November, you'll be able to access the Treasurer's Report and more detailed information on www.THeSnowPros.org

The main reason for the increase is: the board is unwilling to compromise the high level of service provided to PSIA-AASI members or the strength of the organization's education and professional development programs. The board is made up of members like you, who face similar financial restraints and concerns. While the board is committed to not taking any unnecessary increase in dues, they are also committed to keeping a high value of membership service for you. At the heart of PSIA-AASI's value to you:

- Clinics to improve your skiing, riding, or teaching, enabling you to excel at the sport you love.
- · Exams to validate your level of professional knowledge and accomplishment.
- The PSIA-AASI shields, recognized across the country and around the world, signifying your accomplishments.
- PSIA-AASI national teams, clinicians, and examiners, who act as leaders and innovators in the field and provide top-notch training for all levels of membership.

• The strength of the PSIA-AASI brand with area management, and supporting pay increases associated with professional education.

- Consumer publicity promoting the value of taking lessons to consumers and the professional image of you as a ski or snowboard instructor.
- Discount programs, pro deals, and catalog offerings— which reduce the cost of being an instructor, and often more than offset the cost of dues.
- Newsletters, magazines and training aids to support your education and development.
- Ever-improving web services to enable member self-service, access to your member records, online training tools, web-based event registration, web-based catalog purchases, communication with members across the country, and more.

The most important rationale for this increase is the continued service improvements offered to all members. Whether it's national marketing campaigns, additional online services, or pro form availability, the value of a PSIA-AASI membership continues to rise. Over the coming year, members will notice a more concentrated effort in the discussion and expansion of the association's education programs. Among the goals for that effort are:

- Increase ease of member access to all products, programs, and services; develop and communicate clear paths to success in your educational system.
- Develop a quality assurance system to uphold standards for all products, programs, and services, enabling national and international recognition.

Price increases are never pleasant, even smaller ones, and the truth of the matter is that we're not any more excited about blowing your money than you are. When we asked for another $10 back in 2008, we did so knowing that we could make substantial upgrades to the services we offer. Some of those, like our new online offerings, are pretty obvious. Others are a little more behind the scenes. Here is what you got that you probably already know a little bit about.

PSIA-AASI has made continuous upgrades and improvements to the websites and online member tools to provide not only a better online experience, but also to boost the amount of useful content available to you. While significant in terms of investment, the gains in financial and service efficiency have already demonstrated the value of this project. Examples include:

 A social networking tool, driven by you, "The PSIA-AASI Community," facilitating information sharing amongst members, divisions, and other PSIA-AASI stakeholder groups.

Scholarship Review Committee

By Michael J. Mendrick Executive Director

> n this issue of the SnowPro we introduce a new feature called Under the Snow Globe. This is an opportunity to feature some of the incredible volunteers and members of this organization that help take it from "good to great" every season.

I can think of no better or no more deserving group of volunteers to feature in this first installment than the members of the Educa- tion Foundation Scholarship Review Committee, namely Dave Welch (committee chair; Region 3 Director), Ross Boisvert (Region 1 Representative) and Curtis Cowles (Region 2 Representative).

During the last week of October Dave and his small but able crew had the "pleasure" of spending hours reading through and discussing 119 scholarship applications that were presented to them in binders as thick as the Manhattan phone book. In fact, Dave was seen using a hand-truck to get his binder out to his car after the October 16 Board of Directors meeting!

In truth, the board members that volunteered to serve as the scholarship review committee this season expressed their sincere interest and enthusiasm for doing so. As Dave wrote to me upon sending me the group's scholarship award results, "We were all glad to be of service!" And I know he meant it.

Each season, the PSIA-E Education Foundation makes monetary scholarships available to members who wish to further their education or certification status within PSIA-E, PSIA and AASI. The training that members receive as a result of the scholarship program increases their productivity and value as a member and as an instructor in their particular snowsports school. Scholarships are awarded based upon financial need, personal/professional goals, snowsports school experience, and ability and means to share the benefits of the scholarship with other staff members and snowsports area guests. In an effort to expand the reach of our scholarship program, at the fall 2009 Board meeting a new policy was passed opening up scholarships to any member in good standing (previously you needed to be a member in good standing for at least three years).

Thanks to the generous support of sponsors and members via donations of items and dollars for our "super raffles" each season, we now are able to offer nearly $15,000 in scholarship money to members (triple the amount of ten years ago). This season the 119 applicants marked an increase from 90 applicants in 2010 and more than double the amount from 2005.

The interest and enthusiasm by members to participate in the EF scholarship program is admirable and awesome but if not for an even match of those two elements by the Scholarship Review Committee the program would not be such a success. Thanks guys!

I can't remember but it must be love

By Peter Howard, Alpine Education & Certification Chairperson

t's that funny time a year again when skiers wonder if they remember how to ski. We think we can but we really aren't sure until that first run is done and we look back up the hill and say, "That's what I'm talking about." I can fly again. It's funny from a teaching perspective too because all the old tried and true statements are no longer on the tip of the tongue. Skiing sometimes seems so simple and magical at this time of year that there really is not much to say. The whole thing, the lifts, the equipment, it's a modern marvel with ninja like potential. Not remembering what to say or how to convey the possibilities results in fresh thinking and really having to watch and say something relevant with a few carefully chosen words. Perhaps if all lessons were like the first one of the season they would be so much better.

It's also a great time of year to realize why this sport has a tough time captivating all who sample the slippery slopes. There's a trade off that takes place with everyone every season. Is the price worth the reward? On one side of the balance sheet is the white ribbon of death. A couple of crowded scrapped off trails with a few water bars and snow guns thrown in for effect. Then there are the sore feet and a damp chill in the air, the potential for injury and the financial cost and hassle. On the other side of the page is the potential to fly, to experience the blue bird days and epic conditions, to realize the promise of the mountains, to be a winter athlete. As professionals we know what the rewards are and how to minimize the down side. This time of year and those first couple runs give us a humble look back at why the reward/cost balance might tip the other way for many of our customers.

We usually equate fresh tracks with big snowfalls later in the season. But perhaps our freshest tracks are at the start of the season when we look anew at out customers, our turns, and our motivations. As teachers we also test the cost/reward balance and wonder why we do it. No one forced or threatened us to teach. It's not the law of the land or even the right thing to do. So that means all that's left is love and money. May you have both and a great season.

President's Message

hings are ramping up fast here in western New York heading into the season, as I am sure it is where you are. Likewise, the past months, things have been "fast and furious" on the business side of PSIA-E/AASI. Since the beginning of October there have been several Presidents' Council conference calls amongst the presidents of the nine PSIA divisions from throughout the country. I also have taken calls from members who had concerns ranging from exam format changes to concerns about new designs of years of service pins. I have been involved in a national task force to select a facilitator for our Divisional Presidents' Council meeting in Denver this coming January, plus a myriad of e-mails and memos. Most importantly as your current president, I attended and facilitated our Eastern Board of Directors Executive Committee and full Board of Directors meeting in Trov NY. October 15th and 16th.

What a different perspective from the president's chair! I have been on your BOD for the past 9 years and have always felt the sense of duty and obligation required in this role. However, in sitting in this new position and seeing the passion and dedication of your Regional Directors and Representatives, all the committee and discipline chairs, plus the commitment of our professional Albany-based staff I realized the importance of this role. With this new perspective and the details of events leading to this meeting I realized this board has accountability beyond simply Eastern business; we represent our membership – you – at the national level as well.

There are over ten thousand of you in our Eastern membership and it is at your will and pleasure that we meet and interact. Every conversation, motion, decision or plan is always looked at from your point of view. Granted there are some difficult and necessary decisions, especially involving the budget. This is where the dues and event fee changes are determined, and these are never easy discussions. In this same light we are very sensitive to increases at the national level. I am proud that our Eastern Board and division staff were able to both hold the line on event registration fee increases this season and reduce our expense budget by more than $140,000 from what was approved a year ago. By now you all should have received an on-line survey sent out from PSIA-AASI, our national office in Lakewood CO. In half of those surveys was a simple statement that in the year 2013 there would be an $11.00 national dues increase. Additionally, in fall issue of 32 Degrees, Eric Sheckleton's Chairman's Message– The Evolving Value of PSIA-AASI – mentions a dues increase in his article.

Eric is the Chairman of the National Board of Directors. This board is made up of one National Representative from each Division – Bill Beerman is our Eastern Division representative, and they tend to national administrative and fiduciary affairs. In his column Eric outlines the values and benefits of membership. The survey was also looking for input as to the perceived value of membership by you – the member. I hope you all took the time participate in this survey; this is invaluable information as we progress and evolve into the future.

You may ask how is your message carried to the national board and where is your connection? A clear demonstration of the connection you have to the national leadership is that Eric Sheckleton was a quest of Bill Beerman at our Eastern Board meeting on Saturday, October 15. This was a generous and notable act on Eric's part (not to mention the arduous journey from Montana to Albany). The presidents and division administrators have known about the national dues increase for a several months and have been involved in heavy dialogue with national officers and executives concerning the need for this increase. Eric felt an obligation to personally attend and address the concerns we had on the part of our eastern members. As I stated earlier these discussion concerning increases are never easy and rarely unanimous when it comes to the final vote. It was a deeply concerned and engaged board that spent the last hour of our meeting questioning Eric as to the necessity and amount of the increase. Their sense of accountability to Eastern's membership was apparent. Even after the meeting at dinner/ meeting social event Saturday evening, many of the board members engaged Eric one on one about this and other subjects of concern between National and Eastern. Before Eric left he and I had few private candid moments of discussion and Eric related to me the value of the frank and open interchange he experienced. He left realizing there is elevated expectation of accountability of National to Eastern and the other eight divisions, but that we also acknowledged the common and beneficial features of our relationship with the National Board. This should point out the partnership - National to Eastern - both working for you.

In this issue of the SnowPro and the current and upcoming 32 Degrees there will be more information on value and benefits, be sure to stay and informed and empowered member. Feel free to reach out and contact me and other members of your volunteer leadership, we are your voice in all things, we are your peers and colleagues, we also, as you are, members of PSIA-E/AASI.

Peace Ron

s my 11th season as your executive director arrives I believe we are at an important point in our history as both a division and as a national association. The period since our June Board meeting has been unusually active with national and divisional issues on the front burner (at 14,000 BTU's, I might add) including the announced national dues increase, the communications process related to that, a national membership survey, alternative dues payment programs for members and even talk of divisional and national roles and responsibilities and potential restructuring of some of those roles.

