Eastern Area Reps Mobilize to Spread the PSIA-AASI Message

National & Eastern marketing collaboration and area reps combine to get promotional posters on display at Eastern ski and ride shops

he "Make Winter More Fun!" message combined with high quality National PSIA-AASI produced photography and graphics are on display as 18" by 22" promotional posters at dozens of ski and ride shops, resorts, community centers and other public locations throughout the Eastern Division thanks to the efforts of our Eastern Division Area Rep network.

Step One: In cooperation with the National office of PSIA-AASI, the Eastern Division produced 750 large posters for retail establishments that promote the value of taking lessons with a PSIA-AASI instructor. We combined our Eastern slogan "Make winter more fun!" and the consumer-oriented website at www.MakeWinterMoreFun.com with National PSIA-AASI produced photography and graphics to create a dynamic, colorful and fun visual promotional tool. We also added a QR code that takes people right to the website when scanned by a smartphone or tablet!

Step Two: We created the "Post & Boast" Contest to mobilize the area rep network and get the new promotional tools out of the office and into stores and outlets that have a high visibility to the skiing and riding public.

So far, area reps all over the division have made nearly 40 placements of the posters. Every Area Rep that sends in a photo (or photos) of the new posters on display are entered into a drawing for one of three prizes:

- $200 certificate toward an Eastern event registration
- $100 certificate toward an Eastern event registration
- $50 certificate toward the Eastern Pro Shop

You can follow the progress via our Eastern Facebook page (where all the submitted photos are posted) at www.facebook.com/PSIA.E.AASI. A complete list of participating area reps (along with the contest winners) will be posted in the winter issue of the SnowPro!

Area Rep Program to Recognize Long-Serving Volunteers

By Joan Heaton, Area Rep Coordinator & Region 6 Director

he Eastern Division Area Rep Program is recognizing its long-time serving members this season with certificate and binder presentations at the Snowsports School Management Seminar and Snow ProJam events. All Area Reps with 10 or more years of service in the program will be recognized.

From a pilot program in 1997 with just a few reps in Region 4, our Eastern Division Area Rep Program has grown to now include 135 Area Reps in snowsports schools throughout all seven geographic regions of the Eastern Division and from Maine to North Carolina.

As an important squad of volunteers, the Area Reps have done an outstanding job since the "official" inception of the program during the 1998-1999 season. Our Area Reps serve our members as dedicated liaisons to our snowsports schools and sounding boards for providing valuable input and ideas to our Eastern Board of Directors. The "Reps" have taken on important research projects such as surveys of Eastern school directors and promotional initiatives such as the "Make Winter More Fun" teardrop flags, banners and posters.

president's message

ROSS BOISVERT, EASTERN DIVISION PRESIDENT

ere we go. The season is upon us. I hope everyone is gearing up for a fantastic 2017-18 season. By now everyone should have their new equipment dialed in and ready to rip. The winter forecast looks positive and hopefully Mother Nature plays nice this season. This is a very exciting time in the ski industry. Our CEO Nick Herrin has been on the job for nearly 18 months and is doing an amazing job. The communication by Nick with our divisions and the correspondence with our executive director Michael Mendrick has been excellent. We also have a new forthcoming President/CEO of NSAA (National Ski Areas Association) Kelly Pawlak from Mt. Snow, and a new Executive Director of NSP (National Ski Patrol) Meegan Moszynski. Killington is hosting the World Cup and it is an Olympic year as well. This is an incredible time to be in the industry and part of this organization. With all of this going on and in the spotlight, we should have many new people exposed to snowsports. We need to capture the excitement of these events and get everyone sliding on the snow.

The Eastern Division office team has been working hard on an extensive event schedule. This season is packed with events all over the Eastern Division including some exciting new options. As always, thank you to Melissa Skinner and Don Haringa and the entire Eastern office team. The Snowsports School Management Seminar will be held at Mount Snow, Dec 4-6. There is great list of sessions and our very own Jeb Boyd is our Keynote speaker. Plus we'll be honoring Windham Mountain's Franz Krickl and Camelback Mountain Resort's Tony Keller with prestigious and well-deserved awards. Check out the event calendar in this issue of the SnowPro and sign up for an event!

The Board of Directors met just outside Albany in Troy, NY, Saturday, October 14 and Sunday, October 15. We ratified Chis Ericson as the new Alpine Education and Certification Chair. Chris has taken over the position from his predecessor Peter Howard. Peter Howard served as the Alpine Ed and Cert chair for more than 15 years. In June he was elected by his peers on the Board to by the new Vice President of Eastern Division. Thank you Peter for your years of leadership and dedication to the Alpine Ed & Cert committee. We also ratified Luke Martin as race committee chair, thank you Luke for stepping up again and leading the race program.

The purpose of the October board meeting is to allow us to review the audited yearly budget, as well as review and discuss the progress of our season prep, projects and Regional, Staff, Committee & Coordinator reports. We also review and vote on action plans and proposals. In our Education Foundation segment of the meeting we voted to approve the creation of the Rick Metcalf "Aspiring Ed Staff" scholarship fund. See the article in the EF News section of this SnowPro for more details on how members are bonding together to pay tribute to this great coach, ed staff member and friend that we sadly lost to a heart attack last spring.

The BOD also ratified the creation of a new standing committee - the Governance Committee. This important group will review our bylaws, mission and vision statements, policies, conflict of interest, and code of ethics. This committee will also make recommendations to the BOD on candidates for open board seats. They will also be looking at our current BOD structure to make sure we are serving our membership most effectively. The first chairperson of this committee is Eric Jordan – our Immediate Past President. A few years ago, Eric worked on the National Governance Task Force and will be able to provide our division with direction and leadership for this committee. The other committee members are: Peter Howard (VP) Ted Fleischer Region 2, Peter Holland Region 1 and Charlie Knopp region 6.

I would like to thank our membership for the opportunity to serve as your President. It is truly an honor to serve our membership and work with people that share the same passion I have for teaching and enjoying snowsports. We continue to have challenges ahead of us with recruiting new members, member retention and engagement in our events. National has a new campaign for both our guests and recruiting new members. If we ever had chance to reenergize the ski industry with excitement and getting new people into the sports, its now. SHARE THE PASSION with someone new. Think snow and get out and glide.

Thank you, Ross Boisvert ((

Snowsports School Directors, Managers and Trainers — Don't Miss Out!

By Doug Daniels, Snowsports School Management Committee Chair

he 2017 Snowsports School Management Seminar is truly a team effort of your regional snowsports representatives, the PSIA/AASI- Eastern Office staff and some guidance from the national office too. As we developed this seminar, we have become more and more excited about what we can offer you and your staff. A little something for everyone involved in managing snowsports all offered in one place.

NSAA and Resort Management information sessions for Directors and Snowsports School Managers, Children's Program sessions, the return of the Eastern Trainer's Academy and the Level 200 version for continued education, Snowboard, Telemark and Adaptive tracks and as always, I encourage you to create a custom track for each member of your team to get the most value out of this event for YOUR resort. This is a great opportunity for you to travel with your supervisors, trainers and other support staff to participate in our indoor presentations, our outdoor training sessions, or a combination of both.

Running concurrently with the Seminar will be the Eastern Children's Academy, this will allow you to bring Children's managers, and encourage your Children's staff to attend and be included in several of the sessions offered. Leadership at any level is the overall theme in all three events and we hope to offer a true seminar for the leaders in your school, experienced, or just coming into their own.

Within that leadership theme, we also hope to add some building blocks to last year's feature indoor and on-snow sessions that were related to making connections with your resort management in terms of fostering the partnership with NSAA and other industry wide initiatives. In addition, you will have the opportunity to learn about the summer projects from the Eastern office and committees that have resulted in multiple grass roots promotional benefits for your school and your staff.

On behalf of the Snowsports Management Committee, we invite you to join us on December 4-6 at Mount Snow, VT and hope to see you and your team at the seminar.

Franz Krickl and Tony Keller to be Honored at SSM Banquet

ongratulations to Franz Krickl of Windham Mountain, NY and Tony Keller of Camelback Mountain Resort, PA!

The Eastern Division Board of Directors has ratified the recommendations of the Snowsports School Management Committee and is awarding the 2017 Einar Aas Award for Excellence in Snowsports School Management to Franz Krickl of Windham Mountain, NY and the Ron Kubicki Staff Appreciation Award to Tony Keller of Camelback Mountain Resort, PA. The SSM Committee recognized Franz as a multi-year nominee and finalist for the Einar Aas Award and Tony Keller received an impressive 22 individual nominations for the "Ronnie" from his staff instructors at Camelback. Both will be honored at the Snowsports School Management Seminar Banquet on Tuesday evening, December 5 at the Grand Summit Hotel, Mount Snow, VT. More details and photos will be shared in the winter issue of the SnowPro. ((

Exams and Education Credits

By Don Haringa

Director of Education and Programs

am happy to announce that beginning in the 2017-2018 season, in a departure from our previous policy, members will receive Continuing Education Credits for unsuccessful exam attempts. This change is in effect for all disciplines.

Here is how it works: When a member takes an exam, regardless of the outcome, they will receive educational credits for all portions of the exam attempted. If after the first unsuccessful attempt a member takes the exam or any part of an exam (a reassessment) again and is unsuccessful for a second time, they must take a 2-day on-snow educational course before they may take the exam again.

The number of credits given varies slightly from discipline to discipline. For Snowboard, Adaptive, and Nordic, each exam day is worth six credits. For Alpine, each skiing performance area, and each teaching module is worth four credits. Members must receive 12 credits every 2 years to remain current. **《

Online Event Registration Ready and Available!

There you will find a "Register Online" button on the home page that goes directly to the sortable event schedule page.

You can filter events based on event name, location, discipline, level, and more! Once you choose an event, click where it says: Click here to register online!

In the process, you will need to log in at the national site. There are directions on that page, if you need assistance with logging in. (Don't forget: your username is your e-mail address!)

From there, the website walks you through the steps of registration, and when you are done, you will get 2 confirmation e-mails automatically from the system. You will later get an e-mail from the Eastern Division office with your registration details and more specific information.

Please note: Online registration is available for members only. Some sessions (exams, riding retakes, etc.) need to be processed through the office, and will not available for online registration.

We encourage you to take advantage of our convenient event registration service! $\mbox{\em (}$

Congratulations to 20, 30, 40 and 50 Year Members

he following PSIA-E/AASI members are completing 20 or more consecutive years of membership in PSIA-AASI during the 2017-18 season. We congratulate these individuals on this outstanding accomplishment and thank them for their dedication to snowsports education. All qualifying members receive a commemorative pin and a letter of recognition directly from the national PSIA-AASI office.

Dev Team Tryout

By Kathy Brennan, PSIA-E Dev Team Coach, Examiner, Eastern Tech Team Member

Check all that apply:

about skiing?

- Is ski instructing your career, passion, or simply your favorite thing to do?
 Do you love to teach people how to ski well, as much as you love skiing?
 Are you constantly in pursuit of that perfect carved turn, awe inspiring ski performance, or that elusive 'touch' on the snow?
 Do you want to travel around our region, learning from some of our best, sharing information, and inspiring our members?
 Are you open to challenging habitual movement patterns and thoughts
- Does your schedule allow you the flexibility to travel for training or work?

Did you check one or more of the boxes above? Do you have your Level 3 certification? If yes, then pursuing a spot on our PSIA-E Alpine Development Team is the next step for you.

On February 8^{th} and 9^{th} , 2018, at Cannon Mountain in New Hampshire, many of our best and brightest ski instructors will be gathering to compete for a spot on our division's Alpine Development Team. Candidates who are selected will earn a four-year spot on the team.

Dev Team Members are:

- Required to attend a two-day training event each season;
- Required to understudy 20 days of PSIA-E events over the course of their tenure on the team;
- Invited to participate in other PSIA-E events at no cost;

- Encouraged to participate in other team and staff training activities each season;
- Asked to conduct Level 1 exams, workshop clinics, or development series events in their region, once they have successfully completed the appropriate training/understudy activities.
- Encouraged to avail themselves of reading material, videos, training in other disciplines, boot fitting, racing coaching, freestyle and more anything that will help to improve knowledge and performance in our craft.

While there is no National Standard for performance above Level III, it is the expectation from our division, members, and frankly ourselves, that as a member of the PSIA-E Development Team we exceed the Level 3 National Standard in our ski performance, teaching skills, and technical knowledge. Furthermore, we are actively working to grow and improve in these areas at all times. Team members must epitomize the athleticism, commitment, openness, selflessness, and passion that is required to make changes and is also inspirational and motivational for our teammates, BOE members, PSIA members, our home schools, and guests.