I have been working closely and communicating often with president Ron Kubicki (whose first few months in office were anything BUT a "honeymoon" – nice job, Ron!) and our national BOD rep Bill Beerman throughout the past several months and commend them both for their time and energy on finding resolutions to the many issues at hand.

We also completed, moved in and even grew a darned nice yard to wrap up our office renovation project by September (see adjacent picture). Currently we are undergoing some "phase 2" infrastructure projects in the original building including window replacements downstairs, new exterior doors, old kitchen area rip-out and a new roof. These projects are all overdue, will make us more energy efficient and will cost approximately $20,000 of the approved $30,000 capital expenditure budget in the 2011-12 budget.

While this isn't particularly "sexy" to report we had another clean, positive audit from our CPA firm. Why is that important to you? It means we are running a tight, clean, efficient "ship" and that the dollars you invest each year into membership dues and events is being professionally and prudently managed.

While our year-end position for 2010-11 (year ended June 30, 2011) was strong and our budget looks sound we are concerned with the 79.3% retention rate for member dues as of the end of September (lowest since 1999). As such President Kubicki has reinstated the Membership Development Task Force with chairperson Debbie Goslin and members Steve Howie, Dick Fox, Ross Boisvert, Peter Howard, Brian Smith and me as ex officio (that means it's my job to help this gang out!). They will be exploring different ideas relative to membership attraction and retention so please feel free to get involved if you would like to contribute to building a healthier and stronger membership of fellow snowsports educators. Just drop me a note and I'll get you hooked in.

We will continue to work closely with our volunteer leadership as well as national staff and leadership toward positive resolution of our mutual issues and thank National PSIA Board Chairperson Eric Sheckleton for volunteering his time and energy to join us at our recent Eastern Division fall Board meeting.

I look forward to seeing some of you at the Snowsports School Management Seminar at Mount Snow and ProJam at Killington soon after. See you on the hill!

- Centralized web login, combining the various PSIA-AASI online resources, including membership renewal, into one platform.
- Development of "Web Extras," bonus content to supplement material found in the printed 32 Degrees, ensuring you have the strongest possible information flow available in snowsports.
- Creation of a 100% electronic version of 32 Degrees, so you can stay on top of what is happening – no matter where you are.
- Operating system and design upgrades to the Movement Matrix
 - The Movement Matrix, originally released in early winter of 2007, is an interactive, multi-layer website designed to revolutionize how PSIA-AASI delivers content to you, and in turn how you transfer that knowledge to your students.
 - This tool utilizes video and a searchable tool to illustrate the skills concepts, situational skiing and riding, drills for teaching, and the national standards. Its content is relevant to alpine, snowboard, nordic, and adaptive members.
- A customizable and more detailed online member profile which lets you communicate your accomplishments with others around the world, and ensures you are in touch with colleagues 24/7.

Since the last dues increase, PSIA-AASI members have seen an increase in pro form opportunities from 25 offers four years ago to 42 direct offers to the membership today. In addition to these offers, supplier programs also subsidize the PSIA-AASI Accessories Catalog, which provides additional opportunities and access for members. Active membership in PSIA-AASI is recognized as the industry standard for prequalification for pro purchase opportunities.

And then there is all the stuff you can't see.

Behind the scenes, PSIA-AASI is working with other national ski and snowboard associations to ensure that its programs continue to set an industry leading example for grassroots efficiency and promoting the growth of the snowsports. In addition to a strong and successful public relations effort, PSIA-AASI also produces consumer messages through the "Go With a Pro" (GWAP) campaign. GWAP offers simple marketing and messaging tools that can be adapted by divisions and schools to attract more guests to lessons at all levels and to raise the image and value of pro instructors. GWAP is supported through video "Pro Tips" as well as a 60-minute television show that airs nationally on cable sports and resort networks, seen in 41 million households.

PSIA-AASI is a critical component of "Learn to Ski and Snowboard Month," (LSSM) and takes an active role in this program designed specifically to get more people taking more lessons with pros.

We've got a lot going on at PSIA-AASI, and even more coming down the tracks. It takes money to make it happen, but we believe we can continue to offer the value that makes the investment worthwhile.

So what will the dues increase go towards? In the short term:

- Reinvigorating education programs that had been reduced, cut, or postponed and updating education resources
- Streamlining the consistency of our education and certification programs
- Developing even better online resources, and more

You'll notice a continued improvement in basic member services, as well as the tools and resources that you need to have the independence and flexibility you need to receive this service whenever and wherever you require.

The most important thing to know is that we've got our eye on the ball. We're not just thinking about this year's budget and programs, or next year's, we're looking way down the road. Your Board is doing everything we can to ensure the long-term financial stability of the PSIA-AASI, and your ongoing benefit.

Editor's Note: While the Eastern Division typically implements a small incremental dues increase each season ranging between $2 and $4, the Eastern Division Board of Directors voted to leave divisional dues unchanged for the 2012-13 season.

2012 National Team Tryouts

Adopt an Eastern Team Member

By Mickey Sullivan, Director of Education & Programs

he PSIA and AASI 2012 National Teams will be determined this April 2012. Whether you are directly involved in the tryouts or not, this is a HUGE event for all of our eastern members in every discipline. Our PSIA-E/AASI members that make the National Team will be in a terrific position to share their focus, national and international experience and expertise with you, the member.

You can be a Big Part of The Eastern Team Vision 2012.

Part of this vision includes, "In order for us to deliver the best product possible to our members we must be well represented at the highest educational levels of PSIA and AASI. To achieve our goals it is imperative that our PSIA-E/AASI Education Staff is directly connected to and a part of the PSIA and AASI National Teams. After a successful 2008 national team tryout for the eastern division we are represented with 6 members on the PSIA and AASI National Teams. These members have made a terrific impact on the eastern members and the educational leadership of our division. Our Eastern leadership has a goal of placing 11 members on the 2012 National Teams. We believe that if we all work together and share resources, experience and talent that we can achieve this goal."

The 2012 National Team selection will be a comprehensive process enabling PSIA-AASI to select the nation's best instructors. The outcome of this process will be a team that embodies three attributes outlined by the Teams Taskforce in 2010:

- Inspirational educators
- Lifelong learners
- Inspirational athletes

The selection process will be conducted in three (3) stages:

- 1. Application
 - a. Applicants will submit an electronic application packet to include cover letter, resume, references, introduction video and writing sample.
 - b. Application deadline is December 9, 2011.
- 3. Application review
 - a. Based on a thorough review of all elements of each candidate's application packet, up to 105 applicants across the four disciplines will be invited to advance to the in-person selection event.
 - All applicants will receive communication on or before February 15, 2012 indicating whether they have been invited to the selection event.
- 3. Selection event
 - a. Candidates will demonstrate and be assessed, in a variety of formats, the attributes of inspirational educator, lifelong learner, and inspirational athlete. Included will be individual, group, indoor, and on-snow situations.

This April 2012 our teams will be attending the PSIA and AASI National Team tryouts. The Alpine, Adaptive and Nordic Team tryouts will be held at Snowbird, Utah on April 22 – 26, 2012. The Snowboard Team and Alpine Freestyle Specialists tryouts will be held at Copper Mountain, Colorado on April 8 – 12, 2012

How would you like to be an important part of supporting our Eastern Team for the 2012 PSIA/AASI National Team tryouts? Do you have a significant amount of air or travel miles that can be transferred? In addition to the gratification of supporting the Eastern Team, how would you like to spend a full day on the snow with an Eastern Team member? Well, there may be a way for you to help through our "Adopt an Eastern Team Member" program.

The application and tryout event fees for the entire National Team selection process total up to $620 per candidate. Our PSIA-E/AASI Eastern Team training fund can provide for lodging and the selection event fees. Eastern Team members will be responsible for their own transportation to Snowbird or Copper Mt. Director of Education Mickey Sullivan says, "This elite team has contributed thousands of hours and made significant sacrifices to reach this point in their careers, and to make the Eastern Team. It would be appropriate and very desirable if these athletes which represent our best skiers, riders and coaches did not have to cover all of their participation and travel expenses associated with attending the 2012 National Team tryouts."

Here's how you can help:

- PSIA-E/AASI members can use their qualified frequent flyer miles to purchase airline tickets for an Eastern Team member to travel to either Salt Lake City, Utah or Denver, Colorado for either the April team tryouts.
- First, PSIA-E/AASI members must make the commitment to transfer their air miles toward the "Adopt an Eastern Team Member" program.
- Second, PSIA-E/AASI members can request an Eastern Team member to adopt. Selections and Invitations from the National office for the on-snow portion of the tryout will be made on February 15, 2012.
- If the requested member is already adopted, then a team member in need will be assigned. You must be willing to accept an assigned team member with this program.
- Once the adoption is made, the team members will work directly with their new PSIA-E/AASI "parent" to make travel arrangements.

What does the PSIA-E/AASI "parent" get?

- Tremendous gratification for helping an Eastern Team member with their training.
- An opportunity to develop a relationship with an Eastern Team member.
- Recognition in the Summer 2012 SnowPro newsletter.
- One all-day private ski/snowboard lesson during either this season or the 2012/13 season at the eastern team member's home resort; details to be arranged by "parent" and team member.

How do you adopt an Eastern Team member?

- E-mail Melissa Skinner at mskinner@psia-e.org with your interest and request ASAP.
- Although it is not necessary, you may indicate which potential Eastern Team member you would like to adopt. Team member adoptions will be on a firstrequested basis.

• zipperline, continued We're Looking for a Few Good Men and Women!

Alpine DCL Team tryouts in March!

Have you ever thought about being on the PSIA-E Education Staff? The Divisional Clinic Leader (DCL) is an important part of our education staff; the position serves many needs for our members, and gives the team member a great opportunity for professional growth. If you're an Alpine Level III certified instructor, then you may want to consider trying out for the DCL Team. We're looking for a few exceptional men and women who are dedicated and passionate about teaching skiing and coaching ski instructors.

What is a DCL?

DCL Team members serve a four-year term on the team. During this term you are an important and integral part of the PSIA-E Education Staff.

You are considered by your fellow PSIA-E members and our ski schools to be a highly trained and up-to-date snowsport educator. Our PSIA-E members and our ski schools look to you to provide them with valuable information regarding personal skiing and ski teaching.

The training and understudy experiences, in which DCLs participate, provide a level of comprehensive information that is not readily or inexpensively available elsewhere.