February will be here before you know it. Begin training now. Check the PSIA calendar for Development Team Prep events in your area or join our session in the Wednesday afternoon optional programs at Pro Jam. Talk to your Snowsports Director and Trainers and find out what you should do to prepare for the tryout.

Getting Prepared and Being Successful

By Chris Ericson, Alpine Education & Certification Chairperson

all is an exciting time of year for all of us as the temperatures start dropping and the seasonal Snowsports School meetings commence with the extended families we have not seen since March. In addition to the many changes that may have happened at our resorts over the summer, there have been a few changes in our organization's leadership in the East. First and foremost, we must give a big thank you to Peter Howard. As our previous Chairperson for the Education and Certification Committee, the work that he accomplished to help shape our organization cannot go unnoticed.

Pete's approach was always to develop success through collaboration and look for the potential challenges before they became a reality - a proactive approach for sure. With the evolution of the certification process over the past few years, Pete looked to meet the needs of the membership and maintain the National Standards. At the same time, the challenge of continuing the focus on our mission as an educational organization and providing opportunities for professional growth was always his priority. This season, as your new Chairperson, I am happy to follow in some of those same footsteps and help develop educational programs that will meet the needs of the membership.

As you look at the calendar of scheduled programs, I encourage you to explore events that may help with your own personal growth. Look towards those events that may develop areas where you may be weak or need some added attention, or a new area of expertise you're looking to explore. For those looking to elevate in their certification level, remember to start your preparation early in your commitment. Although I firmly believe that the certification process makes better instructors, it is the preparation for the certification that makes great instructors. There is no doubt that going to an exam can be "educational" and possibly "enlightening," but at some point, if you're seeing and hearing things for the first time at an exam, then your course of preparation was most likely flawed.

Getting prepared and being successful is one of those things that we can apply to almost anything we do. However, the recipe for success is different for all of us because how we prepare and what we need to do as individuals has many variations. This year when you take one of our educational events, make sure you get everything you need out of the clinic. Ask questions (on the chairlift), ski/ride a lot and search for sensations that may be new to you, confirm those sensations with the Educational Staff and take some notes at the end of the day.

I look forward to seeing you all on the slopes this year. Please feel free to reach out to me if I can be of assistance to you at cericson3@optonline.net. (

You asked for it!

By Don Haringa, PSIA-E Director of Education and Programs, PSIA-E Examiner

n Saturday, April 29th, members of the Ed Staff; some selected Board members; many of the Member Services and the Education and Programs staff; our Eastern Executive Director, Michael Mendrick; and our National CEO, Nick Herrin; met with a group of our members who represented many of our division's various demographics. The goal was to brainstorm and to come up with ideas and plans for the future that will excite you, challenge you, fulfill your needs, and keep you engaged with PSIA-AASI. This Focus Group gave us plenty of ideas, and we are working diligently to turn those ideas into actions. Here are some of the ideas that we are implementing this season and some that are in the development stage.

Order your Custom Event - You do not need to attend an event that is on our schedule to get your education credits. Instead, you can order your own custom event. All you need is the topic or topics that you would like to focus on, the permission of your Snowsports School Director, and a group of like-minded skiers to share the cost with you. For example, you want to take a mogul clinic, but you want to take it with a group of your fellow instructors, and maybe even a few friends who are not PSIA members. We can do that! You can have up to 8 participants in the group, including yourself. The cost is the same whether you have 8 participants, or if you want to go solo. For more details, please contact Candace Charles in the Eastern Division office (ccharles@psia-e.org).

National Team Week - Level III members have long been able to ski with the PSIA-AASI National Team by attending the Masters Academy. For the rest of our members, the opportunity to ski with a National Team member has been by attending the National Academy, or by chance, getting one of the Eastern Division members of the National Team as your clinician at an Eastern event. Well, our Focus Group asked for a chance to ski with the PSIA-AASI National Team, and we said yes!

In February, we have several members of the Alpine National team coming east to hold six one-day clinics. February 10-11, Ryan Christofferson, Jennifer Simpson, and Dustin Dyar will be conducting clinics at Whitetail Resort, in Mercersburg, PA. The team heads to Roundtop Mountain Resort in Lewisburg, PA for clinics on Feb 12. From there they will then move north to Mount Snow, VT for clinics on February 14-16.

On the snowboard side we are optimistic that Amy Gan will be available for clinics during the same time frame as the Alpine crew. She will be firming up her schedule in the near future. Watch your e-mails for more information!

These one-day clinics are open to all levels. This is a rare opportunity for members other than Level 3 instructors to ski or ride with National team members, and it only costs $125.00/day! Sign up early, as we expect these clinics to sell out quickly. To give as many members as possible a chance to ski with the team, we are limiting the opportunity to one day per participant.

The Focus Group asked us to streamline the certification path information that is available on-line. As such, members of the Alpine Tech Team are in the process of rewriting the Eastern Alpine Exam Guide. This project is nearing completion, and the new exam guide should be on-line by the time you read this!

Expand the e-learning options and collaborate with other divisions and National - This is a project that is on the front burner! Soon you will be able to go to the snowpros.org and choose from a variety of e-learning courses, including some from other divisions. This is a work in progress, so watch your e-mails for more information as this project takes shape.

The Focus Group asked us to recommend future events to members, based on a recent event attendance — Have you noticed that when you order from Amazon you get a recommendation that goes something like, Shoppers who bought X also liked Z? We are working on doing the same thing for the events that you attend. After you attend an event, don't be surprised if you get an e-mail with a recommendation for another event that may interest you.

The Focus Group also asked us to consider flexibility in choosing pre- requisites for Alpine Level II and Level III exams. The Alpine Steering Committee and The Alpine Education and Certification Committee took this request seriously. The result is some major changes to the Alpine Level II and Level III exams. Please look for the article titled Alpine Level II and Level III Changes, in this issue.

Offer semi-spontaneous events - Have you ever watched a forecast for a big snowstorm and thought, "How much fun would it be to take a powder clinic right after this storm?" or, "Wow, it's going to be sunny and 40 degrees next Tuesday and Wednesday; I wish PSIA had a bump clinic on those days!" Well, watch your e-mails. We are working on making this a reality. We will be watching the weather, and if the conditions are right, we may be offering some short notice events. Several resorts have expressed interest in hosting these events, so if the weather is right, and the Ed Staff is available, you will be getting an e-mail!

The Focus Group had many other great ideas for us, and we will continue to implement as many as we can over the coming seasons. **《

Alpine Level II and III Exam Changes

By Don Haringa, PSIA-E Director of Education and Programs, PSIA-E Examiner

tion Committee held meetings in the spring, and approved some changes to the Alpine Level II and Level III exam process. These changes have been under discussion for over a year. Several of the changes were made because of the increase in the passing percentage for the Children and Youth Module since CS-1 and CS-2 became required prerequisites. In addition to the committees, there was valuable input from Snowsports School Directors, and from the participants in the Spring Focus Group.

The following changes were brought to the PSIA-AASI Eastern Division Board of Directors at their June 2017 meeting as proposals and all were approved.

The following changes affect both the Alpine Level II and the Alpine Level III exams:

- The on-line written exam will be the first part of the exam, and it must be passed before a candidate can take the skiing or the teaching exam.
 This will officially go into effect on January 1, 2018.
- Beginning this season a member may take the teaching exam before the skiing exam, if they prefer to. This is a one-year trial run.
- Regardless of the order in which members choose to take the exam, before a member can take any part of the teaching exam, they must take a prerequisite.

The following changes are Alpine Level II Specific:

- CS-1 is a required prerequisite. For any member who has attained CS-1, the Children and Youth (C&Y) module will be waived. The Creative Teaching module and the Movement Assessment and Teaching module will be held on the first day of the exam. This shortens the teaching exam to one day for anyone who has attained CS-1. This affects the vast majority of our members. This change will save many of our members a significant amount of money on hotel and food costs, as well as potentially reducing the number of days they will be away from their jobs.
- We do still have some members who started the Level II exam process before CS-1 became a requirement. These members were grandfathered into the old system and do not have to take CS-1 to be Level II certified. For the members who started the exam process before CS-1 was a requirement, we will still offer the C&Y module on the $2^{\rm nd}$ day of the exam for the 2017-2018 season. A letter will be sent to those members explaining the process moving forward.

 We will hold a trial One-day Level II Skiing Exam on February 7, at Cannon Mountain.

The following change is Alpine Level III Specific:

CS-2 is no longer a required prerequisite. The exam candidate will need to take a prerequisite, but they will have choices. The prerequisite is to be taken before the candidate may take the teaching exam.

The choices of prerequisites are:

- · Master Series Skiing
- Race Clinic
- Level 3 Exam Prep Skiing
- Snow Pro Jam Level 3 Exam Prep
- Gateway to Dynamic Skiing
- Advanced Bumps
- Coaching High End Skiing
- Movement Analysis 201
- Level 3 Exam Prep Teaching
- Children's Specialist 2
- Freestyle Specialist 2
- · Stance and Alignment
- Level III Skiing College
- Level III Teaching College
- Spring Academy

Please note: If the candidate chooses to take CS2 and is successful, the Children and Youth module will be waived. Like Level II, the Movement Assessment and Teaching module moves to the first day. The Children and Youth Module moves to the second day, so for those with CS-2, the Level III teaching exam will become a 1-day exam. **((

New Alpine Education and Certification Chairperson Named

Welcome Chris Ericson, and Thank You Peter Howard

By Don Haringa, Director of Education and Programs

t the June Board of Directors meeting, the longtime Chairperson for the Alpine Education and Certification Committee, Peter Howard, was elected as the PSIA-AASI Eastern Division Vice President. He will serve a 3-year term as the Vice President, after which he will become the President of the Eastern Division for the following 3 years. Given the responsibility of these new roles, Peter decided to step down as the Alpine Education and Certification Committee Chairperson.

After announcing his intention to me, Peter and I began to compile a list of people who we felt would be a good replacement for him as the committee chair. As our discussions progressed, our original list became shorter and shorter. In the final analysis, one name rose to the top. We made our recommendation to the Eastern Division President, Ross Boisvert, who then brought the recommendation to the Board of Directors for discussion and a vote to ratify. The vote was a unanimous yes, and I am proud to announce that the new Chairperson of the Alpine Education and Certification Committee is Chris Ericson.

Here is an abbreviated look at Chris's history with PSIA:

- Chris became a registered member of PSIA in 1988
- He passed the Associate Certified exam in 1994
- He became a Level III certified member in spring of 2000
- He joined the Ed Staff as a DCL in 2002
- He became a member of the Development Team in the spring of 2006
- In the spring of 2009 he passed the ETS exam
- In the summer of 2011 Chris was elevated to a Category I Examiner, and the next season he was promoted to a Category 2 Examiner, a position he still currently holds

Writing Guidelines

General member submissions should not exceed 1,000 words and should be e-mailed to psia-e@psia-e.org as a MS Word document. Please see additional guidelines on page 2 of this issue under General Information. Thank you!

- In 2015 Chris won a spot on the first and current Eastern Tech Team
- He is currently the Director of Training at Belleayre Mountain, NY
- In his role as a Tech Team member, Chris has been actively involved as a trainer at Ed Staff Training.

Chris has served for several terms as a member of the Alpine Education and Certification Committee. He has been a regular contributor at their meetings and conference calls. Chris is thoughtful, creative, and able to consider all sides of an issue or a proposal before making a decision

Chris's history as an Alpine Ed staff member, his contributions as an Ed Staff trainer and as an Eastern Alpine Tech Team member, combined with his past contributions as a member of the Ed and Cert Committee give me great confidence that Chris will be an outstanding Chairperson for the Alpine Education and Certification Committee. Congratulations Chris!

PETER HOWARD

I also want to thank Peter for his many years as the Alpine Education and Certification

Chairperson. I had to dig through some old Professional Ski Teacher newsletters (the predecessor to the SnowPro) to discover that Peter was named the Alpine Certification Chairperson in 1992. In 2002 Peter took on a larger role, as the Alpine Education Committee and the Certification Committee were combined into their present form. Thank you Peter, for 25 years of service, for your vision, your entertaining and thought provoking articles, your leadership, and for keeping the Eastern Division on the cutting edge of snowsports education! All the best to you in your new role! **((

Customized Events now Available to You and Your Group! New option available this season

By Don Haringa, Director of Education & Programs

re you interested in creating your own event with up to eight of your friends, peers, and co-workers? Then the new Member Customized In-house (MCI) Event is for you.

What it is: Two days of customized snowsports education delivered by a member of the PSIA-AASI-E Education Staff.

How it works: You or a designated member of your group submits a request form to the PSIA-AASI-E office stating the desired topics, dates, and desired clinician. After the event is approved by the office, the coordinator then selects up to 8 people to participate in the event. Participants can be members and non-members and this event will fulfill the continuing education credit needs of the members in attendance.