DCLs are able to train with the best snowsports educators and coaches in the country to become better skiers and ski teachers at almost no cost, other than travel and lodging.

The DCL tryout will require advanced skiing skills beyond the basic Level III requirements, with a significant focus on the candidate's Teaching and Presentation skills.

The DCL is not a prerequisite or path to the ETS or Examiner status. However service on the DCL team can serve as an excellent experience and training arena for the Development Team tryout if this is your desire.

So, why would you want to be a DCL – Alpine Educational Staff member?

- Access to a more advanced and contemporary level of educational training.
- Event understudy opportunities
- Work possibilities at some events.

Requirements to try out for the Alpine DCL Team are as follows:

- Must be an Alpine Certified Level III member.
- Be actively teaching skiing.
- Submit your application and event fee by the registration deadline
- Submit a resume and two letters of recommendation with your application (one letter should be from your snowsports school director or immediate supervisor)

The 2012 DCL Tryout information:

Mount Snow, Vermont: March 20-21, 2012 (registration deadline February 29, 2012)

If you have further questions, please contact:

Online Event Registration Ready and Available!

Tou asked for it. You asked for it again. And finally we can say it's HERE – online registration for Eastern Division events is NOW AVAILABLE!

To register online, go to our division website at www.psia-e.org. There you will find a "Register Online" button on the home page that goes directly to the sortable event schedule page. You can filter events based on event name, location, discipline, level, and more! Once you choose an event, click where it says: Click here to register online!

In the process, you will need to log in at the national site. There are directions on that page, if you need assistance with logging in. From there, it walks you through the steps of registration, and when you are done, you will get 2 confirmation e-mails automatically from the system. You will later get an e-mail from the Eastern Division office with your registration details and more specific information.

Please note: Online registration is available for members only. Some sessions (exams, riding retakes, etc.) need to be processed through the office, and will not available for online registration. We encourage you to take advantage of this new and convenient event registration service!

AASI, Adaptive and Alpine (Written) Exams now given Online

he former AASI, Adaptive and Alpine written exams are now on line.* This new online exam tests the teaching, technical and professional knowledge of a ski or snowboard teacher as the first step to the exam process for Level II and Level III exams.

Note: Nordic exams will continue to be taken as written exams at the on snow exam site. The Nordic written exams may be converted to an on line format for the 2012-13 season.

Members who wish to pursue their Level II or Level III certifications will be required to pass an online Professional Knowledge exam as part of the exam process. The AASI and Alpine online exams consist of 50 randomly selected, multiple-choice and/or True/False guestions and will have a time limit of 50 minutes. The Adaptive exam has 20 multiple choice questions per discipline and will allow 20 minutes per test. A candidate will be well prepared for this exam if they are familiar with the information in the appropriate Exam and Study Guide and the required reading listed included in the manual. A candidate will have two opportunities to receive a score of 70% correct or higher to be successful. If the exam candidate fails the on line exam twice, they must wait until the next season to attempt the on line exam again.

To register for this exam, members complete a standard event/exam application. Your Snowsports Director Signature is not required to process this exam registration. All exam applications including this one must be mailed or faxed to the PSIA-E office. Exam registrations cannot be done on line. Once your application is processed, you will be sent a link via email to take the online exam. The 50 (or 20) minute time limit begins after you accept the terms and conditions on line. Previous alpine members taking the on line exam have not experienced any problems completing the exam in the time frame allowed.

*Should a member require special arrangements for the exam, or does not have access to take the exam online, arrangements can be made to take the exam by contacting the Albany Office. Contact the Education and Programs Department at 518-452-6095.

 Your Snowsports Director Signature is required to process all other exam registrations. Please refer to the Alpine Exam & Study for further information on exam procedures and qualifications.

Rocker Revolution

By Eric Lipton PSIA-E Alpine Examiner PSIA Alpine National Team

haped skis gripped the market 15 years ago. Even the holdouts made the switch nearly 10 years ago. Today, almost everyone is skiing some version of shaped skis. (I say almost because there are still traditionalists among us...and you know who you are!) Overall, most of us don't even refer to our planks as shaped skis anymore...there just skis. Yet, a select few are still caught blurting out lines like:

"I'm still trying to get used to these parabolic skis." Or

"Everything's different now with these new skis." Or my favorite,

"I've been trying my whole life to ski with my feet together, and now they want me to spread 'em apart."

Today, shaped skis are old hat, and Rocker technology is the prodigal son of ski design, staking its claim of industry ski sales. Just as shaped skis brought us a variety of lengths, dimensions and sidecuts, rocker has its own set of variables – tip rocker, full rocker (tip & tail), early rise, reverse camber, mustache, etc. Although each of these ski designs are indeed different from the others, there are similarities in how they behave.

AGILITY AND STABILITY

This technology is not solely for powder skiing. Many eastern skiers who spend their days cruising groomers are realizing its benefits too. Rocker technology affords a skier the agility of a short ski, and the stability of a long ski, all in one. Pivoting a ski with rocker requires less strength and energy, and the lighter "swing weight" makes it feel quick and agile - like a short ski. However, when the ski is tipped on edge and pressured, the entire running length is engaged, giving it a feeling of stability – like a long ski. For these reasons, as a general rule consider moving up 5-7cm longer than your traditional-cambered skis, if investing in a pair with Rocker.

SKILLS CONCEPT HOLDS TRUE

Balance, Edge-Control, Rotary, and Pressure-Control (BERP) are still the skills that we call upon to snake our way down the slope, regardless of our tool of choice; just as they have been since PSIA gave the world the Skills Concept in the mid 70's. We blend those skills appropriately depending on the ski design and what we want to accomplish. The duration, intensity, rate, and timing of our movements is constantly adjusted to get the desired result. In a sentence, it's not WHAT skills we use, it's HOW we apply them, regardless of our ski of choice.

For advanced skiers, the ease of steering that rocker technology delivers can be very useful when navigating tight tree lines, skiing moguls, or short turns. Compared to traditional-cambered shaped skis which are made to carve, beginners can benefit from rocker because the skis are made to pivot/twist, assisting the teaching pro in developing the student's speed control and rotary skill.

BASIC HOW-TO'S

Long Radius Timing

Wider rockered ski designs are typically not built with a specific turn radius in mind, as carving skis are. If a turn radius in meters is even stamped somewhere on the ski, it's likely a much longer radius than what you are used to. As a result, the skis won't hook and redirect as quickly as their traditional counterparts, so moving your body to the inside of the turn too soon will get you in trouble.

• Instead, apply the timing movements of long radius turns. Experiment with keeping the center of mass vertically over the skis until after the skis are redirected.

Involve the CofM in Edge-Control Movements

Unlike skinnier, carving skis that prefer edge engagement, the slightly wider, rockered skis prefer edge release. In some skis that are 100 + mm at the mid-body, the skis may be wider than your boot, which urges the ski to flatten. Tipping of the feet and lower legs alone, may not be enough to accurately and precisely control edge angle.

• Moving the center of mass to support the tipping of the feet and lower legs will enhance edge-control movements, keeping the skis on edge when you want them to be, and helping you maintain balance when it's time to flatten and redirect.

Stay Centered

Keep your balance centered over the whole foot. Rockered skis require less fore/aft adjustment than traditional camber boards.

• Skiing with your boots unbuckled as an exercise will help drive this point home.

Redistribute Gradually

Continue to direct pressure to the outside ski, but gradually.

 Instead of weight shift, think "weight redistribution." Instead of "tip and rip," think "guide and steer."

Steer Progressively

Apply consistent steering movements throughout the arc to create round turn shapes. (C's not Z's).

 Can you spray snow consistently throughout the whole turn, instead of just after the fall line?

Today, we can see how shaped skis have enhanced the sport, most notably allowing skiers to feel the exhilaration of pure carving. We don't yet know the ultimate effect Rocker technology will have on our industry, but it has become so ubiquitous, it can be found in skis (and snowboards) from nearly every manufacturer, and some ski makers use the technology in every model! As a result, snowsports students are showing up to schools with rockered equipment, and expecting professional ski instructors to teach them how to shred on these new sticks. If your first lesson this season shows up on rockered skis, will you know what to do? You will now.

For a detailed review of the different specifications of Rocker Technology in today's equipment, and snow conditions, check out Mike Porter's article in the Fall Edition of 32 Degrees. ■

Online Exams – for AASI & Adaptive

The online exam option is available for Alpine, AASI, and Adaptive members this season. These online exams are available 24/7 from August 15 to April 15. No Snowsports Directors Signature is required so you may register on line if you wish.

The cost to take the online exam is only $10. An appropriate price adjustment has been made to the on snow portion of the exam so that the overall exam cost remains approximately the same as last season. Register early and complete this step in the certification process before the season gets in full swing. After your application has been processed, you will receive a separate email with a link to your exam. Save the link until you are ready to take the exam. Just remember you only have two exam attempts per season so study up before taking these exams.

Eastern Team Vision 2012

By Mickey Sullivan, Director of Education & Programs

s snowsport instructors we can make a positive difference with those that we touch and far beyond. It is our responsibility to deliver the best snowsport instruction educational events possible along with a fair exam system that maintains the PSIA/AASI national standard that is highly regarded throughout the snowsports world. We must do our best to deliver high quality events that reflect the fun and excitement that snowsports are all about.

In order for us to deliver the best product possible to our members we must be well represented at the highest educational levels of PSIA and AASI. To achieve our goals it is imperative that our PSIA-E/AASI Education Staff is directly connected to and a part of the PSIA and AASI National Teams. After a successful 2008 national team tryout for the eastern division we are represented with 6 members on the PSIA and AASI National Teams. These members have made a terrific impact on the eastern members and the educational leadership of our division.

Our Eastern leadership has a goal of placing 11 members on the 2012 National Teams. We believe that if we all work together and share resources, experience and talent that we can achieve this goal.

Working towards and achieving this goal will bring great value to our Eastern Education Staff and to our members. As we embrace, plan, train and strive for this goal the entire PSIA-E/AASI organization will be positively affected. Obviously those that are on the Eastern Team will benefit. And, as this elite group trains and shares their experience with the balance of our Ed staff, they too will benefit. This training, information and enthusiasm will be shared with our members at every event and at every level. As our goals are realized in 2012 there will be a greater number of PSIA/AASI National Team members in the east to work with our Eastern Ed staff and our membership.