The Fine Print: The In-house coordinator must be on the staff of the mountain that will be the location for the clinic. PSIA-AASI-E is not responsible for providing lift tickets for this event; anyone not from the host mountain will need to arrange for a ticket through the coordinator.

For more information, please check the director's help desk section of the Eastern Division website located here: https://www.psia-e.org/ssdd/. https://www.psia-e.org/ssdd/.

Why Business Cards Matter

By Greg Fatigate, AASI Examiner

be following article was spawned through a great discussion on the AASI East Facebook group. All AASI members are welcome to join this Eastern members' only site!

You just wrapped up another stellar lesson with a guest who is stoked. Do you just say goodbye with a high five? Maybe mention that they can request you for a private lesson? Then the guest is gone. Perhaps they got your first name and perhaps they'll recognize you next time. None the less, an opportunity for further connection here has been lost.

Handing out business cards with basic contact information is a professional touch that often creates the foundation for a long-term client. The delivery of this small card full of information is key. Simply handing it out with the expectation that you'll get private lessons typically leads to the card getting crumpled up and lost. Rather, handing it out with the offer to do more for the new client is the difference. As a local to your home resort, you are more than just a great instructor. You know where the good eats are, how conditions have held up, and when equipment sales hit. Providing the guest with a welcomed ways and means to contact you will boost your perception as a professional while making you their personal snowsports ambassador.

The first thing you have to think about is creating your business card. The basic business card doesn't have to be flashy, but it helps to make it pop. Things to consideration include:

- · Good card stock
- A recognizable picture of you
- AASI and/or PSIA logo
- Contact information you don't mind clients to have such as an email address, cell phone number, and associated school affiliation
- Facebook profile, Instagram account, or any other social media outlet. Just be aware that of what you post......

After you have designed and ordered your business cards, the next thing to think about is how you will get them in the hands of your clients. It can sometimes feel like you are a used car sales person when handing out business cards, but consider this: the world of snowboarding and skiing is daunting activity for participants of a whole range of experience levels. No matter how great of a lesson you deliver, there are no shortage of reasons for the casual participant NOT to ride or ski. This is where you serving as their personal ambassador comes into play.

Try handing out your card like this:

- There are options if you choose to do another lesson. I'd be glad to tell you more now if you'd like, or just text me. Either way I look forward to doing this again with you!
- I know this area like the back of my hand! If I can help answer any questions for you during your stay including what to expect in your next lesson, where to get dinner, or where to get a pair of goggles, etc, send me a message.
- I've been in this game a long time! If you'd like a recommendation on other great areas to ride local to where you live, advice on finding gear easier, or a board recommendation, feel free to hit me up."

With that offer, chances are you'll create a long-term connection with your new client. Furthermore, at this point they certainly will look to you for a private lesson. After all why wouldn't they want to ride with you?

So where should you go to get your own set of business cards? Vista print is an easy option and they have endless variations to suit your needs. As an Eastern Member Benefit, color business cards featuring the official PSIA and AASI logos are available for order straight from the Eastern Website. You can find the order portal here: https://snowproportal.com/cards/psia-aasi-eastern-cards. Finally you can make these yourself or in-house at your school. No matter how you choose to do this, make sure it pops. A good companion to your personalized business card are the "Tip of the Day Cards" available for only shipping and handling through the National Accessories Catalog. The 4 x 6" four-color Tip of the Day cards—available in your choice of alpine skiing, nordic skiing, snowboarding, or park & pipe versions—offer a great way to personalize your lesson. Each card has helpful advice for good skiing/riding in a variety of terrain, room for you to write your own tips for individual students, and slots for your business card.

Remember that most people will end up "face-creeping" you no matter what so be mindful of what you post on-line if that is a concern to you. In the end the easy tactic of providing a business card with basic contact information is a professional touch that helps to create the foundation of a long-term connection with the guests you inspire through the season. **((

national report

Hello Eastern Division Members.

By Tom Butler, PSIA-Eastern Rep on the PSIA National Board

s your representative to the PSIA-AASI National Board of Directors I want to share with you some of what it is we do as I suspect, at least for some of you, the role of the national representative to the PSIA-AASI Board of Directors isn't fully understood. I always figured the role simply was to be the mouthpiece for each division's Board. Each division has its own board of directors, they have thoughts and ideas and need them shared to the national board. Pretty simple concept. However, what I have learned from being on the national board (only a little more than 6 months at this point) is that the vast majority of activity that we do is geared around how to better interact and build relationships with you – our members.

I heard Tony Robbins once say "the quality of my life, is equal to the quality of my communication." I couldn't agree more and feel that this is spot on for our organization as well. Hopefully you have all recognized the various ways that PSIA-AASI employs to get in touch with you. Whether it's through 32 Degrees, social media, First Chair podcasts, or even the annual catalog, the mothership in Lakewood, Colorado wants you to be informed. What you may not realize is that, behind the scenes, the amount of communication that goes on between National and the Divisions is ever present and ongoing. Our CEO, Nick Herrin has pulled a cultural 180 at PSIA-AASI headquarters and communicates regularly with his national board of directors but also almost weekly with the division's individual executive and administrative leadership. His office staff also regularly communicate with their counterparts in divisional offices so there are conversations going on every day at every level of the organization with the goal of ensuring that we are moving down the same path together.

With more than 32,000 members spread out over 5 time zones, bringing consistency to an organization with its size and complexity isn't nearly as easy as one may think which is why communication is so key. For example, Nick Herrin and Eastern Executive Director Michael Mendrick actually talk once or more a week on average – that's more than I do with my mother (sorry Mom) and I'm sure other divisional ED's probably would say the same thing (about Nick, not my mother...). In the not so distant past (Pre-Nick, that is) the communication flow, consistency and openness from the national office to the divisions was far less than now. I spent 11 years on the Eastern Division Board of Directors for Region 1 and was never entirely certain of what was going on at the Colorado HO office other what I heard from our national rep or from articles in 32 Degrees. When there is a lack of communication, uncertainty exists and when people are uncertain, and uninformed, forward movement can be difficult to sustain. I am happy to report that is no longer the case and there is a real embracing of the "Three C Philosophy" of "Communication, Collaboration & Consolidation" that was approved 10 years ago but just now becoming a nationwide reality.

If you have been following the Eastern Facebook page (and by all mean, you should) you have seen dozens of examples of National and Eastern collaboration taking place via the sharp new "Make Winter More Fun" promotional posters being put up on display at stores and resort lodges all over the division. Another example of "consolidation" for the benefit of the members is that Alaska has overwhelmingly voted to merge with the Northwest division. As such, the organization is moving a little bit more efficiently and in unison. As we gain momentum and progress down the path, we need to ask how can we continue gaining on our goals?

We all identify with PSIA-AASI because of the positive relationships that we have forged in events, exams and in the locker rooms across the country. We are an organization of incurable learners and we seek those who are similar in that fashion. All efforts are being employed across the 8 divisions and the national office to build and improve relationships on all manner of levels. Member to member, division to member, national to division or national to member, it's all being explored. Nick Herrin has tasked and empowered every member of his staff to improve the member experience. Having visited the national office and having worked with Nick's staff on committees and in other settings, I am inspired and excited by the energy and drive to make a difference at every level.

So, what does this all mean? Basically, expect to hear a lot more from your national organization. I know our Eastern Division office works hard to be in communication with you all from email blasts, to the website, to the area rep program, to the snowsports management committee, and so on but I think the national leadership is going to raise everyone's game and I'm thrilled to be a part of it.

In future columns, I will try to shed some light on what we are doing at the national level through programs or committees that are designed to improve your membership experience and help you grow as professionals. As always, if you have any comments or questions, please let me know and thank you for being a teacher.

Your humble servant,
Tom

Region 1 Report (ME & NH)

By Peter Holland Region 1 Representative

Greetings to all of you from New Hampshire and Maine.

The fall has been a warm one, but we are optimistic about having a great winter. As all New Englander's know, we just have to wait and see.

Since this is just the beginning of the season, other than some improvements in lifts and snow making at a number of areas, we don't have a lot to report about goings-on in the region. Most notable is the installation of a new Spruce Peak Triple at Sunday River and a new Peak Triple at Pats Peak. There are also some pretty interesting deals on season passes and discounted skiing at many areas.

In this issue you will see articles about changes in exam requirements related to CS1 and CS2, written tests, the order in which you can take exam parts, and update credits. In this article, Peter Howard and I would like to cover a few other items recently discussed at our October Board Meeting.

Over the past several years our event attendance has decreased each year. We find Workshop Clinics are very popular and very well attended; however, other events had to be cancelled due to insufficient registrations. We would like to hear your preference for the type of clinics you would like to attend. Our surveys say one thing, but your attendance tells another story. We need to hear from you. You can give your opinion or suggestions at one of two regional meetings we will be having this season; the scheduling is in process. One will be in New Hampshire and the other in Maine, most probably at Sunday River. One will be in January and one in late March. We will post those details soon. We urge you to attend. You can also email me anytime at pwholland@worthenind.com.

Another subject is the monthly debit option to pay your dues. I know this topic has been discussed for many years. We thought we would see a dues paying plan rolled out in 2018, unfortunately that is not going to happen. The data processing relating to dues billing and membership records are all stored on a CRM System at the National Office. That system is not capable of handling a debit billing plan similar to the systems used at other businesses. It now looks like the initial program will be rolled out in 2019. We are urging National to get this enacted but there are always roadblocks. Peter and I, along with many other Board Members and staff, think this is a very necessary feature to help people pay their dues even when the last thing they are thinking about is skiing. We need all of you to push for this, especially those of you who will benefit most from this option.

In other news, the Women's World Cup will be held at Killington again on 11/25 (GS) and 11/26 (slalom). I know many PSIA Members work this event. I was fortunate to work at the start last season. It was a great experience being able to talk with some of the athletes and coaches, and to watch the skiing.

Although not a PSIA Event, we will be holding our annual New Hampshire Alpine Racing Association / PSIA Clinic at Bretton Woods on 12/7 and 12/8. The event is staffed by PSIA Ed Staff and has become very popular among race coaches in NH. Along with the PSIA Ed Staff we will have Edie Thys Morgan, a former two-time Olympian as a clinician.

That is about it from the two of us. Please do not hesitate to contact either of us with any suggestions or concerns you may have. We look forward to seeing you on the slopes. The next time you teach a lesson consider suggesting to your student(s); "If you liked today's experience, ask for a PSIA certified professional wherever you go!"

Think Snow and HAVE FUN!!!

Thanks,

Peter Holland, Region 1 Representative

Region 2 Report

By Ted Fleischer, AASI-E Examiner and Region 2 Director

Greetings from the great soon-to-be-white north!

Many of the skiers, riders, and resorts in our region had good to excellent conditions and business last season. This was a much-needed rebound from "The-Winter-that-shall-not-be-named." Several of the resorts in our region received more than 350 inches of snow with Jay Peak topping out with a whopping 491 inches!

We had some changes in our region over the recent months. One major change was Vail's $41M purchase of skiing and riding operations at Stowe Mountain Resort. This is Vail's first eastern skiing and riding resort. Another change was the naming of long-time PSIA/AASI member and examiner, Erik Barnes, as the new GM at Mt. Snow. Erik has been with Mt. Snow for 31 years. Congrats Erik! Additionally, the receivership appointed to oversee Jay Peak's operations has reached a settlement with investors and contractors and has also earmarked $19.7M in new improvements to complete the final phase of Jay Peak's revitalization initiative. All of the above changes bode well for our region, our industry, and for the already strong relationship between our organization and these, and other, resorts in Vermont.

Following the success last season, the World Cup once again comes to Killington November 25th & 26th, a spectacle well worth the trip. This is the second year in a 3-year commitment between Killington and the professional skiing circuit. State-of-the-art snowmaking at Killington and a dedication by everyone involved are what make it possible for us to see this world class event in our own backyard.

As of this writing, the preliminary PSIA/AASI-E schedule is out and there are lots of great skiing, riding, nordic, adaptive, and kids events planned for our region. There are far too many events to name here, but take a look at the online schedules and choose one or two of your favorites for you and your instructor friends to attend...in fact, bring ANY friend, some of our events are open to non-members too!

Think snow and we hope to see you on the slope again soon.

Ted Fleischer – Region 2 Director Katherine Rockwell MacLauchlan – Region 2 Representative

Region 3 Report

By Dave Beckwith Region 3 Director

Hey Region 3! After a great Summer we are all looking forward to Winter and getting back on the snow! Here is an update on what has been happening in Region 3 over the Summer.