This is truly a goal that is worthy of all of us. PSIA-E/AASI is capable of achieving this goal and deserves the fruits of realizing this vision. So, whether you strive to be a part of the Eastern Team or part of the support team, I hope that you will be encouraged to embrace this exciting goal.

In Memoriam

Harold Benjamin Plummer of Upper Marlboro, Maryland, age 70, passed away on August 24, 2011, peacefully at home after a courageous battle with cancer. He was born and raised in the greater Washington D.C. area, and received all of his education in that area. He was extremely proud of that fact and accomplishment. He married Frances L. Miller in 1962. They have one son, Keith.

Harold began his professional teaching career in health and physical education in 1964. He was a teacher and coach of multiple disciplines within the DC Public School System. He retired in 2005 after 41 years, but he was much more than a teacher and a coach. He was often the mentor for fatherless children, and he was always the source of caring and discipline for his peers and students alike. He loved the DCIAA (District of Columbia Interscholastic Athletic Association), and he supported it enthusiastically until his death.

It was this love of the DCIAA that spawned the birth of the DC Public Schools Ski Program which he conceived, created, coordinated, and directed until his death. This learn to ski program brought literally tens of thousands of inner city youths to the mountains of Pennsylvania where they learned to ski with skill and confidence while enjoying the total mountain experience. Because of this program and its contribution to skiing, Harold was recognized and received the "Benji Award." This prestigious award is given yearly by PSIA-E to a Level I ski instructor, "For conveying the true spirit of skiing to all those whose life you touch. You have shown us all that true sportsmanship, patience, humility, and humanity can be a way of life." Those words most accurately describe the man and friend we at the Liberty Mountain Resort Ski School all knew and loved. He will be missed, and a brass plaque, in his honor, will be displayed at our mountain so that he may never be forgotten.

Richard Zicari, 75, died on August 17, 2011. Richard was an Alpine Level 2 member that skied and taught out of Bristol Mountain near Rochester, NY.

Adelia Kraus, 59, died at her home on April 11, 2011. "D" grew up in Canton, CT and began her career as a ski instructor in the Connecticut area. She moved to Vermont where she was both a ski instructor and an assistant director of the Suicide Six Ski School for many years.

Board approves new PSIA-AASI Eastern Event Participation Safety Policy

t the October 16 meeting of the PSIA-AASI Eastern Division Board of Directors the following new policy was approved for implementation this season.

Skiing and riding is an athletic and physically demanding activity. It is the expectation of PSIA-E that each member attending an event or exam shall possess the requisite level of fitness and stamina to participate safely, on all appropriate terrain and at a pace consistent with other members of the group. As such, PSIA-E reserves the right to have education staff reassign members in any event that may pose a risk to themselves or others or consistently impede the progress of the group to another, more skill and fitness-appropriate event. In such a situation an appropriate event will be recommended and the member may be transferred to that even at no charge (other than any difference in event costs) or a full refund of the originally registered event will be provided.

Volunteers and Value

By Laurence Gration, CAE, PSIA-AASI Deputy Executive Director

veryone has their own story of why they joined PSIA-AASI. Some saw it as THE place to be (sort of the coolest club to be a member of), others joined because they were urged by their employer on the hill, and others simply saw the pro deals and services as a great way to get gear at the right price. Either way, most see the training and certification as a way to grow their skills and develop their snowsports career.

No matter what the reason, some 31,000 members (and growing) signed on and are sharing the camaraderie, opportunities, and benefits of this great organization, and will for many years to come.

Few of us stop and think about what goes on behind the scenes. How is it that the events and education materials are always ready for us and the deals always done before we get online to scope out those pro offers? What goes into creating the opportunity to share our experiences through The PSIA-AASI Community; 32 Degrees, manuals, or newsletters; producing video resources; or setting up a Level II exam? And how is it that there's a friendly voice at the other end of the phone every time you call to ask a question, register a complaint ... or pass along a word of appreciation?

PSIA was started by a small group of dedicated volunteers some 50 years ago, and over the years as the association grew into PSIA-AASI—the faces have changed but the story has not. PSIA-AASI is still a volunteer-run organization, divisionally and nationally. These volunteers are people just like you, who want to give back to the association and ensure your voice is heard.

Sure, there are some paid staff that supports the volunteers, and it is the many, many hours of dedication and effort from the volunteers that make the association strong. The staff does the grunt work, ensuring follow-through on the policies and procedures enacted by the boards and committees as well as compliance with legal and regulatory requirements, so we are all covered and acting within the best interests of the sports we teach and the association to which we all belong.

Thousands of hours every year are dedicated to organizing, running, and recording the events and activities we enjoy and don't give a second thought to; we just accept that the clinics will come off without a hitch, the website is there, the phones will be answered, and the products we ordered will make their way to us. As you head into the 2011–12 snowsports season, preparing yourself to offer the best lessons you can personally deliver; know that your association has also been hard at work—both in the short term and over the long haul. In the past few years, PSIA-AASI has given back more to snowsports than ever before, through a variety of valuable programs, campaigns, activities, and resources. To name just a few, here are some of the things volunteers and paid staff have committed themselves to:

- Enabling you to be the best you can by offering clinics to improve your skiing, riding, or teaching
- Pushing you to the top, by providing exams to validate your level of professional knowledge
- Promoting the value of you as a professional instructor through the Go With the Pro television program and teaching tips, reaching hundreds of millions of guests
- Ensuring the PSIA-AASI shields are recognized across the country and around the world, so you can proudly display your accomplishments.
- Establishing and scheduling PSIA-AASI national teams, clinicians, and examiners, who act as leaders and innovators in the field and provide top-notch training for all levels of membership, again, all designed to bring you to the top and help you stay there as you work through this career.

As you would expect, this growth and expansion of benefits takes its toll on volunteers, staff, and the organization. In an ever-challenging world, we have all experienced the effects of inflation and a drop in the world economy. PSIA-AASI has too.

The ability to provide valuable services and support your professional development is part of that "long-haul" vision for the future of PSIA-AASI, and by now you've probably heard that a small dues increase is coming down the pike in 2012-13 to make that possible. Running an association like ours is a business, and business decisions have consequences. So when the PSIA-AASI Board of Directors-your elected officials-reviewed the long-term viability and strategies for meeting member needs, it decided to act responsibly upon fiduciary challenges facing the association. PSIA-AASI maintained the high standards it has established over the past 50 years-and through every tough turn it tightened its belt, reducing staff and cutting costs to a point where there is nothing left to reduce without reducing services.

The PSIA-AASI Board of Directors has decided that the association will not reduce services—that the reputation, services, products, and activities of this great association will not be diminished. Member services and resources will grow in quality as well as number, all with a member-driven purpose of making sure PSIA-AASI is the first place members come for information about snow sports, teaching, and the industry.

Next year, for the price of a couple of extra gallons of gas or a cups of coffee, PSIA-AASI members will be helping the association continue to stand proud, support the ongoing availability of services and products, and assure that volunteer leadership can and will continue to represent your best interests at the national and divisional levels.

I urge you all to stand behind the board of directors, which every year takes your needs and concerns into account to ensure you are served well by the association to which you've devoted your considerable talents, passion, and energy. Your volunteers make the tough (and, yes, the many pleasant) decisions to keep the stoke happening and wheels turning at PSIA-AASI.

It is not by accident that this is the greatest association in snowsports—and the next time you see a board member, offer thanks for keeping PSIA-AASI alive and the value high.

Around the Regions

Region 2 (VT)

Steve O'Connor – Regional Director Curt Cowles – Regional Representative

Hello everyone from Region Two! Hope you faired well from Tropical Storm Irene. And if you did not, then I hope life is starting to be normal again.

Some news from around the Region:

Bromley Mountain Resort has added a brand new 3000sqft "Kids Center" and gave the "learning area a top to bottom makeover" for it's 75th year celebration, almost $1 million in improvements. Also a new black diamond gladded trail named "Orion". Keep an eye out for Burleigh Sunflower on a powder day!

Stowe Mountain Resort has upgraded its most popular lift, The Four Runner Chairlift. Now a high-speed detachable quad, it will whisk you to the top in no time. Make sure you keep your goggles down!

Jay Peak Resorts' $120 million upgrade now includes the "pump house water park"! The water park includes a waterslide, a standing-wave ride called the "Double Barrel Flow Rider" (surfs up), and a fifty-seat bar. Make sure you bring your bathing suit when you visit!

Mount Snows big news this season is the installation of the first sixpassenger high speed detachable lift with a pull down bubble for protection from inclement weather. It will be called the "Bluebird Express" and is the first of its kind in America.

Okemo Mountain Resort continues to add to its summertime activities such as a new 18 hole mini golf course and four station bungee attraction but also worked on upgrading winter facilities. Winter improvements include upgrading its snowmaking system with new piping, and HKD guns. Congratulations goes out to Kyle Steinmetz who accepted the Directors job at sister mountain, Mount Sunapee in New Hampshire. Good luck Kyle!

Killington Resort is recovering from Irene in fine fashion! The new "Umbrella Bar" is replacing the "Superstar Pub" destroyed by floods from Tropical Storm Irene. Progress is being made to replace the "Peak Lodge" atop K-1 Gondola with a lodge to open next season 2012-2013. Snowmaking improvements have been made and four new Prinoth Snow Groomers have been added to the fleet.

Steve and I are still hopeful on having an early season Region 2 meeting/ski day. As Fall creeps closer to Winter, we will let you know date and location of this event.

Region 3 (CT, MA, RI)

David Welch Region 3 Director Reports: With the skiing and riding season upon us everyone is hoping that we have a repeat of the great conditions that we all shared throughout last season here in Region 3. The event schedule is full of opportunities close to home so sign up soon for some of the best of what the PSIA-AASI Eastern Division has to offer right in your back yard!

The Region 3 membership meeting will be held in two locations this season. The first meeting will be held at Mount Southington Ski Area on Sunday January 8th. The meeting will begin at 4:00 PM but letters of introduction for PSIA-AASI members will be honored that day so those attending the meeting can enjoy some skiing and riding during the day, Thanks Mount Southington! The second meeting will be held a little later in the season, the date, time and location will be announced very soon so keep an eye out for that information. Dave Beckwith your Regional Representative and I are looking forward to meeting you at these meetings so please try to attend.

As always your comments, questions and concerns are welcome. Please feel free to contact me at dbwelch317@att.net or Dave Beckwith at davelee26@sbcglobal.net.

Hope to see you soon!

Region 4 (NJ, PA)

Eric Jordan, Region 4 Director

Colder weather is upon us and winter is right around the corner. I'm sure I am not the only that has all my gear ready to go in the hopes of making some early season turns up north!

Hopefully you have all checked out the event schedule already and seen the amazing variety of events being offered for this season! Speaking of events, we will once again be holding two regional meetings this season. Both events will be held in conjunction with ongoing educational events. We have found that this seems to make it more convenient for everyone to attend. I would strongly urge everyone to attend at least one of the meetings. These meetings will give you an update on what is new with your organization both within the division and nationally. Most importantly, it gives you a great opportunity to express your feelings on the direction of the organization and allows you to get answers to any questions you may have. Meeting dates and locations have not been confirmed yet, but please check back here in the next issue to get all the details!

I would encourage everyone to check out both the Divisional and National web sites since they serve as great resources. Also, do not forget that you can now register for educational events on-line at www.thesnowpros.org. Simply follow the links on the main page and once you sign up and pay for the event of your choice, you will instantly get an e-mail confirming that you are registered!

That's all for now, I look forward to seeing everyone on the hill this season!

Region 5 (Western NY State)

Steve Howie, Regional Director Reports: As the Resorts ramp up for the coming season, Snowsports School focus on their hiring and training needs to better service our guests. With limited time and a fairly large number of staff to train at your school, you may be looking for more. Take a couple of days off and attend an early season event to jump start your teaching mode. If you have not checked out the event schedule already, check out the variety of events being offered for this season. There should be something for everyone right here in Region 5. I know the more training events that I participate in, the more I realize I still have much to learn. That said; each year I have more fun and it becomes easier to adapt lesson content to the needs of the individuals I work with. As usual this time of year I would like to remind everyone that you are not only the best ambassadors for PSIA-E/AASI, but for Snowsports Instruction in general. Take advantage of the event opportunities in the region and share your experience with new instructors; and hopefully encourage them become members.

Speaking of events, we will be holding our regional meeting on Thursday February 9th, 2012 at Bristol Mountain Winter Resort in conjunction with the AASI and PSIA events already scheduled. The Meeting will be at noon in the Children's Learning Center. Come and enjoy a day of Skiing and Riding before and/or after the meeting. If you cannot attend, Dick and I hope to be at most of the resorts in the region before the end of the season. If we still do not connect, please feel free contact us or any of the other committee representatives from Region 5 listed below.

See you on snow. Steve

Region 7 (States south of Region 4)

As I write this the wind is howling and the leaves are blowing off the trees. As sad as this is to think that the warm weather is gone it is even more exciting to know that the cold weather is fast approaching. Friends that do not ski or ride just don't understand the excitement that this change brings those of us who work on the snow.

The schedule of events is on line and in the SnowPro. Take some time to look through the events schedule and find something, hopefully in Region 7, that meets your needs or desires. If you are an AASI member pay particular attention to an AASI Level 2 Exam being offered at Timberline Resort in late February. Sign up early so we can be sure to keep this event on the schedule. It has been a long time since Region 7 has hosted an AASI Level 2 Exam. We must have at least enough participants for 3 groups to have it take place. Talk it up among your fellow instructors and start training for it early. For everyone, reduce your costs and time away from work and home by taking events in Region 7.

Walter and I are very interested in increasing the number of members in PSIA/AASI. Please contact either of us if you feel we can do something to help your staff with recruiting members. I know we are all busy during our seasons, but if an email, phone call or maybe a day visit to your resort would help with convincing some of your staff of the value of our organization then both Walter and I are interested in helping. This really is a great organization to be a part of.

I hope you all have a smooth start to your season and have all the lessons you can handle. Even when we are not teaching, we can all still be on the snow.

Absolutely AASI

Ride and Slide; the season is here.

By Ted Fleischer, AASI Advisor

n the National Scene there is currently an active group from across the country working on creating a national database of exam questions so that all divisions will have on line testing capabilities for the written portions of the certification exams. This season the eastern division will have its AASI Level II and Level III written exams on line and ready to go. Any AASI member planning to take the Level II or III exams can easily register for the on line exams. The cost is only $10 for 2 exam attempts. In addition the cost of the 3 day on snow exam has been reduced by $10 so that the overall exam cost stays the same as last year.

We have received event requests back from nearly all resorts and our schedule is now posted online. This will be the first season, in my memory, that we offer three LII exams. The southernmost exam will be held at Timberline WV and the "End of Season" exam will be at Sunday River ME. There will also be an early season exam in January at Mt. Snow VT.

Droppin' In Clinics - This program will continue, so please spread the word in your region. This is a great program to introduce snowboard instructors at your resort to AASI and some good riding and teaching skills. Your school directors can get more information on this program on the SSD section of the PSIA-E / AASI website or by calling the office.

Eastern Team Progress - The Team has been training under coach Tom Vickery. Members of the Team recently took advantage of the excellent training facilities at the Lake Placid Olympic Jumping Complex. They practiced tricks off the ramp into the pool and also worked on new tricks and air awareness on the trampolines. Former National Team member KC Gandee offered his experience and assisted Vickery in coaching at this venue. Additionally, resident US Aerialist scouting coach, Joe Davis, was on hand to provide coaching on the tramps and aid in further development of awareness in the air. Eastern Team members are preparing for the National Snowboard Team tryouts to be held at Copper Mountain, Colorado in early April.

The Specialty event "Park Skills" has been re-named to "FreeRide Clinic" to better reflect the course content and material covered. This course offers an introduction to the skills required to enjoy the terrain parks and half pipe (when available) at the chosen ski area. Basic skills will be taught and basic maneuvers will be attempted and performed. This course will also cover basic teaching skills for instructing students in the park & pipe. Participants will be riding park features according to the experience and ability level of the group. If there is more than one group, groups will be divided according to experience level. Helmets are recommended.

Attention AASI members!

Big Boulder will be closed to the general public for the Level I Exam (event #500) and the Skills for Riding Park and Rails (event #501) they are hosting on Tuesday-Wednesday, January 17-18. This means that you and your group will have the slopes to yourselves for your exam or event. The benefit to this is less crowds and less time waiting for lifts and in the park, which means more time to ride! Food will be available for purchase during these events as well. The deadline for these events is Wednesday, December 28th.

Adaptive Snowboard Education and Certification 2011

By Kathy Chandler Adaptive Advisor

daptive snowboarding is in a growth period throughout the country and we in the east are working hard to be a leader in the development of the certification standards. Together with the other divisions across the country we have established some National Standards for certification, which we will be evaluating this year for competency and accuracy. This is a National initiative that we in the east are working to implement and endorse.

In an effort to give anyone interested in the development of adaptive snowboarding we have two educational events planned this year.

December 20 – 21 - Exploring Adaptive Snowboard Techniques I at Catamount

February 11 – 12 Exploring Adaptive Snowboad Techniques II at Windham Mt

These both will cover certification requirements and adaptive methodologies being used here and across the country. It is a good time for anyone interested in becoming certified this year or in the future to ride with others with similar interest. We will explore the different techniques being used to assist a visually impaired or developmentally challenged rider, tether bi-ski, use outriggers for balance and develop methods for evaluating and setting up each rider for success. Of course there will be time for developing personal riding skills and understanding the standards expected for certification. These events are for individuals in programs that have ongoing adaptive snowboard lessons as well as programs that may not have, but are interested in pursuing. As with all education and certification opportunities we are happy to work with you to design a program at your mountain that includes adaptive snowboarding. For that you can call Candace Charles at the PSIA-E Office.

We will have two opportunities for Level I certification and one for Level II this year.

January 21-22 Level I, Stand-up, Outrigger and Sit-down at Waterville Valley

January 28-29 Level I Stand-up, Outrigger and Sit-down at Jiminy Peak

January 28-29 Level II Stand-up and Outrigger at Jiminy Peak

In our effort to grow adaptive snowboarding, we are hoping to get enough candidates to hold all of these exams and increase the number of certified snowboard instructors we have in the east. If you have any question about your skills and experience and want to discuss the possibility of attending one of these exams, please don't hesitate to email me (kchandler@watervilleadaptive.org) or any other Adaptive Education staff member.

We will be working with AASI examiners to align our standards with theirs and to be sure that all riders going for certification have the same standards. So in our development of adaptive snowboarding we are aligned with both entities; the national adaptive standards and the AASI standards. Please join us in the journey. It is an exciting time in the development of adaptive snowboarding.

Developing our Team for Adaptive

By Kathy Chandler Adaptive Advisor

he Adaptive Board of Examiners (ABOE) has been busy this summer and fall, improving the programs for the adaptive sector. We are working hard to develop ongoing educational events that support our growth. The Adaptive Development Team is the first step onto the Board of Examiners and one that is imperative on our developing new leaders in this field. In the latest Ability magazine, one of the articles by Betsy Valnes discussed Change. She quoted a blogger Stacey Milbern, "Leaders of the disability rights movement seem to want to stay in one wave. But the needs of people with disabilities have changed and if we want to stay relevant, our vision and understanding of change must evolve." It just hit home for me to know that others also believe that change is always happening and how we need to keep moving with the new waves. Our leaders need to be cognizant of the changing needs of the community and we need to continue to grow the number of new leaders who are current with all those changes. We are looking for YOU.

Development Team

On February 12-13 we will be doing an Adaptive Development Team Exam Prep course to educate more people on the requirements for becoming an adaptive examiner. Anyone who is currently Level III Adaptive and Level II or II Alpine or AASI is welcome to join us. We will go though the process, with time for skiing tasks and teaching scenarios, so everyone will leave knowing what to expect at the Development Team Tryout on March 18th at Windham. This is an exciting time to join this team of leaders as we develop programs to meet the needs of our ever moving waves of change.

Written Exams

The Adaptive Board of Examiners (ABOE) have re-done all of the written exams. The Level I exam will be done during the exam process. It is a closed book exam. Each group will have time to discuss the answers together, so everyone understands the concepts and correct answers. This year we will be doing the Level II and III written exams on line. There will be an exam for each module and that exam must be taken before a candidate can pass that module. There is an annual fee of $10 to take the on line exam(s), so all of the exams could be taken in one year or just those that are needed for completion of the modules.