Mohawk Mt. in Cornwall, CT. has hired a new Assistant Snowsports Director for their Snowsports Discovery Center. Filling that role will be Jack Hancock. Jack is a certified snowboard instructor and brings many years of successful management experience in the automotive industry to the Mohawk Snowsports team. Best of luck to Jack in his new role!

Mohawk will also have a new program this season called "Hawk Stars." Hawk Stars will be a seasonal Saturday program for snowboarders with a minimum advanced beginner skill level. The aim is to have a snowboard program with its own identity to increase participation in this exciting sport.

Powder Ridge unveiled their 365 Synthetic Snow Park in September. Currently they have a 500 foot. run with plans to expand that to 2800 feet by next Summer. The surface material is a high-quality plastic polymer that provides a very "slideable" surface without water. I had the opportunity to ski it during their opening and it is fun. All of the skiing movement patterns we use apply so it is a great way to keep those ski muscles primed for Winter! Check it out!

Mt. Southington has made major improvements in their snow making capacity for this season. With the system they can go from having no snow to 100% operational in 3 days all at the press of a button. Cold temps are needed of course!

If you have not logged into the PSIA National website recently to check out the new and improved Matrix you need to do so. It is full of tips and high-level demos that you can access from your smartphone, tablet or PC.

Also, make sure you check out the Kids' Cube app. This is a fantastic app that not only will help you plan and shape your lessons but add fun and excitement as well! It's full of great ideas and at $4.99 for the download it's a bargain! Everyone who teaches kids, or just teaches should have this app. It is fantastic.

You can find the link to Kids' Kube at the PSIA Eastern site: www.psia-e.org/kidskube.

I hope to see you on the slopes this winter. Cheers,

Region 4 Report

By Bob Shostek, PSIA-E Examiner and Region 4 Director

Hello fellow Region 4 (R4) members! It's that time of the year when the leaves are falling, darkness comes earlier, and the cold air is moving in. By the time this newsletter goes to press, some of our eastern resorts will be making snow or already close to opening.

Looking at the Eastern Division schedule for the '17-18 season, resorts in Region 4 will host a vast variety of events for every discipline. Our Alpine members can choose from 54 different events covering everything in education the division offers. From workshop clinics to race clinics, the region will host it all, including exams for level I and II. Snowboarders will have 18 scheduled events to choose from, including LI and II exams being held in the region. There are 5 Freestyle events, 9 Children's events (including several CS1 and CS2 events), 17 Adaptive and 2 Nordic events.

This schedule provides more than 105 events in our region at 12 different resorts from December through late March. The vast variety of events on the schedule in our region will accommodate all levels of education and abilities, from new instructors to seasoned veterans. I would like to highlight 32 of our region's scheduled events will take place on the weekend. All disciplines will be hosting several events on weekends. Check the schedule and sign up early because these events fill up fast.

With the ongoing success of the exam colleges, the Eastern Division will host two 5-day, Level II Skiing Colleges and two 5-day, Level II Teaching Colleges. The Level II Colleges will be held December 11-15 at Killington, and February 26 - March 2 at Windham Mountain. Additionally, the division will also host a 5-day level III Skiing College and a 5-day Level III Teaching College midseason at Hunter Mountain. These colleges are becoming very popular events, so as with other popular events, it is suggested you sign up early to be guaranteed a spot.

An important note about Alpine exams: there will be several changes in the Level II and Level III Teaching exams. If you are taking one of the teaching exams this season, please look at the articles on exam change details in this newsletter.

Along with our Regional Representative Steve Martin, I want to say Thank You to Angelo Ross for his time serving as Region 4 Representative on the Snowsports Management Committee (SSMC). We welcome Andrew Davis, Director at Whitetail resort, as our new representative for Region 4 to the SSMC. We also congratulate three Region 4 members on being elevated to Category 1 Examiners: Mark Absalom from Camelback, Jes Stith from Liberty and Stan Wilkes from Whitetail. The countless hours of training, studying and hard work has paid off for them. Best of luck with the new positions on the Eastern Educational Staff! Finally, we wish all the best to former Educational Staff Examiner Ron Hawkes in his new position as General Manager at Camelback Resort.

Steve Martin and I will conduct 2 regional meetings this season and each will run in conjunction with educational events. Having both northern and southern meetings during the year has been well received by Region 4 members in past years. We hope to hold one in the northern part of the region (Camelback or Elk) and one in the south (Liberty or Whitetail). The regional meetings are designed to update members about the division, the region and provide national news. These meetings are also an avenue for members to voice concerns or issues, and present suggestions and questions about PSIA and the Eastern Division, but Steve and I are available any time during the year for regional members, so feel free to contact us directly with any questions or concerns.

Have a great fall and early winter. We hope to see you on the hill soon!

Region 5 Report

By Dick Fox Region 5 Director

Happy Autumn, complete with fabulous colors and frosty nights that remind us that soon we can put away our lawn mowers, golf clubs, and bicycles and strap on whatever flavors of snow sliding tools that make us grin.

There have been lots of initiatives in the Eastern Division over the summer which you can read about in the last (electronic) and this issue of the SnowPro. Please keep in touch with Joe Hazard and me, so that we can help you get the maximum from your membership. Email addresses are at the bottom of this report.

Also, there are lots of things happening in Region 5:

Jane Eshbaugh reports that Holiday Valley has a brand-new Co-Director of the Snowsports School. Please join me in welcoming Allie Doro who will join Bob Armour as co-director. Allie's roots are in Western New York, as she grew up in Buffalo and skied in Ellicottville. After college, she moved out west and spent the last seven years at Steamboat and Aspen. Allie is a PSIA level III certified instructor who comes with the highest recommendations from her peers. Make it a point to meet her sometime this season.

Holiday Valley has added to its automated snowmaking system, purchased two groomers, modified the beginner's area, constructed two new beginner trails and replaced the Cindy's Warming Hut and the Mistletoe Lean To for the 2017-2018 winter season. This year's increase in snowmaking energy efficiency and volume has put Holiday Valley among the largest automated snowmaking systems in the country. The $3.3 million investment this year brings the total investment for this independent resort to more than $126 million in the past 24 years.

A creek and an area of trees in the upper section of the beginner's slope, Slippery Streets, will be reworked to accommodate the resort's Shaped Snow Learning Terrain and make access easier from the Creekside Quad Chair. The two new "Easier" rated trails, Shamrock and Boomerang, are located off lower Northwind and were outfitted with lights and snowmaking. These trails will make it easier to bring novice snowsports students back to the base area or to the Morning Star Ouad.

On the other side of the hill at HoliMont, Wendy Frank reports that "This season our emphasis is once again on Fun with Teaching; Bringing out Your Creative Side. Our Team Leaders feel that sometimes our instructors get locked into one way of teaching with just about every age group. Our goal is to get our staff out of their comfort zone during our on and off snow pre-season sessions, and help them try new and more creative teaching methods. Some of our more creative staff including Mike Hughes, Brian Smith, Adele Wellman, Shelley Fallon, Mark Marino and Tim Leach will be demonstrating six different ways to make a peanut butter and jelly sandwich focusing on different teaching styles and student learning styles. I can't wait to see the results! After this, instructors and trainees will have the chance to teach a two-minute lesson on anything they can do really well and feel comfortable sharing with their group. We will then tie it all in to PSIA/AASI skiing and riding teaching methods. PS If you haven't had your staff tap into the e-learning New Instructor Course from thesnowpros.org, please do. It is interesting, informative, and will certainly help new instructors get on the right track. Also, check out the new promotional materials from PSIA-E, and make sure they are hanging up in your snowsports school and locker room. They are fantastic!"

Wendy Frank continued: "Some interesting HoliMont history...Back in 1963 when HoliMont was just starting up as a private ski club, there were no lifts. Skiers either hiked the mountain, or were towed up behind our one SnowCat. Our first lift was the T-Bar in 1964. Now we have excellent snowmaking, seven lifts, a warming lodge on top, and plans for a great new beginner area, and new terrain at WestMont Ridge. We look forward to seeing you at our clinics this season at the Mont!"

From the eastern half of the region at Greek Peak, Joe Hazard, Greek Peak Snowsports School Director and Region 5 Representative, dreams that this season will start early and go long. "We deserve it and we're ready!" he says.

Joe reports: "It has been an exciting and busy 'off-season' for the owners, management, and staff at Greek Peak. The Hope Lake Lodge was busy with numerous functions and guests taking advantage of our destination and resort facilities. But, the exciting news for is are the investments made in snow making, our rental shop, our advanced terrain/trails and programs for the season.

For this season, we've added 16 new snow making guns and fans. Additionally, we've upgraded pipes and have increased the overall capacity of our snow making systems. Our Rental Shop has had a full make over, and 12 more advanced trails have been added to our Trail Map thanks to modifications of our mountain biking experience.

Greek Peak has also entered into a partnership with Jackson Hole, providing our pass holders with access to discounted tickets.

In addition to all of that, we are now partnering with Snow Operations and will be incorporating their Terrain Based Learning model [TBL] for our newest learners. This will be an awesome experience for our staff and guest. We've been lucky to have Eric Lipton directly involved and look forward to gaining from his experience and insights as we develop our programs around TBL."

Now, all we have to do, is influence Mother Nature.

Region 6 Report

By Joan Heaton Region 6 Director

A special THANK YOU is extended to Brian Smith and Jack Jordan, former Region 6 Director and Representative, respectively, for their dedicated service to our Region during their tenure. Charlie Knopp and I will do our best to continue their great work on behalf of our region.

We began our work by checking with all the Divisional Committee Chairs concerning the contributions that are being made by our present Region 6 committee members. Also, each Region 6 committee member was asked if he/she was willing to continue serving on his/her respective divisional committee. In all cases, everyone said "Yes" and, as a result, our committee representatives will remain the same.

However, with regard to the Education and Certification (Ed/Cert) Committee, we needed to attend to the vacancy of Chris Ericson who was the Region 6 Representative to that committee. Chris was asked and accepted the chairmanship of that committee. We began by calling on the Coordinator of the Area Rep Program to gather names of possible Region 6 candidates from which we could choose a representative to fill this vacancy. After much examination and consideration of the possible candidates, Doug Hammond, Windham Mountain Resort, was chosen to fill the position for our Region. We thank the other candidates for their willingness to serve. Congratulations, Doug!

Our Region 6 Representatives to the Eastern Division Committees stand as follows:

- Snowsports School Management Committee -Gail Setlock, Gore Mt.
- Children's Committee Lisa Gouwens, Gore Mt.
- Education/Certification Committee Doug Hammond, Windham Mtn. Resort

As part of her work as a Children's Committee

In Memoriam

David Michael McCawley, 57, of Jeffersonville, VT passed away in his home on August 26th, 2017, with his wife Judy by his side.

Fondly known as "Squatch", he was passionate about family, friends, music, and life. Living large in the Northern Green Mountains of Vermont, he created an immense network of relationships through Paint Contracting, Ski Instructing at Smugglers' Notch, growing up on the ocean of Southern Massachusetts, and through his love of music especially the Grateful Dead.

He was a longtime member of PSIA (Professional Ski Instructors of America), and earned his Alpine Level 3 Certification. As an instructor and supervisor at Smugglers, he created great skiing experiences for countless guests, as well as training instructors. He truly was a legendary figure both on and off the mountain.

Squatch had a one of a kind personality that was infectious, impactful, and inspirational. He will always be remembered for having a wealth of knowledge, wisdom, and generosity, with which he mentored and guided many souls. His booming laugh and encompassing hugs will be missed tremendously.

For him please put love in your heart, peace in your life, music in your soul, and hug the ones you cherish everyday.

In lieu of flowers please make a donation to Lamoille Area Cancer Network.

Walter Blank, 81, of Ghent, died Monday August 28, 2017, a day before his 82nd birthday, at Columbia Memorial Hospital (in Hudson) with his wife, Jane, at his side. He was born in New Your City and grew up in Poughkeepsie. He attended Poughkeepsie schools, Oak Wood School, and graduated from the University of Vermont. He lived in Poughkeepsie with his family for 14 years and then moved to the old farm in Ghent, which he loved, for the next 42 years. He grew up spending summers with his parents and sister in a cabin in the Adirondacks at Garnet Lake and grew to love the Adirondacks. As a young man, he was an inactive reservist with the National Guard, but was called to active duty during the Berlin crisis and served at an Air Force base in France. He had opportunities to travel in Europe and one of his favorite stories was about skiing with an Air Force ski team and participating in a race in Spain against the Spanish ski team.