Adaptive Nordic

Mickey Stone, the PSIA Nordic Coordinator and Eileen Carey, the Adaptive Programs Coordinator for NENSA (New England Nordic Ski Association) have been working together to build the Nordic educational, recreational and competitive opportunities for people with disabilities. We are currently updating the Nordic Instructor Manual for publication and there will be a number of adaptive clinics for instructors. Instructors can sign up with PSIA or NENSA, so there will be some crossover of experience levels participating in the clinics. Adaptive Nordic skiers can participate in the many recreational, youth and competitive events going on this season. This partnership will broaden the opportunities for those interested in Adaptive Nordic.

Consult Days

Each year we are building the number of Mountains and Adaptive Programs that we visit to help with educating their instructors. If you have a number of people who need to do an update or people who would have an interest in becoming members of PSIA, we can come to you for a specialized event that works for your program. All participating PSIA members will receive continuing education credit. It might be an early season indoor clinic, an on snow specialized clinic of your choice, an update clinic, a Level I exam or a snowboard event. We want to work with you and help to educate your staff. If you can not get enough people to participate from your home mountain, we can open it up to mountains nearby with interested people. You can call the PSIA-E Office to schedule a time that will work for you and we will do our best to accommodate your needs.

There is a lot going on and we want you to get on the wave with adaptive. Call the PSIA-E office or an Adaptive Education Staff member for more information.

National Children's Specialist Accreditation

Open to Level I, Level II or Level III Members pursuing nationally recognized Children's Specialist designation. Candidates are required to complete the appropriate workbook prior to registering for these clinics. Your Snowsports School Director's signature is not required for these courses. Candidate must complete Children's Specialist 1 and be Level II Certified to attend Children's Specialist 2. Children's Zone Events – are not part of Children's Specialist program and may be attended by all members and non-members.

OPEN INVITATION TO THE PSIA—E Children's Academy 2011 for All Snow Sports and Children's Program Directors & Managers

s leaders in the Snow Sports Industry you already know what percentage of your business comes from students under the age of 16 years. Now you have the opportunity to address this clientele and their families who actually drive them to your resort by connecting with the specialists from the PSIA-E ACE Team (Advanced Children's Educators).

ENERGY STARS – STRIVING TO ACHIEVE REAL SUCCESS

The theme of the 2011 Children's Academy will focus on Energy...from your own energy to the energy created by movement of our students.

Physical Energy

- · The conservation of energy through effective movement
- Movement and the use of activities to develop movement
- Personal Energy this is all about you...the instructor
- Fear for the new instructor fearful of doing something wrong, the new trainer anxious to present a great clinic, fear of performance on new terrain.
- Motivation motivating yourself...keeping things fresh
- Fitness/ Health taking care of yourself, staying within your limits, & level of fitness.
- Performance Exam/ accreditation prep, teaching a new level, working with your supervisor/ trainer.
- Emotional Energy "Emotions in High Def"
- Addressing the emotional needs of your group
- Group Dynamics shift the perspective from a group lesson to a collection of individuals.
- Connection is the key starting from the 1st impression and continuing through to the summary of the lesson, emotional understanding and empathy can be the key to success.

The PSIA-E Children's Committee and the ACE Team have worked together to create the 2011 Eastern Children's Academy to be held at Mt Snow on December 5 – 7, 2011. This once a year event is a must attend for each Snow Sports school in the East. Make a point to designate one or more of your staff and one or more of your trainers to attend the premier Children's Education Event of the season...the information gained and distributed to your staff will be worth the expense

Refer to the Early Fall SnowPro for a detailed description of the available tracks for the 2011 Eastern Children's Academy.

Creativity vs. Adaptability, or Both?

By Jeffrey W "Jake" Jacobsen Children's Committee Chair ACE Team Member have been spending a lot of time working on a re-organization of Gunstock's Adaptive sports program. As I think about the use of the word Adaptive in this context it makes sense to me, equipment and/ or teaching strategies are adapted to the needs of the guest in order to achieve a desired outcome or change in performance. This is exactly what is done when teaching children as compared to teaching adults. You need to adapt your language and/ or descriptions of the tasks and activities. You need to adapt your use of humor to be age appropriate. You have to adapt your thinking in terms of the physiological needs or concerns of your guests meaning whether or not they tell you when they are cold or need to use the restroom so as to avoid uncomfortable situations. You have to adapt your expectations of the physical movements your guests perform based on their age and physical maturity. The list goes on so let me give you an example of what I am talking about.

When discussing directional movements with an adult you might reference the cuff of their boot as if it were a rectangle. You might ask your guest to work toward driving their lower leg out of the boot at the corner of the rectangle and illustrate this by drawing the rectangle on the snow with arrows pointing out of the corners. You may add to the discussion the use of the poles to help drive the feeling of this directional movement a little higher on the body to the center of mass creating earlier edge engagement.

To achieve this movement with a 6 year old you may have to move up the body to the torso. 6 year olds (typically) are still moving from the torso and make large "unibody" movements as opposed to being able to separate the upper and lower body. In addition 6 year olds (typically) lack the ability to flex their ankles directionally or even fore and aft. Therefore, to achieve this movement you might consider giving the children something to hold with two hands such as a baton (1' piece of bamboo) which they can pretend is Harry Potter's or Hermione's magic wand. In pairs, with one child in front of the other, making large turns the child is told to aim their wand right at the center of their partners back to cast an invisibility shield which will protect their friend. By doing so, the child's torso will be "aiming" downhill toward their partner. After a few runs of this activity you could add the next task of having the child with the wand duck (get small and then tall) to avoid being hit by a spell. This will create some movement which, if they are still aiming their wand at the partner (downhill), will begin creating some directional movements. Using good class handling and mixing this activity up with different teaching styles will keep the boredom level down and hopefully the fun level up!

As you can see, my description of these activities was adapted from one age group to the other in description and expectation of real vs. ideal movements to achieve a similar outcome.

Creativity is a wonderful tool to have when teaching any group of skiers or riders but the ability to "Adapt" your presentation to the group in front of you makes you an incredibly versatile educator. Make yourself aware of current trends in children's games, movies, literature, etc. to be able to reference things that are meaningful to your groups and be ready and able to adapt to provide quality lessons for all of your students.

Children's Specialist 1 – Children's Specialist 2

Who – What – When – Where – Why – How And Timing

Who:

The Children's Specialist 1 is open to all Level I and above Certified members as the beginning journey to teaching snowsports to children. Members may apply for Children's Specialist 2 upon successful completion of Children's Specialist 1 and after obtaining Level II Certification.

What:

These are new nationally recognized "Certificate Based" programs that address teaching children specifically. These courses include a written workbook and an online exam to validate the material learned in the workbook. Following is a two day on snow learning based environment that experiences children's education needs. There is an evaluative component to the on snow portion of the program. Successful completion of the course grants professional recognition to the instructor and industry for their education, experience, and expertise in teaching children snowsports.

When:

It is required that members complete their Level I Certification first, followed by Children's Specialist 1. Members could then pursue and pass their Level II Certification and then their Children's Specialist 2.

Where:

There are many courses scheduled throughout the season; weekdays, nights, and weekends, in an effort to accommodate most member's needs. The sortable event schedule on the eastern website at http://www.psia-e.org/ev/schedule/ sort.htm is a great tool to easily view where and when the Children's Specialist courses are scheduled.

Why:

Nationally children's education in snowsports accounts for 69 % of all of the snowsports school business. In part due to the demand for quality children's educators, PSIA/AASI has put in place 2 new national certificate programs called Children's Specialist 1, and Children's Specialist 2. These are not exams. They are instead certificate based programs. They are evaluative but they are different than your certification exams as the CS programs are highly educational in nature. They are national in scope as the content is the same from division to division and the process is also similar; both have a workbook that must be completed prior to attending the course and both have an on the hill portion that is spread out over two or three days. For the 2012-13 season the Children's Specialist 1 will be a requirement for Alpine Level II certification.

How:

Members must complete the associated workbook prior to arriving at the event. These workbooks will take a significant amount of time to complete, so please plan accordingly. The workbooks are available free of charge, 24/7 on the eastern website at http://www.psia-e.org/ed/kids.

Once we receive your application for a Children's Specialist event, you will receive a link to take a short online quiz. Members must score 80% to be successful. There is not a limit to the number of times you may take the quiz; however you must wait a minimum of 24 hours between attempts.

On the day of the event, you will submit your completed workbook to the course conductors for review. Your workbook will be returned at the end of the event. If you do not have a completed workbook at this time, you will not be eligible to participate in the educational event.

Timing and Alpine Certification:

- 2011-2012 Season The successful completion of Children's Specialist 1 will satisfy the Alpine Level II exam pre-requisite requirement.
- 2012-2013 Season Children's Specialist 1 will be required for Alpine Level II Certification
- 2013-2014 Season Children's Specialist 2 will be required for Alpine Level III Certification

Teach Your Children Well

By Sue Kramer PSIA-E Examiner PSIA-E ACE team coach PSIA-E Alpine team

've been doing a lot of reflecting on when I first learned how to ski. I was six. Our family took lessons all together, and to be quite honest, once I learned the basics, I was on my own. The message in this short article is just a quick reminder as to what we can give kids when they learn how to ski or ride. When you are feeling worn out because it's late in the day and you haven't had a break yet, remember what you are giving your students. For me, learning to ski was like being given wings. Think about the kind of schedule that kids have these days. There is no time to just be, to go where you want to go. There are restrictions placed on so many activities and choices. Every hour is planned. Clearly we need to relay the message of safety, but kids (and adults too) develop decision-making skills just by knowing how to turn and stop. Can you remember what it was like to first drive a car? To younger kids, knowing how to turn right and left and stop provides the same sense of independence.

Many kids also spend a lot of time indoors. Take the time to introduce them to your outside home. After all, that's what it is, right? Introduce your students to the lifties or the kitchen staff. Make your mountain their mountain. The experience of skiing or riding becomes more of a "culture" than just another activity when the students are exposed to the multitude of aspects that exists at a snowsports resort.

Bottom line: take pride in what you are giving kids. Yes, it is hard work and you may not ever know how learning how to ski or ride changed a child's life. I know one thing; it changed my life.

Welcome, Oak Mountain

ak Mountain recently joined PSIA-E / AASI as a new Member School. While Oak Mountain is not as big as some resorts, it is huge on family atmosphere and snowsports enthusiasm! Oak Mountain has been around since the 1940's and recently opened under new management.