He spent many winter weekends with his family skiing at Gore Mountain and he passed his passion for skiing on to his children. It was a sport he enjoyed throughout his lifetime (especially skiing in Utah with his daughter and watching his son ski race). He later expanded his trips to include cross country skiing, and developed a small business leading wilderness tours into the area. After giving up the ski tours he became a ski instructor at Jiminy Peak and was proud to have taught there for 20 years. **(

member, Lisa Gouwens, has started a pilot program in which she is trying to pull together a children's representative from each of the Snowsports Schools in Region 6. Once this group is put together, Lisa is hoping to compare and share ideas for the Children's programs in our Region 6 Snowsports Schools. If you are a Children's Program Director/Leader and are interested in being part of this group, please contact Joan Heaton at jeheaton@optonline.net.

Also, there will be a new workbook for CS1 that will be used for this coming season's events.

As we checked Region 6 for What's Happening in our Region, we were able to gather the following news:

Belleayre Mountain has undergone some big changes during the off season. Highlighting the improvements is the installation of the Catskill Thunder, an 8 passenger gondola running from the Discovery Lodge to the West side of the mountain. As part of the overall Unit Management Plan, this major landmark improvement at the mountain will allow for the long-term growth that has been planned for many years. One of the unique features this gondola will bring in the future is an accessible cross country trail network at the top of the mountain where skiers can ride the gondola back down once they are done with their cross country experience.

Oak Mountain reports that they have installed a new Magic Carpet!

Windham Mountain Resort has contracted with Snow Operating to work with Windham on their beginner conversion program. Eric Lipton, the Managing Director of Snow Operating, will be working closely with Franz Krickl and the Snowsports School to ensure an exciting and successful program.

This summer, Windham also made approximately 2 million dollars in capital improvements in the area by replacing a snow making pipe and some snowmaking equipment. A new green trail in the Bike Park was constructed and improvements in the Golf Course were made.

In the future, so we can all know What's Happening in our Region, would you please submit NEWS FROM YOUR AREA to jeheaton@ optonline.net.

Our first Regional meeting is scheduled to be held at the Thunder Ridge Lodge in Patterson, NY, on Sat, Nov. 25, 2017, at 1:30 pm. Our meeting will be held in conjunction with the Thunder Ridge and Ski Haus Swap Sales. Sounds like a fun day to me!! The Office will send out an email to all Region 6 members to encourage them to attend this Regional meeting.

Feedback Tactics

By Ian Boyle AASI-E Development Team Jay Peak, VT

eason's Greetings, well...almost!!! With winter on the mind and snow quickly coming, I can't help but think about all the excitement that comes with the changing of the seasons! If I think back to my first few seasons as an instructor at Mountain Creek in New Jersey, I can remember how nerve-racking it was to provide feedback as a new instructor. I recall thinking, "Am I saying the right thing?" Or even "Are these people listening to me?" Giving feedback can be extremely intimidating, no matter how much experience we have. How we structure our feedback to students can help take away some of those nervous feelings and leave you, and your student, with a much more positive experience. Some great ways to structure your feedback are by creating goals, continuously engaging your students in their learning process, and coaching for specific sensations.

I started a thread on the PSIA/AASI Open Forum (community.thesnowpros.org) about different tactics on feedback to shed some light on methodology. Thanks to all who posted in the thread, or just read through it! What follows in this article are some highlights and comments that were given. These ideas can aid the structure of your feedback and, hopefully, will ease any nerves you may have about providing feedback.

Goal Setting

When working with any student, take into consideration that there are several different ways people learn. Learn about your student by asking questions with the motive of setting a goal. Goal setting helps to keep the lesson on track and helps you to understand why your student is in your lesson. An agreed upon goal also gives you something to continuously connect with your feedback. It is important to make sure you are giving feedback on the current task and not something your student has to think back to. These are just a few ways goal setting can add some structure to feedback in your lesson.

Framing Questions

One of the other solid ways to give structure to your feedback is by engaging your students in their own learning process. On the community forum thread, getting feedback from the student was a very common theme. Engage your students by asking questions such as: "What are you feeling happen as you move your body towards the nose of the board? Towards the tail? From toe edge to heel edge? How is it affecting what the board wants to do? Is it different when you're standing still versus when you're moving?" Framing questions such as these can prove to be a valuable aid in getting your student to think more like the skier or snowboarder they are becoming.

Feedback Through Sensations

The most common theme that people wrote about on the forum was getting feedback through movement. Movement is the name of the game in snow sports and we can do our best when we are moving. Having your student cue into the sensations that come with sliding on snow is a great way to know what is going on from your student's perspective. My favorite example is the sensation we feel when carving. Proper timing of flexion and extension in our joints will give the awesome sensation of controlling the edge pressure as we rip up the slopes! Giving feedback that is related to sensations is useful because the "Ah-Ha" moment will be instant when your student feels the sensation. That leads to two of my favorite things that I like to hear students say: "Wow that felt AWE-SOME!!! I loved that!"

As a coach or instructor, feedback is our greatest tool to creating a positive, lifelong experience for our students. The way we structure our feedback has a major impact on how meaningful it can be. By setting goals then asking our students about the current activity, we will set ourselves up to provide solid feedback based around sensations. I encourage you to use these tips and explore other ways that will help make giving feedback more effective and less nerve-racking, and allow you to continue improvement as an instructor or coach. **((

AASI Update

By Brian Donovan

AASI-F Advisor and Fxaminer

t's that time of year again...My e-mail inbox is filled with "last chance" offers of deadlines where prices to purchase packages, tickets, and passes all go up, and social media is starting to be filled with pictures of hard working snow-makers testing guns and painting the landscapes white. That's the cue that the best time of the year is quickly approaching. I want to keep all of you in the loop about some specific events and items to be paying attention to this winter.

Calling all AASI 20-Year Members!!!
We admire your dedication to teaching and sliding sideways on snow, and we want to show our appreciation! We have a new event just for you! You'll be receiving special invitations with more details soon, but I want you to save the dates and locations for this season. There will be two different one-day events offered on February 25th at Whitetail Resort in Pennsylvania and on April 6th at Sugarbush Resort in Vermont. Save the dates and keep your eyes out for invitations with more details coming soon!

AASI Freestyle Specialist 1/Level 1 Combo Exams - New this year!!! We are offering three-day events where you can earn your AASI Level 1 Certification and Freestyle Specialist 1 Accreditation all in one place. Yes, you read that correctly! Spread the word to members of your snowboard school to get them into the next phase of teaching all over the mountain!

AASI Development Team Tryout - We are hosting an AASI Development Team tryout March $19^{th} - 21^{st}$ at Killington Resort in Vermont. This tryout is open to any AASI Level 3 members in good standing. For more details, check out the "AASI Update" on page 22 of the 2017 Summer SnowPro located at https://www.psia-e.org/ms/eastern-benefits/newsletter/archives-pdf/!

AASI Exam dates and locations - We are hosting our mid-season AASI Level 2 Exam February $26^{\text{th}}-28^{\text{th}}$ in Region 4 at Whitetail Resort in Pennsylvania. We are hosting our end-of-season AASI Level 2 and 3 Exams March $26^{\text{th}}-28^{\text{th}}$ in Region 2 at Killington Resort in Vermont.

Insider's Tip: How to save money and make sure that the events that you want to attend do not get cancelled. - Sign up early! Avoid event late fees by submitting your event applications before the deadline! Recruit friends! Events are more fun, less expensive (you can split travel and lodging costs), and less likely to get cancelled when more than one person signs up to attend.

We want to hear from you! Do you feel like you have something worth sharing with other PSIA and AASI members in a future edition of the Snow-Pro? We'd love to hear from you. We'll work with you to edit for content and length. Material should be sent to SnowPro Editor at: psia-e@psia-e.org as an MS Word document attachment.

Personal Challenge: My personal challenge to each of you is to spend at least one day riding at a new resort this winter. Take a letter of introduction from your home mountain to Guest Services at this new resort and I bet that you'll have the opportunity to meet some new people in the industry and maybe even score a discounted lift ticket. Go explore new terrain, step outside your comfort zone, and most importantly HAVE FUN! (

Adaptive Accreditation Process

By Kathy Chandler, Adaptive Advisor

re you an instructor with an Adaptive Program? Do you or others from your program find that you are teaching one discipline more than any other? Or conversely, do you NEVER teach one of the disciplines either because of your expertise or your program just does not teach many students in that discipline? We have heard this from the membership and decided that it was time we gave those people a way to continue their education with PSIA. New for this season, we are implementing an Accreditation Program for Adaptive. This is how it will go.

Level I certification will continue as it has is the past. Candidates will come to a Level I exam and be tested on their skiing, teaching and professional knowledge in one of the three disciplines:

- Cognitive & visual impairments, (stand-up/ two track)
- Three and four track (with outriggers)
- Bi and mono-skiing, (sit down)

This gives anyone who has an interest in teaching people with learning differences a basic understanding of teaching people with either physical disabilities using adaptive equipment or those with cognitive or visual impairments. There is guiding for visual and tethering for each of the three disciplines. Each candidate comes away with a broad understanding of teaching skiing, working with people with differences, and teaching methodologies that work for that population, in that discipline.

After getting a Level I certification a candidate can take the Adaptive Skiing exam at Level II. The policy of taking the skiing module as the first module for the Adaptive certification was instituted last year. Once passed, a candidate can choose to follow the accreditation route.

- Each discipline will be a one-day exam, at a lower cost than the two discipline exams of previous years.
- The candidate will be scored on a scale of 1
 - 10. A score of 4 7 will be considered an Associate Accreditation in that discipline.
 An 8 10 will be a Full Accreditation.
- The Associate Accreditation will be at the Level II National Certification Standard and the Full Accreditation will be at the Level III National Standard.
- All Accreditations will be banked for the life of the candidate's continued PSIA membership.

- For any candidate already in the certification process for Level II or Level III, all disciplines that have been passed will be banked and they will go forward taking the one-day exams and earning their accreditations at that Level until they are successful in all disciplines.
- All six disciplines must be scored at the appropriate level in order to be Level II (4 7) or Level III (8 10) certified nationally.

The Adaptive Board of Examiners has spent many hours discussing the different scenarios and situations that may occur and I am sure there will be others that come up in our first year of implementation. We have created this new process to give more of the membership opportunities to continue their education in the field(s) of their choice. Please join in and come to an Accreditation Day in your field. We hope to see you there! **((

Adaptive Schedule 2017-18 Highlights – Take a Look!

By Kathy Chandler, Adaptive Advisor

his year the Adaptive Schedule is packed with so many great events! We are hoping you will take a close look at all the options we offer and find something you would like to join us for. Coming to a scheduled event at another mountain gives you such a wealth of experience beyond the education. You grow through navigating new terrain, meeting different people within the Adaptive Community, learning about how other programs are run, and through the sharing that goes on among the group. These are all valuable elements of professional development that we often overlook.

New this year, we are offering many Accreditation Days, all over the Division, to give Members an opportunity to move in a vertical direction though the discipline or disciplines of their choice. For example, it is now possible to obtain a full Accreditation in just "Visually Impaired." We are excited to see if this will help us bring more people into the education process. In addition, we have lots of Level I Exam opportunities through the Division and Educational Events that will help you grow. We have included many events that will not only help those in the Adaptive Field, but others as well. Some include:

- Behavior Management Techniques
- Teaching Kids on the Autistic Spectrum
- Training Your Trainers

All are appropriate and valuable for all Members, not just those in the Adaptive Field. We all have students with challenges in lessons. So feel welcome to join us!

Each year we have more and more people joining us for the Adaptive Track at the Snow Pro Jam, which is scheduled for Monday-Friday at Killington on December 11 – 15, 2017. Typically, our group leaders are Augie Young (our Adaptive Coach and an Examiner for Adaptive and Alpine) and Geoff Krill (the National Team Coach). Together, they run the program and customize the five days of education for the group as needed. Those who have attended have come away with an appreciation for the education they received early in the season. It is a great way to start the season with a huge boost for you!

Adaptive Development Team Tryout this Season

By Kathy Chandler, Adaptive Advisor

very two years the Adaptive Board of Examiners (ABOE) hold an Adaptive Development Team tryout. This season it will be at Killington, March 26–28. This is an exam for those who have already attained their next 🚹

Adaptive Level III and Alpine Level II certification. They are working to become members of the ABOE and continue their education after certification. I think it can be agreed that at each step of certification one realizes how much more there is to learn. That feeling never stops. We each work to attain a Level of certification then get there and realize there is so much more. I liken it to walking into rooms of new people and experiences.

When I first started, I learned what I could from my local program, then went into the next room, my first experience with PSIA as I entered the registered room. Then it was a series of many rooms that I entered through my process of becoming Alpine Level II and adaptive Level III. Occasionally I did hit some closed doors with a few failures in the process, but eventually kept on moving through. Each room I got into had more experiences and knowledge that I learned before moving on to the next. I must admit that I continue to learn each time I go to a training or understudy another examiner or clinic leader. So that learning doesn't stop, it just gets better.