Alpine Examiner and Eastern Team Member Brian Smith grew up near Oak Mountain and learned to ski there. His family still lives on the mountain today! Brian spent some time at Oak Mountain last season to help the new management and the snowsports school operations. Brian's experience and knowledge were extremely beneficial to the entire staff. Last season over 15 new instructors became Level I Certified, all of which are eager to begin the 2011-2012 season and share their passion for the sport and their home mountain. Currently, Oak Mountains offers skiing, snowboarding, and tubing. The area has three lifts, 14 trails, snowmaking, night skiing and a progression park.

Oak Mountain is located in the Central Adirondacks in the town of Speculator. Welcome aboard Oak Mountain!

Cross Country Ski Statistics for 2010-11 by Roger Lohr of XCSkiResorts.com

By Mickey Stone

The 2010-11 stats for cross country skiing show how advantageous winter weather was in much of North America last winter as according to the Snow Sports Participation Survey participation in the US reached 4,530,000, which was an 8.9 percent increase above the previous year and one of the best years on record. The survey has surpassed five million xc skiing participants only four times since 1984, with nearly 5.8 million in 1988 as the all-time highest number of xc skiers. The lowest number of xc skiers on record in the US according to the survey was only 1,665,000 in 2007. The survey stats are projected from 40,000 interviews and it is relevant to understand that this participation and demographic information is based on the calendar year, which is across parts of two winter seasons.

We've known about the substantial female segment of xc skiing for years (45 percent of xc skiers in 2010) and to parlay the percentages many resorts and product suppliers have created products and services for women. For example, XCSkiResorts.com has a "Women's Event Page." We never got Oprah out on xc skis while she dominated broadcast TV, and now her own cable TV channel is only seen in a few homes so we might as well wait for Katie Couric, who is preparing to become the next Oprah.

The age statistics of xc skiers show that 48 percent are older than 35, and 57 percent are between 35 and 54. Seventeen percent of xc skiers are below age 18. XC skiing continues to be one of the strongest recreational activities among those who are older. XC skiers aged 55-64 are 9 percent of the population and xc skiers above 65 represent 4 percent. But interestingly, stats among these older age categories for xc skiing have declined from previous years.

XC skiers are an accomplished/educated bunch as 63 percent of them have bachelor degrees or better. Fifty-eight percent of xc skiers earn above $75,000 household income per year. These are significant factors to incorporate into services and marketing.

The industry showed an increase in xc ski equipment sales for the winter season 2010-11 according to the SIA RetailTrak report. There were 461,721 unit sales of xc ski hardgoods, which was only a minor increase from the previous year and the dollar amount of sales ($42,672,606) increased by 8 percent (about $3 million). About 75 percent of xc ski products are sold in specialty retail stores and another 17 percent are sold on the Internet. The products that are sold in chain stores continue to decline (8%) among the distribution channels and unfortunately to maintain confidentiality of the retail outlets that participate in the report, we are not aware whether REI and EMS are chain stores or specialty shops.

Average prices for xc ski equipment at specialty stores were $166.79 for skis, $115.08 for boots, $56.13 for bindings, and $39.12 for poles. Remember that these averages include sale prices of items and leftover inventory from previous years.

The survey also queried about where people go to xc ski and it showed that more than 75 percent go to public or private groomed trails. I assume that public refers to parks and perhaps a better delineation would be commercial and noncommercial cross country ski areas because many commercial operations are run on both public and private land. The percentage of skiers that go backcountry skiing was 33 percent while the rate of skiers that use other nongroomed terrain was 16.8 percent. I am not aware how many people understand these terms but clearly many skiers enjoy all the different types of xc skiing.

Thanks to SIA Director of Research Kelly Davis for sharing the stats with us.

Telemark/Randonne Skiing in Argentina- August 2012

Join Randy French and Mickey Stone, members of the PSIA-E educational staff, on an exciting and fun filled adventure to the Southern Hemisphere in August of 2012. Enjoy spectacular days of telemark skiing while your friends are at home sweating in the summer heat. You will have the opportunity to improve your skiing with personalized instruction as well as having time to explore the varied terrain. We will fly to Buenos Aires, Argentina and then fly to San Carlos de Bariloche. We will ski groomed snow and ungroomed snow at 2 ski resorts while viewing some of the most spectacular scenery any where in the world. Also around Bariloche and Cerro Bayo are a variety of backcountry skiing that we can choose from. We are planning on a 1/3 groomed, 1/3 ungroomed and 1/3 backcountry skiing schedule should the weather cooperate. Satisfy your skiing appetite with a delicious variety of restaurants and world class chocolate. August 11 2012 to August 23 2012. More details on itinerary coming soon.

New Telemark Teaching Video on the PSIA-E Website and available as a DVD

he PSIA-E Telemark Educational Staff has created an educational video on how to teach telemark skiing. You can find the You Tube link to this video on the PSIA-E website. Beginner, intermediate and advanced teaching activities, descriptions and movement analysis are articulated for each level. Go to www.PSIA-E.org and look for Telemark Teaching Video. On the website there's information on the video's creation and how to view the material. There is also a DVD available. The cost of the DVD is $15 and can be purchased through the PSIA-E office.

PSIA-AASI Eastern Division Event Participant Safety Policy

Skiing and riding are athletic and physically demanding activities. It is the expectation of PSIA-AASI Eastern Division that each participant attending an event or exam shall possess the requisite level of fitness and stamina to participate safely, on all appropriate terrain and at a pace consistent with other members of the group. As such, PSIA-AASI Eastern Division reserves the right to have education staff reassign participants in any event that may pose a risk to themselves or others or consistently impede the progress of the group to another, more skill and fitness-appropriate event. In such a situation, an appropriate event will be recommended and the member may be transferred to that event at no charge (other than any difference in event costs) or a full refund of the originally registered event will be provided.

PSIA-AASI Eastern Division Event Participant Safety Policy

Skiing and riding are athletic and physically demanding activities. It is the expectation of PSIA-AASI Eastern Division that each participant attending an event or exam shall possess the requisite level of fitness and stamina to participate safely, on all appropriate terrain and at a pace consistent with other members of the group. As such, PSIA-AASI Eastern Division reserves the right to have education staff reassign participants in any event that may pose a risk to themselves or others or consistently impede the progress of the group to another, more skill and fitness-appropriate event. In such a situation, an appropriate event will be recommended and the member may be transferred to that event at no charge (other than any difference in event costs) or a full refund of the originally registered event will be provided.

PSIA-AASI Eastern Division Event Participant Safety Policy

Skiing and riding are athletic and physically demanding activities. It is the expectation of PSIA-AASI Eastern Division that each participant attending an event or exam shall possess the requisite level of fitness and stamina to participate safely, on all appropriate terrain and at a pace consistent with other members of the group. As such, PSIA-AASI Eastern Division reserves the right to have education staff reassign participants in any event that may pose a risk to themselves or others or consistently impede the progress of the group to another, more skill and fitness-appropriate event. In such a situation, an appropriate event will be recommended and the member may be transferred to that event at no charge (other than any difference in event costs) or a full refund of the originally registered event will be provided.

		l event will be provided.

PSIA-AASI Eastern Division Event Participant Safety Policy

Skiing and riding are athletic and physically demanding activities. It is the expectation of PSIA-AASI Eastern Division that each participant attending an event or exam shall possess the requisite level of fitness and stamina to participate safely, on all appropriate terrain and at a pace consistent with other members of the group. As such, PSIA-AASI Eastern Division reserves the right to have education staff reassign participants in any event that may pose a risk to themselves or others or consistently impede the progress of the group to another, more skill and fitness-appropriate event. In such a situation, an appropriate event will be recommended and the member may be transferred to that event at no charge (other than any difference in event costs) or a full refund of the originally registered event will be provided.

LEVEL I EXAMS - DIRECTORS SIGNATURE REQUIRED TO PROCESS (Open to Registered members) 2 days - $134

A new member application and current dues payment must be submitted prior to, or at the same time as Level I Exam Application. Snowsports Director Signature is required on both applications.

NEW PSIA-E / AASI Event Participation and Member Safety Policy approved

At the October Board of Directors meeting a proposal to adopt a new Event Participation and Member Safety Policy was approved.

Snowsports is a highly athletic and physically demanding activity. It is the expectation of PSIA-E / AASI that each member attending an event or exam shall possess the requisite level of fitness and stamina to participate safely, on all appropriate terrain and at an appropriate pace consistent with other members of the group.

As such, PSIA-E / AASI reserves the right to have education staff reassign members in any PSIA-E event that may pose a risk to themselves or others or consistently impede the progress of the group to another, more skill and fitness-appropriate event. In such a situation an appropriate course/event will be recommended and the member can be transferred to that course/event at no charge (other than the difference in event costs if that is the case); or a full refund of the originally registered course/event will be provided.

PSIA-AASI Eastern Division Event Participant Safety Policy

Skiing and riding are athletic and physically demanding activities. It is the expectation of PSIA-AASI Eastern Division that each participant attending an event or exam shall possess the requisite level of fitness and stamina to participate safely, on all appropriate terrain and at a pace consistent with other members of the group. As such, PSIA-AASI Eastern Division reserves the right to have education staff reassign participants in any event that may pose a risk to themselves or others or consistently impede the progress of the group to another, more skill and fitness-appropriate event. In such a situation, an appropriate event will be recommended and the member may be transferred to that event at no charge (other than any difference in event costs) or a full refund of the originally registered event will be provided.

Skiing and riding are athletic and physically demanding activities. It is the expectation of PSIA-AASI Eastern Division that each participant attending an event or exam shall possess the requisite level of fitness and stamina to participate safely, on all appropriate terrain and at a pace consistent with other members of the group. As such, PSIA-AASI Eastern Division reserves the right to have education staff reassign participants in any event that may pose a risk to themselves or others or consistently impede the progress of the group to another, more skill and fitness-appropriate event. In such a situation, an appropriate event will be recommended and the member may be transferred to that event at no charge (other than any difference in event costs) or a full refund of the originally registered event will be provided.

PSIA-AASI Eastern Division Event Participant Safety Policy

Skiing and riding are athletic and physically demanding activities. It is the expectation of PSIA-AASI Eastern Division that each participant attending an event or exam shall possess the requisite level of fitness and stamina to participate safely, on all appropriate terrain and at a pace consistent with other members of the group. As such, PSIA-AASI Eastern Division reserves the right to have education staff reassign participants in any event that may pose a risk to themselves or others or consistently impede the progress of the group to another, more skill and fitness-appropriate event. In such a situation, an appropriate event will be recommended and the member may be transferred to that event at no charge (other than any difference in event costs) or a full refund of the originally registered event will be provided.