The process to becoming eligible to try out for the Development Team is as follows: Each candidate must:

- A skiing resume
- A letter of intention with their vision of what they can bring to the Board
- · A letter of recommendation from their Director
- A letter of recommendation from a member of the ABOE.

This information can be sent to me or Augie Young, electronically or though Candace Charles at the PSIA office (ccharles@psia-e.org). I hope that those with an interest will let us know and we will help guide you through the maze of rooms that so many of us have moved. It's such an exciting process and we welcome you to become a part of it. **

The longest season in the East.

Join the Killington Snow Sports School as a Temporary Ski Instructor teaching youth groups from the UK. We are looking for ski instructors to commit to 5 consecutive days for either one of these two sessions: February 10-14, 2018 or February 11-15, 2018

2017 Children's Academy at the Management Seminar

By Sue Kramer PSIA-E Examiner and ACE Team Coach Children's Committee Chair

ait! What? That's right, this year, the Children's Academy and the Snowsports School Management Seminar will run side by side. What started out as an idea over a year ago will be realized December 4-7, 2017. The theme for both events is Leadership. For the Children's Academy, we've gone CAP, with the theme: Leadership at All Ages and Stages. This theme conveys the idea that no matter how old we are, no matter what developmental stage, the best version of ourselves exists. And the variety of indoor and on-snow topics offered will get you, the instructor, there sooner. Through informative and collaborative sessions, participants will also be provided with ideas for elevating the student's experience. In all of our sessions we'll be exploring ways to develop and demonstrate the qualities that make us better leaders.

For pros of all levels and experience, topics were carefully chosen as the most useful and enriching. From learning how to structure a lesson using the children's teaching model, to coaching little racers and freestylers, to using props, you will have a hard time choosing. The indoor sessions provide the right setting for in-depth conversations with other children's leaders in the Eastern Division. Also, we have a 3rd day option for those wanting a little more. These folks will spend the day working on stepping up their skiing and riding game, and learning about the new Matrix. Members looking for an early start to certification may choose the 3-day AASI or Alpine combination Level 1 and CS1.

The Children's Academy, known for its flare and fun, will not disappoint the kid at heart. Channel your personal mentor/hero, whether that person is from the snowsports industry or not. Tuesday evening will be a chance to pay homage to that person. We invite you to fully impersonate your inspiration. It will be an evening of networking, being playful and of course, prizes will be awarded. Region 1's Committee Representative, Steve McGrath, will be in full force with his infamous raffle as well.

The Children's Committee and ACEs believe these simultaneous events will be the best early season one-stop-shop for both managers and instructors. Please refer to the brochure for more detail on the individual indoor, on-snow, and evening sessions. We look forward to seeing you at Mount Snow! **((

Committee Update

By Walter Jaeger PSIA-E Chair Membership and Promotions Committee

t's exciting to finally be heading into the 17-18 season! I don't know about you, but I've spent my share of skiing and training in my head all summer. I've even done some land skiing to help keep muscle memory alive and refined.

One of the best efforts this year is our direct outreach to consumers from PSIA-E. Thank you (!) to the efforts of the individual Resort Reps, who have taken on the burden of distributing and placing full size PSIA-E consumer posters at ski shops up and down the East coast. PSIA-E's Facebook page has seen a continuous input of pictures of the posters placed in places our customers shop! When you see a poster, grin! This is one giant step in raising the public's awareness about the importance of PSIA members teaching their children!

PSIA-E also produced and distributed this year (thank you Resort Reps!) a new recruitment poster for the locker rooms. Recruitment of new members and relapsed members is important to your association. Members are the basis of all of PSIA's education and certification efforts; participating members make PSIA-E a success! You, the members, are the key to new members. Your excitement, commitment and personal aspirations within the profession are what drive instructors to become new members. The recruiting success of posters, advertisements, conversations with Directors and Facebook appeals, all pale in comparison with the success of a member saying to an instructor: "Being a part of PSIA/AASI is a great journey!" Nothing means more than a PSIA member promoting PSIA to nonmembers; you, the member, are PSIA's greatest recruitment asset. All of us should remember this season the crucial role we each play in growing and strengthening our organization.

Another reminder worth reviewing: the VALUE received with a PSIA-E membership. Education is by far our greatest benefit, through events, educational materials (not to mention 32 Degrees and the SNOW PRO), and access to PSIA videos. Another great benefit is the people you meet which broadens your reach of friends and opportunities through participation in clinics or hosted gatherings such as Pro Jam. Then there are the indirect perks — discounts available as a member of a professional organization. If you take advantage of the discounts to best meet your needs, you will find that you come out way ahead of the cost of our annual membership dues. I love going up to a ticket window and receiving a PSIA discount on the ticket, and at some resorts, a free ticket! Many of the clothing discounts available can't be beat by online sales either. I order enough socks each year from Smart Wool® to pay for at least the PSIA-E portion of the dues alone.

If you have any questions on membership or promotion of certified members, please write!

Avoid the Stiff Front Leg in All Three Dimensions

By Matt Charles PSIA-E Telemark Examiner

elemark instructors spend a lot of time talking about the front (lead) leg in telemark skiing. We try to avoid an open ankle that is not flexed, the calf is pushing on the rear cuff of the boot, and the front leg looks like a rigid stick leading the skier down the hill. There are many reasons to avoid this position, but to fully commit to a smooth telemark style, we have to think about staying away from the stiff front leg in all three dimensions.

Fore/Aft

This is the stiff front leg throughout most of the turn. It comes from an overreliance on the back foot or a reluctance to move the center of mass (COM) forward and across the skis in transition. Many telemark skiers find their leading leg so far in front of them, the shin completely disengages from the front boot cuff. This position can result in a myriad of problems, but the one that bothers me the most is that it takes away my quickness. When that front foot gets too far out in front, it feels like I'm driving a big old Cadillac with an enormous turn radius, taking a long time to get through each phase of the turn. As I bring that foot closer to my ground-projected center of mass (narrowing the stance in the fore/aft direction), pulling it towards the rear foot and bending the front ankle, my ability to turn quickly is enhanced. With consistent ankle engagement, and a well-developed sense of feeling (specifically, the feeling of my shin on the front of my boot cuff), I'm able to make immediate, precise turns, a skill that is extremely important in the tight trees and steep bumps that we eastern skiers consider our playground.

Lateral

The opportunity to watch so many telemark skiers over the past couple of years has brought this additional stiffness to my attention. Many beginning telemark skiers, particularly those from strong alpine skiing backgrounds, have a stiff front leg extended out from the body down the bill. This position is characterized by a high edge angle of the leading (downhill, outside) ski, usually combined with a shallow edge angle of the trailing ski. This arrangement allows experienced alpine skiers to use the edge of the downhill ski in the way they would use an alpine ski while doing one-ski drills (solely using the outside ski to complete every turn), while they use the rear ski very little. Again, there are several problems with this position. First, an overreliance on the outside ski makes it very difficult to complete tele turns in challenging snow conditions (ice, pow, corn, mank). Second, if the skier does try to distribute weight equally between their two feet, the lateral separation of the skis promotes leaning into the hill, a problem that becomes worse as terrain gets steeper and slicker. Finally, the lateral separation makes it difficult to achieve consistent, corresponding edge angles without very unnatural body contortions. Because skis are designed to be skied with approximately equal edge angles, this can cause the skis to veer off into undesired locations. Bringing the downhill ski closer to the uphill ski (narrowing the stance laterally) will greatly improve the skier's ability to keep the edge angles consistent from ski to ski, and will allow for an easier, smoother transition when the skier is forced to abandon the old downhill edge and move onto what will become the new outside edge.

Flex/Extend

The third dimension is the Z-axis, leaving the plane that the skis are traveling on, and entering the space above that plane. While it's not common to see a completely stiff leg in this dimension (any kind of turn is difficult to complete when one's leg is completely extended or contracted), it remains important to avoid rigidity in any one telemark position. If a telemark skier has only one possible end-of-turn telemark position at their disposal, they will inevitably run up against snow conditions or terrain variations that will throw him off his game. It's like the old saying: "if your only tool is a hammer - every problem looks like a nail". If your telemark stance never varies as you move from groomed hardpack to powder choked chutes to bump filled trees to soft spring corn, you're treating every problem as a nail. Experiment by varying the height of your telemark stance in all conditions. Some conditions will call for a taller stance, while others may necessitate a lower, more bombproof, position. Sometimes, you may adopt several different positions over the course of one run. Don't be too stiff in any one telemark position and don't be too rigid in your thinking - there are ripping telemark skiers who go low, and ripping skiers who stay high.

The smoothest telemark skiers I know flow like water down the hill. Each turn looks effortless, as if they know intuitively how far to extend off bumps, how much retraction to use in powder, and how much edge to apply on groomers. The easiest way to achieve that style is to eliminate all the stiffness from your tele turns. Keep your feet under you, keep your edge angles consistent, and be able to adjust your stance vertically when confronted with conditions and terrain variations. Telemark is a dance. Leave the stiff legs for those people who lock down their heels. "

Nordic Report

By Mickey Stone, Nordic Coordinator

ell, now that we had summer in early spring and late fall, and mid-summer felt more like spring with all the rain,

I think we are all ready for our favorite season, WINTER! The Nordic Discipline is ready to go for another great season.

Last season, some of the staff visited Grand Targhee for the World Telemark Day and the USTSA World Cup, others to went to Squaw, Winter Park, Snowbird and Telluride. On the cross-country side, some staff visited Norway and enjoyed the local late snow here in the east.

The staff is excited for another year of fun educational events for our members. This season we have 26 Telemark events, 12 Cross Country and 4 Backcountry events on the calendar.

Please look at the early season Telemark events at Sunday River and Seven Springs. These events are a great way to get some early season skiing and polish up your teaching for this year. Also, our ever-popular Mini Academy and Pro Jam are back at Killington in December, where we'll be skiing on the snow from the Women's World Cup Races. This year as part of the Wednesday afternoon optional topics, we will have a group tele ski for anyone who has his or her own gear.

Eastern Scholarship Review Committee Makes Selections

86 scholarships to be awarded to members for 2017-18 season events hanks to hours of volunteer review and discussion time by the Eastern Scholarship Review Committee (Dave Beckwith Sr., Chair; Dave Welch, Steve Martin) and a quick communications turnaround we are pleased to announce that 86 members (out of 140 applications – an award percentage of 61.4%) will be receiving scholarship awards to attend Eastern events during the 2017-18 season. A total of $9,381.00 in financial assistance is being provided to members this season.

All applicants can expect to learn of your status by mid-November.

Thank you to all members that took the time to apply for the Member Scholarship Fund (for all member event types), the Terry Fund (for Children's events), the James Leader Memorial Fund (for Region 2 members), the C.E. Burbridge Fund (for Adaptive events) and the Ed Staff Scholarship Fund. \(\Circ\)

Education Foundation Donors

he PSIA-E Education Foundation expresses its sincere appreciation to the following members who have contributed at least $50.00 to the Foundation through the annual dues "add-on" program since the summer issue of the SnowPro came out. Since no dues or program fees go to the EF, contributions are the primary source of support for the Foundation and its scholarships. Thank you!

For Cross Country we have four early season events in December. We have an early season Level I in Albany through the Capital Region Nordic Alliance. This event will be on skis, or rollerblades, depending on the snow conditions. We also have Teaching/Skiing Upgrades at the Rikert Nordic Center in Middlebury, VT or Lapland Lakes in NY. Both areas are assured of snow due to the climate at Lapland Lakes and snowmaking at Middlebury. We also have our popular Instructor Training Course at Bretton Woods for three days of skiing and teaching improvement.

Our Telemark Free Heel Women's event will be at Pico this season. The Off-Piste Adventures will be at Jay Peak, Gore, Saddleback, and Sunday River. Definitely try to get to one of these great events. In Cross Country we have key clinics scheduled at the Trapp Family Lodge in Vermont, the Jackson XC Ski Center in NH, and Mount Van Hovenberg in NY. In addition, there is a Lite Backcountry Touring event at Garnet Hill Lodge in New York. For all disciplines we will have our popular Norwegian Party and Spring Fling at Stowe for some awesome offpiste skiing. Check out the Nordic Event Schedule and sign up early!

In early November we will be participating in the PSIA-AASI Fall Conference in Colorado. We look forward to the positive direction from the National PSIA office. We will be updating the Telemark and Cross Country standards, the Level I workbooks/tests, and expanding on the fundamentals for both disciplines.