PSIA-AASI Eastern Division Event Participant Safety Policy

Skiing and riding are athletic and physically demanding activities. It is the expectation of PSIA-AASI Eastern Division that each participant attending an event or exam shall possess the requisite level of fitness and stamina to participate safely, on all appropriate terrain and at a pace consistent with other members of the group. As such, PSIA-AASI Eastern Division reserves the right to have education staff reassign participants in any event that may pose a risk to themselves or others or consistently impede the progress of the group to another, more skill and fitness-appropriate event. In such a situation, an appropriate event will be recommended and the member may be transferred to that event at no charge (other than any difference in event costs) or a full refund of the originally registered event will be provided.

Skiing Out of a Black Hole

By Joe Moore, Alpine Level 3

t was in early winter of 2005 that I started focusing on taking the Level III Exam. After a full season of preparation, I signed up to take it in March of 2006 and drove up to Hunter, New York. Once I arrived, I realized I had a half day to ski, and so I got a lift ticket, warmed up, skied some steep grooms with no problem and then decided to ski some bumps. This was when I could feel the wheels starting to come off the cart-I lost a ski, put it back on, and tried to regain my composure but I was starting to feel like the Tin Man from the Wizard of Oz, with paralysis setting in and confidence going out the window. The Black Hole was born. By the end of the day I was not feeling good at all and was starting to second guess my right to be there. Time was against me and I could feel myself working up into a frenzy. Although I got something to eat and tried to get some sleep, there would be no sleep for me that night. By the next morning there was nothing left for me to do but go home. Talk about a long drive--a five and a half hour drive felt more like twenty hours. This was where my nemesis of second guessing myself started to take hold.

Next year, 2006, I did an early prep-- a Pro-Jam -- and took the exam at Sugarbush in January of 2007. I arrived there early enough so that I had a free day of skiing. The combination, however, of not having skied much that season along with again not having a good free day of skiing left me once again rethinking the whole process. This time I had a partner with me, though, so I couldn't bail. So I stayed, but clearly the damage was already done mentally, resulting in my thinking that my skiing wasn't up to standard. Needless to say, I didn't pass the exam, and in fact, failed three out of three. Now I was really starting to feel the depth of the Black Hole. I have to mention that having been a Baltimore City Police detective for almost 30 years, about half of which were spent working in the Mayor's and then the Governor's security details, I was no stranger to dealing with stress and having to perform under pressure. But this was uncharted territory, and nothing in my prior experience had prepared me for the obstacles that were confronting me.

Trying to push this thing through because I felt an urgency being in my early fifties, I took more preps, and—surprisingly--received good feedback. I signed up for Hunter at the end of March, 2007, but as I neared the end of the season, my lack of self-esteem reared its ugly head again and so even though I had registered and paid, I didn't even go. Now I was starting to realize that there was a huge inconsistency between the good feedback I was getting during preps and how I was feeling about taking the exam.

Another ski season, 2007/08. I started the year taking an early prep at Pro-Jam, received good feedback, and decided to take the exam at Stowe in mid-January. I arrived there early so as to ski the day before the exam, but didn't feel good about my skiing, and so the next day started the exam, felt things falling apart again, and bailed halfway through. It made for an extremely long trip back home.

In late 2008 I took another prep, signed up to take the exam again in Hunter the following March, drove up, skied the first day, fell a couple times in the bumps and left the next morning without taking the exam. I finally started to understand what the Black Hole was made of, though, and shifted my attention to dealing with the real problem--performance anxiety. By now I was getting very positive feedback in my preps, so what could the problem be but one of my own making? So here was my dilemma—there was an array of clinics to work on my physical skills and technique, but not much in the way of dealing with the equally challenging terrain of my mind.

I began ski season 2008/09 with a prep at ProJam and another at Cannon Mountain in New Hampshire. But what I started to do differently here is that I shared with the examiner my struggles with anxiety and found that he understood and tried to help me work through it. Now each time I had a prep, he was there and I was able to develop a rapport, feeling that he understood my issues. I signed up to take the exam at Stowe in January of 2009, but decided I still wasn't mentally ready to take the exam, and cancelled. I took another prep with the same examiner. Now I was trying to make a mental shift-I was no longer thinking of exams as exams but simply as preps, and I was working through anxiety issues. I signed up to take the exam at Killington in the end of March, 2009. The day before I took the exam I didn't feel good but nevertheless felt it was important for me to take it and see it though to completion, fighting back feelings of wanting to bolt. At the end, I didn't pass the overall exam, but was able to pass one out of three-which made me feel for the first time that I was not out of my league and actually had been extremely successful despite not passing. I was able to stay in control, remain focused, and complete the exam.

December, 2009--back to ProJam taking the Level 3 Prep. Once again, I decided to stay with the same examiner, because I could see I was making progress. I signed up to take the exam at Sugarbush in January, 2010, but this time employed a different tactic-I arrived there the day before and purposefully did not ski. This was early in the season and I hadn't had a chance to ski much. Even though I didn't pass overall, I did manage to pass once again one out of three. So I decided to take a one day clinic with a small group of instructors from my ski school with Jeb Boyd from the National Team. The feedback to me was that my skiing was definitely there, so he spent the whole time trying to help me work through the mental piece. After the clinic I signed up to take Parts One and Two at Hunter in March, at which time I finally passed skiing three for three as well as the teaching part.

So, how did I get out of the Black Hole? This is what I found to be helpful:

Using the same examiner with whom I had built a rapport (for me, Bart Hayes) and who knew my history enabled me to build on my existing success.

Not skiing just prior to taking the exam and instead getting myself in a positive frame of mind was essential. I had to realize that if I didn't have the skills by then, practicing for a few hours just before the exam wasn't going to help. One of the skills I worked on with Bart was relaxing myself through breathing, turning off my mind, and just skiing.

I started each task slightly more slowly than I would normally ski it, knowing that as adrenalin kicked in, I would naturally pick up the tempo (a tip from my ski school director, Steve Martin.)

And the final trick to soothe the savage beast of my runaway mind—plugging into my lpod and listening to calming music soft enough so that I could hear instructions but loud enough to be still be present helped to prevent my mind from racing off.

2012 Board Elections for PSIA-E Regions 1 and 2

Overview for Members and Candidates

t is time for interested members in Region 1 (NH & ME) and Region 2 (VT) to declare their candidacy for the Board of Directors for the next term of office. Per the Bylaws and our staggered regional election process, Regions 1 and 2 are up for election in 2012. Following is an overview of this process. We encourage you to review this and get involved!

- Members interested in running for a Board seat must fill out and submit the candidacy form on the next page. It must be postmarked and sent via U.S. Mail to the Albany office no later than December 16, 2011. No one is permitted to run for more than one position; to do so will invalidate the form. Late candidacy forms will not be accepted.
- 2. Candidates are not allowed to send mailings (via post or e-mail) to voters in their Region. To do so will disqualify the candidate(s) involved. The winter issue of the SnowPro (out mid-January) will include comprehensive candidate profiles and will serve as the official communication of candidate messages to voters in each electing region. In addition, there will be a dedicated web page for the election including candidate profiles and the ability for members to cast a secure vote online.
- 3. The positions open include two Board seats for each of the two regions of PSIA-E up for election in 2012 (Regions 1 and 2).
- 4. Elections for regional Board representatives are for three (3) year terms (beginning April 1, 2012 and concluding March 31, 2015).
- A position for which there is no candidate will be filled by Board appointment after the election.
- All submitted candidacy forms will be acknowledged by e-mail. Any concerns about confirmation must be resolved before the deadline.
- Qualifications for the Board seats: Must be a certified Level 1, 2 or 3 member in your fourth year of continuous membership. Complete qualifications in section 12.3 of association bylaws (available at www.psia-e.org). Must also meet the requirements of item #9 below.
- 8. All members in good standing as of December 31 of each year may vote in the subsequent regional election. The Eastern Division of PSIA & AASI is divided into seven geographic regions (see "Around the Regions" section of the SnowPro). As a member, you may choose to be affiliated with one region - the one in which you work as a snowsports instructor or the one in which you live. This affiliation is for regional mailing and voting purposes. You should affiliate your membership with the region in which you are most active as a snowsports instructor. If you have not previously chosen a regional affiliation (when you joined), the region in which you live would have been assigned as your designated regional affiliation by PSIA-E Bylaws, Section 10.8. In order to change your regional affiliation (to where you work as an instructor) you must notify the division office in writing.

- To hold office in any region, a member must run for election in the region of his/her snowsports work affiliation (Association Bylaws, Article X, Section 10.3.c). You may be declared a member of only one region.
- 10. Upon receipt of all valid candidacy forms and support materials, the division office will compile candidate profiles from all candidates in each electing region. These profiles will appear in the winter issue of the SnowPro (to be sent to members in mid-January, 2012) along with the official web page dedicated to the 2012 election.
- 11. Voting for the 2012 election will take place online via electronic voting on a secure, dedicated web page. In 2011 (the first time this service was offered) the number of votes cast tripled from previous elections to nearly 700 votes. Paper ballots will only be provided to members without online access upon request. Online voting will begin in mid-January and end on March 12, 2012.
- 12. Official results will be announced at the Spring Rally Annual Membership Meeting on the weekend of March 23-24, 2012, and subsequently via the SnowPro and PSIA-E web site. The terms of the new Board members will begin on April 1, 2012, providing the opportunity for newly elected representatives to communicate with constituents prior to the June 2012 Board meeting.

Position Specifications:

Regional Director (Board) – This will be the person receiving the most votes among all persons running for Board seats within a region. A Regional Director will be responsible for, and will have final authority for, the administration of all regional affairs.

Regional Representative (Board) – This will be the person receiving the second most votes, subject to item (a) below, among all persons in a region running for Board seats. A Regional Representative will be responsible for assisting the Regional Director in regional matters as outlined by the Regional Director. Both the Regional Director and Regional Representative will sit on the Board of Directors and will exercise independent and equal voting rights.

(a) At least one Board member from each region must be a person who is not an examiner or employee of the organization; provided that at least one such individual is on the ballot.

Being an elected or appointed official requires some commitment. We urge members who have the interest, time and capability to submit candidacy forms. Board members should plan on two Board meetings a year (mid-October and mid-June), one or more regional meetings, and involvement in at least one ongoing project. Board Officers serving on the Executive Committee must commit to more time and participation than others.

This is your organization; your participation and your vote CAN make a difference. Get involved!