Enjoy the rest of the fall and get ready for another great season. Let's look forward to that first snow in October. \blacksquare

Eastern Board Approves new Rick Metcalf "Aspiring Ed Staff" Scholarship Fund

Grassroots fundraising effort underway to pay tribute to the former DCL coach ed by Eastern member Joe Cartier and Nancy Byrne of Nashoba Valley Ski Area, nearly $7,000 has been raised (at press time) by more than a dozen members in order to create a new sustaining scholarship fund as a living tribute to former Alpine BOE member and DCL Coach Rick Metcalf. Sadly, we lost Rick to a heart attack last spring. Many members credit Rick for helping them over the years to achieve their snowsports goals. Now, a group of members is working to ensure that future "aspiring education staff" still get the help they need – financially this time – in the name of Rick Metcalf.

As presented to Eastern leadership via e-mail in September, Joe Cartier wrote, "Our intention is for the Metcalf fund to be a sustaining permanent endowment. Our goal is for initial funding of $10,000 to be completed by December 31, 2017. The scholarship should be available to all Eastern Division Educational staff team candidates. The primary purpose of the fund is to help candidates of exceptional potential but limited means."

In support of this member initiative, on October 15, 2017 the Eastern Board of Directors approved the creation of the Rick Metcalf "Aspiring Ed Staff" Scholarship Fund. The goal is to honor Rick, recognize the efforts of members that want to pay tribute to him and utilize a portion of the fund to support ed staff prospects that demonstrate both strong potential and definitive financial need in attending events and tryouts related to earning a spot on the Eastern Division Alpine Development Team and Examiner Training Squad. The goal is to utilize the new scholarship fund as early as this winter season.

Thank you to the following members for making donations (through October 30, 2017) ranging from $100 - $500 in support of the Rick Metcalf Scholarship Fund!

Goal Setting

By Anthony Bailey AASI Level III

he return of cooler weather can only mean one thing: Winter is coming! Fall is the perfect time to start getting excited for the season. Now is the time to catch up on the latest ski/snowboard videos, spend countless hours looking at ski/snowboard catalogs, and most importantly, start thinking about what you want to accomplish this season. Whether you're looking to improve your skiing/riding, your teaching, or you're going to take a certification exam, now is the time to start planning.

Set Some Goals: One of the best things you can do to be successful in achieving your goals is to write them down. Writing down your goals gives them a feeling of "weight"; they'll feel more concrete, more real, and it'll be something you can come back to frequently. Writing them down will also make it easier for you to share your aspirations with peers and trainers. Before you put your ideas down on paper, make sure that you're setting SMART goals. SMART goals are Specific, Measurable, Attainable, Relevant, and Time Bound. Structuring your goals in this way is vital to your success. If you simply say, "I want to get better at park," you'll have a very hard time knowing if you were able to accomplish your goal at the end of the season. Instead, "I want to be able to consistently land 360's off small jumps by the end of February" is specific enough that you can use it to make a plan for the season. In addition to being specific, this statement has a measurable outcome with a time frame attached to it, this will make it easier to track your successes during your allotted time frame.

Set Yourself Up for Success: One of the most important pieces in goal setting is to make sure you're taking the time to self-assess. Think about what you accomplished last season and the feedback you received from trainers. Use the information as your base as you start to make a plan for this season. If you're still mastering a 180, aspiring to do a Triple Cork this season will likely set you up for failure.

Don't Just Jump into the Deep End: Even if you've set attainable goals they can still seem overwhelming. For this reason, it can be helpful to set smaller goals within your overall goal. Sticking with the 360 example, your smaller goals might be, "I want to consistently land in the sweet spot of small jumps by January" or "I want to be able to consistently land 360's off little jumps on the side of the trail by the December holiday week." One important thing to remember is that even your smaller goals should still be structured as SMART goals to help stay on track.

What Ifs: There is a lot of additional information available about goal setting. For example, you can find great information in the exam study guides if you've set your sights on certification this season. Something that you may not have heard about is "Failure Setting" or examining your fears. There's a great TED talk on YouTube by Tim Ferriss that I highly recommend. It's entitled: "Why you should define your fears instead of your goals." In his talk, Tim breaks down this process into three pages:

Page 1 - Visualize the worst-case scenarios. Ask yourself: "What are the potential problems in trying to achieve this goal?" Break this down further into three parts: Define, Prevent, Repair.

Page 2 - Analyze the benefits of an attempt or partial success.

Page 3 - Analyze the "cost of inaction" or the effects of putting off your goals for another month, season, year.

Define: Using your SMART goals as your jumping off point, come up with 5 to 10 different fears, problems, concerns, etc. associated with each goal. Let's use the Level II exam as the example this time. Your biggest fear would likely be that you'd be unsuccessful at the exam, but let's break it down even further. Your personal skiing or riding could be below the standard, you could be given a teaching topic that you don't have experience with, or you could be asked professional knowledge questions that you don't know the answer to.

Prevent: Now that you've defined some fears related to your goals, it's time to think about what steps can be taken to prevent or decrease the likelihood of these things happening. Using the Level II example; you can study for the professional knowledge part of the exam by answering the sample questions that are in the back of the Level II/III exam guide. You can also use the exam guide to get a good sense of the possible skiing/riding tasks you could be asked to perform during the exam so that you're not trying something for the first time during the exam. Now repeat this process with all of the fears you've defined; try and come up with as many solutions as you can for each one. If you're having trouble coming up with a solution, look for information in the manuals, ask your peers or trainers, or utilize "the community" on the snowpros.org.

Repair and Reflect: The last part of the first page can be combined with the second page. If the worst-case scenario(s) happens, how can it be repaired? What are the benefits of an attempt or a partial success? Who can you talk to that has been in this situation before? Sticking with the exam scenario, it can be hard to overcome the emotions of not being successful after putting in so much time and effort. However, after some time passes you'll be able to look at the results objectively and reflect on the feedback that was provided to you. Talking with your peers who have been in this situation is incredibly valuable as well. Many people have been unsuccessful at certification exams and they're a great resource to help you process the result and learn from it. Another benefit to a partial success is that you'll have a good idea of what you've done well and what you need to improve which will help you create your SMART goals for the following season. You've also experienced a lot of the "unknowns" of the exam process which can take away some of the fears associated with the exam.

What If You Don't Do It? The last page is dedicated to analyzing the "cost of inaction"; ask yourself what are the emotional, physical, or financial costs of putting off your goals for another month, season, or multiple seasons? It can be difficult to analyze what these costs will be ahead of time, but there are some consistent costs for most instructors. For example, regardless of what your aspirations are, if you keep putting them off, it's likely you'll have regrets when the mountains close in the spring. Have you ever ridden past a rail or jump and regretted it when you took your boots off at the end of the day? Imagine how you'll feel if you put off something bigger than a single feature in a terrain park. What if you don't go to the exam this season? Often, goals can be pushed aside because of the possibility of failure, but by analyzing these costs, you'll be more likely to take on the challenge. It's like Warren Miller says, "If you don't do it this year, you'll be one year older when you do." Aside from the emotional costs associated with putting off your goals, your decision may also have a monetary cost. If you go the exam and you're successful it would likely result in a pay raise at your home resort. Putting off the exam for another season could have a direct effect on the amount of money you make. You can also learn a lot about the "cost of inaction" from others who have put off their goals, spend some time talking about this with your peers and trainers. It can be easy to let the fears associated with achieving your goals get in the way of trying, but by discussing your concerns you'll find you're not alone and that there are people who are willing to help.

Be Proactive: If you're serious about accomplishing your goals this season, don't wait for your trainers to come to you; seek them out and share your SMART goals with them as well as your fears. Find a training/study group at your home resort, if one doesn't exist take it upon yourself to create one. As PSIA/AASI members we also have a lot of resources available to us. If you're not sure that you can get the help you need at your home resort, there are several other ways to get some assistance; "The Community" on the snowpros.org is a great place to connect with instructors and gain valuable insight from their experiences. You can also connect with instructors through social media. For example, AASI-E has a very active Facebook group; it's a great jumping off point if you're looking to connect with instructors who have similar goals to your own.

It's Go Time: One of the best things about skiing/snowboarding and instruction is that there's always something that can be improved. Setting SMART goals as well as the "failure setting" exercise will give you a solid foundation before you get back on snow. No matter what your goals are, now is the perfect time to make a plan and get excited about the season! So, what are you going to accomplish this season?

Insert Joke Here

By Keri Reid PSIA-E Development Team

manager once told my training group:
"All self-respecting instructors should be able to tell a good joke on the spot." At the time, his comment caused me some mild anxiety. It's not that I am devoid of a sense of humor, but rather was put off by the people around me who were immediately capable of responding naturally with witty punchlines. My brain was spinning with what I would say when my turn came around. Further, I was questioning what joke telling had to do with the ability to teach snow sports. I've learned, the answer is quite a lot.

In retrospect, it was likely being put on the spot that made me most uncomfortable with the joke assignment. Being a compulsive planner with control issues, the task felt like cruel and unusual punishment. I was never really one to tell jokes; I'm rather more of a quick quip kind of person. Yet, spontaneity stands to be one of the most important qualities of a good instructor. Rarely does a lesson go exactly as planned; the human factor makes sure of that. It doesn't hurt to exercise our ability to be spontaneous. The point is: just like the best jokes are spontaneous, a successful instructor can think on their feet and deliver the goods on a dime.

A more obvious parallel to draw would be that an instructor should be able to amuse and at times distract their student. Imagine the crying four-yearold, the one who demands that their parent materialize immediately. Distraction can be the key to creating an opportunity to first connect with a distraught child. Bottom line is, before the content of a lesson is laid on your guest, the initial objective should be to connect with them. Sometimes, you just need to break the ice. Comedy is disarming, so are talented instructors.

A well delivered joke is about the build-up to the punchline. It captivates the listener from beginning to end, finally providing them with the much-awaited denouement. Akin to the skills of storytelling, a good lesson keeps the student focused on the task at hand even if they're eager for the end result. It's why we should all strive for creative and experiential teaching; it's learning disguised as pure enjoyment. This, in my opinion, is how we create lifelong skiers and riders. When the story is good, the punchline can wait. Likewise, engaging exploration means the instructor can take their time helping their student make a meaningful discovery.

I am a true believer in the fact that instructors are athletes, teachers, psychologists, tour guides and entertainers all rolled into one. Joke telling just so happens to cover both the educational and entertainment pieces. If you're wondering, I did in the end manage to scrape together a long forgotten funny. If I can say so myself, it wasn't half bad either. "

Learning from Failure and Good Coaching

By Dan MacPhail Alpine Level II, CS II Instructor Wachusett Mountain

t is hard to fail, but it is worse never to have tried...the only man [woman] who never makes a mistake is the man [woman] who never does anything...it is only through labor and painful effort, by grim energy and resolute courage, that we move on to better things..." Teddy Roosevelt made these inspirational statements, which influence me to this day.

During the 2016/2017 season, I earned Level II Alpine Certification after several unsuccessful examinations. No matter how hard I tried, and I worked hard taking clinics whenever I could, I often felt disappointment and self-doubt when failing to obtain the standard, yet I saw the value of sticking it out to the end, one module at a time. Our examiners sensitively described the difference between attaining and maintaining the standard, and how further certification or specific skill development is a journey with twists and turns we cannot always anticipate. That is probably what makes snow sports so adventuresome, exciting and new every time we go on the snow. However, no matter how you slice it, when you fail to pass an examination, it hurts and feels very personal, regardless of reassurances from others.

So why do we it and how do we persevere to achieve our goals? The answer to the first question is unique to each individual, but for me, it was intrinsic to who I am. Certification is a symbolic marker, such as a college student's commencement exercise confirming a degree. The real work and all the possibilities and challenges follow the commencement, the continuation of growth and development in our sport.

The second question is what to do to stay in the game and push forward regardless of setbacks and disappointments along the way. You give your best effort to learn from every failure and tap into the abundance of talent out there. Rarely does anyone get to where they want to be without the help of others. All of us can reflect upon special people in our past who enriched our lives, whether it was a history teacher, a track or football coach or a choral conductor. These people played an indispensable role in shaping our view of ourselves, our abilities and our desire to achieve what may have seemed at times remotely possible or unattainable. When striving to become a better skier/boarder, a better ski sports instructor or to obtain higher level certification, the inescapable reality is that the help and guidance of mentors are critical to success.

I have much more to learn from experienced Level II and III graduates at Wachusett Mountain, where I have taught for 12 years. I am particularly grateful to the PSIA examiners whose skill, energy and wisdom offered through a variety of clinics and the Level II College made it possible for me to achieve certification. It would not have happened without their support and guidance. These special people dedicate themselves to helping snow sports instructors achieve their goals, and that is why it is so important to take advantage of any opportunity that comes your way by participating in their clinics. In addition, if you fail to achieve the standard in any examination, do not hesitate to ask your examiner(s) how you can improve. They are a wealth of information. Capitalize on your failures, and they will make you stronger, more resilient and determined to achieve your goals.

In the meantime, I want to heartily say "thank you" to the PSIA examiners and to the coaches at my mountain, who all did so much in helping me and my fellow snow sports instructors achieve our goals. And I wish best of luck to any instructor who is striving to make their dreams a reality.

Level 2 Pride

have heard that introduction once, I have heard it a thousand times. As a PSIA-E Examiner, I'm fortunate to have the opportunity to travel around the division and work with many of our wonderful members. Every time I hear this introduction it makes me sad. Why is anyone ashamed of their Level 2 certification? There is so much to be proud of, I want to start a new campaign – L2P!

Checking online what the acronym L2P stands for I found "Learn to Play", a term generally applied to online gaming. I also found the less widely used "Lease to Purchase". But I like mine best – L2P – Level 2 Pride.

Why shouldn't a Level 2 PSIA member be proud? A Level 2 member is certified to meet or exceed the national standards for teaching skiers in the Beginner through the Intermediate Zones. These are clearly the zones that the vast majority of our students, and quite honestly most skiers, enjoy. Let's face it, we love the thrill, the adrenaline rush, our pulse racing as we approach that steep, icy, expert run, the race course, a bump field, or kneedeep crud; but, do we want to spend all our time there? Not usually. A beautifully groomed blue trail, or maybe some fresh tracks in a few inches of powder, that effortless glide. This is what the majority of skiers enjoy and is the sweet spot for the Level 2 instructor. Also, while a challenging lesson in the Advanced zone is not likely to cause the student to abandon the sport; in the Beginner and Intermediate zones, a skilled instructor may inspire a lifelong passion for snowsports in a student.

In addition, it's not like Level 2 pins get simply handed to every Tom, Dick or Mary. A Level 2 ski instructor has taught a recommended minimum of 150 hours. They have already obtained their Level 1 certification, signifying expertise in the Beginner skiing zone. At a minimum, they have attended a two-day educational pre-requisite course, successfully achieved the Children's Specialist 1 designation, completed a fifty-question online exam, and participated in roughly four days of examination of their skiing and teaching skills. Just doing some rough math, at a minimum that is about 240 hours, which is roughly equivalent to the hours required for a college course.

Furthermore, that doesn't consider the hours spent traveling, reading, training at your home hill, optional PSIA events, other training activities, boot fitting, and more that is done during our quest for certification. In addition, there is the cost of the events, your time, and the new outfit you need to wear to your exam (or at least an exam or tryout was always my excuse for a new outfit!). This all adds up to at least a thousand dollars and likely much more. Everyone should be extremely proud of their willingness to invest that much time, money and energy in pursuit of certification.

When I began teaching skiing, there was only one certification level — Full Certification, now known as our Level 3. I can still remember the stories I have heard about those exams. Anyone who achieved their certification 'back in the day' should be commended. In the late 1970s, PSIA added the Associate Certification, which went on to become Level 2, as a way to acknowledge the skill of those instructors who work in the Beginner to Intermediate zones.

Many of our Level 2 members are part-time ski instructors, while holding down other full-time jobs. Some work at smaller resorts or in parts of our division with very short seasons. Others have just recently started skiing or are making ski instructing a second career. Achieving the Level 3 certification generally requires an instructor to spend the majority of their skiing/teaching/training time in the Advanced zone. That is hard to do, when we have limited time and most of our students need us to work with them in the Beginner to Intermediate zone.

Please don't misunderstand me, I'm not advocating that members give up on their quests to become Level 3 certified. I'm a life-long learner, I believe in challenging myself, working to understand my sport better and make changes in my skiing and teaching. I hope that anyone who is passionate about skiing and ski teaching feels the same way. I want you to keep working at it. Furthermore, all of the PSIA education staff members want to help you to be successful. I just don't want you to be sad, or feel incapable, simply because you haven't gotten there...yet.

So, this season get out on the hill with L2P — Level 2 Pride. The next event I see you at, I want to hear, "Hi, my name is _____, and I'm Level 2 certified and proud of it."

Over Informing

ingly countless hours behind the wheel of a motor coach, it leaves a lot of time for thinking and listening, all whilst concentrating fiercely on the road ahead. A majority of the people I drive around the New England area are college sports teams. The conversations that penetrate my concentration on the road ahead are those that happen between the coaches and the athletes before and after the game, the conversations on how to prepare the team and athletes for the match and improve for the next one. I'm intrigued by how each coach chooses to deliver the information to their athletes and also what information they deem important enough to be shared with the whole team versus an individual member of the team.

hen your summer job involves seem-

In a time where we can turn on any form of media, at any hour of the day or night, and get hour upon hour of speculation on how teams are going to play, how players are going to perform, and what tactics teams and coaches will use to win, it's a wonder the teams and athletes need to play at all because the games already seem to be played out. However anyone that has played a sport, team or individual, knows the reality on the field is different. I played soccer and tennis for well over 10 years each; I remember during my games and matches that when the ball was in play, nothing could distract me from what was happening ON the field. There were many half-time conversations where Coach would be talking to us and asking why we weren't doing what he was shouting at us to do from the side line, and the answer was we simply could not hear Coach as our attention was on the game. The same can be said about our parents who would shout encouragement and grievances from the side lines that no one heard because we were listening to our team mates and were too focused on the game to hear anything else.

How many times have you ridden behind students "talking" to them while they are moving only to find out they did not get a word of what you were saying or shouted "YEAH BUDDY!" from the deck of the pipe as your athlete stomps a landing and they ask if you said something on the next meet up?? More often than not, once the whistle has been blown to stop play or the trick/ movement/ skill has been performed and we have safely ridden away or come to a halt do we start taking notice of the coach, parents on the sideline, or our instructor.

So how can we effectively be heard by our students or our peers? Several times this summer, I looked in the mirrors to see athletes' blank faces looking towards the front of the motor coach after just receiving a gargantuan amount of information describing every possibility of each individual movement of the ball. Not to dissimilar to when I first began teaching and shared every single thing I saw with my guest about their snowboarding... cue blank faces much? More recently however, I have taken on a much more reserved approach to the information that ultimately reaches our guests, students and peers.

Like any effective teaching or coaching, information shared should revolve around the goals of those we are teaching. With the most successful coach/teams I drive, the coach shares the style of play of the opposing team and 2 pointers on how they should adapt their style of play to have the best chance of winning and then it's warm up as usual. The debrief after the game then typically shifts to one on one "chats" with individual players as to how they did against that team. Both pre and postgame, the information shared to the group and individual is brief and to the point, the actual work is silently done in the team training that is done multiple times each week.

This technique loosely mirrors what I, and a lot of other instructors, do on hill with our students, athletes, and peers when we are working towards their goals using MA. Here is a breakdown of how to avoid over informing:

- 1. Set goals for day.
- What did you see? These are facts of how we see movements appearing whilst watching our student in a controlled environment based around the goal.
- 3. Identify the efficient and inefficient movements in relation to the goal.
- Prescribe change based off of movements seen to either move closer to accomplishing goal, complete goal or enhance goal.

Blank faces occur when there is too much talking, especially when it is early in this process. After we know our guests goals we need time riding to see repetition of movements in a controlled setting so we can see what movements are reoccurring and use that information to make an accurate assessment and prescription for success.

So after talking at Step 1 to set goals, we can begin talking again at Step 4 because the rest of the assessment phases can be done in our heads. It is only if our guest asks why, should we then proceed to give them a little of the information we gathered during Step 3.

I challenge you to use a more refined method for delivering your information in this era where everyone wants more than their 2 cents worth. It may allow you to build a better rapport with your guests and peers as you rip and have fun on the hill.

PSIA-AASI Eastern Division Event Participant Safety Policy

Skiing and riding are athletic and physically demanding activities. It is the expectation of PSIA-AASI Eastern Division that each participant attending an event or exam shall possess the requisite level of fitness and stamina to participate safely, on all appropriate terrain and at a pace consistent with other members of the group. As such, PSIA-AASI Eastern Division reserves the right to have education staff reassign participants in any event that may pose a risk to themselves or others or consistently impede the progress of the group to another, more skill and fitness-appropriate event. In such a situation, an appropriate event will be recommended and the member may be transferred to that event at no charge (other than any difference in event costs) or a full refund of the originally registered event will be provided.

PSIA-AASI Eastern Division Event Participant Safety Policy

Skiing and riding are athletic and physically demanding activities. It is the expectation of PSIA-AASI Eastern Division that each participant attending an event or exam shall possess the requisite level of fitness and stamina to participate safely, on all appropriate terrain and at a pace consistent with other members of the group. As such, PSIA-AASI Eastern Division reserves the right to have education staff reassign participants in any event that may pose a risk to themselves or others or consistently impede the progress of the group to another, more skill and fitness-appropriate event. In such a situation, an appropriate event will be recommended and the member may be transferred to that event at no charge (other than any difference in event costs) or a full refund of the originally registered event will be provided.

2018 Board Elections for PSIA-E Regions 1 and 2

Overview for Members and Candidates

- t is time for interested members in Region 1 (NH, ME) and Region 2 (VT) to declare their candidacy for the Board of Directors for the next three-year term of office. Per the Bylaws and our staggered regional election process, Regions 1 and 2 are up for election in early 2018. Following is an overview of this process. We encourage you to review this and get involved!
- Members interested in running for a Board seat must fill out and submit the candidacy form on the next page. It must be postmarked and sent via U.S. Mail to the Albany office no later than December 30, 2017. It may also be sent as a .pdf file via e-mail to mmendrick@psia-e.org. No one is permitted to run for more than one position; to do so will invalidate the form. Late candidacy forms will not be accepted.
- 2. The winter issue of the SnowPro (out late-January) will include comprehensive candidate profiles and will serve as the official communication of candidate messages to voters in each electing region. In addition, there will be a dedicated web page for the election including candidate profiles and the ability for members to cast a secure vote online.
- The positions open include two Board seats for each of the regions of PSIA-E up for election in 2018 (Regions 1 & 2).
- 4. Elections for regional Board representatives are for three (3) year terms (beginning April 1, 2018 and concluding March 31, 2021).
- A position for which there is no candidate will be filled by Board appointment after the election.
- All submitted candidacy forms will be acknowledged by e-mail. Any concerns about confirmation must be resolved before the deadline.
- Qualifications for the Board seats: Must be a certified Level 1, 2 or 3 member in your fourth year of continuous membership. Complete qualifications in section 12.3 of association bylaws (available at www.psia-e.org). Must also meet the requirements of item #9 below.
- 8. All members in good standing as of December 31 of each year may vote in the subsequent regional election. The Eastern Division of PSIA & AASI is divided into seven geographic regions (see "Around the Regions" section of the SnowPro). As a member, you may choose to be affiliated with one region the one in which you work as a snowsports instructor or the one in which you live. This affiliation is for regional mailing and voting purposes. You should affiliate your membership with the region in which you are most active as a snowsports instructor. If you have not previously chosen a regional affiliation (when you joined), the region in which you live would have been assigned as your designated regional affiliation by PSIA-E Bylaws, Section 10.8. In order to change your regional affiliation (to where you work as an instructor) you must notify the division office in writing (e-mail accepted) by December 31 for the subsequent election.

- To hold office in any region, a member must run for election in the region of his/her snowsports work affiliation (Association Bylaws, Article X, Section 10.3.c). You may be declared a member of only one region.
- Any candidate that may have a material conflict of interest in serving as a Board member must report the details of his or her situation concurrent with the candidacy form.
- 11. Upon receipt of all valid candidacy forms and support materials, the division office will compile candidate profiles from all candidates in each electing region. These profiles will appear in the winter issue of the SnowPro (to be sent to members in late January, 2018) along with the official web page dedicated to the 2018 election.
- 12. Voting for the 2018 election will take place online via electronic voting on a secure, dedicated web page. Paper ballots will only be provided to members without online access upon request. Online voting will begin in late January and end on March 16, 2018.
- 13. Official results will be announced by March 20, 2018 via broadcast e-mail, social media and the PSIA-E web site. Results will also be posted in the spring issue of the SnowPro. The terms of the new Board members will begin on April 1, 2018, providing the opportunity for newly elected representatives to communicate with constituents prior to the June 2018 Board meeting.

Position Specifications:

Regional Director (Board) – This will be the person receiving the most votes among all persons running for Board seats within a region. A Regional Director will be responsible for, and will have final authority for, the administration of all regional affairs.

Regional Representative (Board) — This will be the person receiving the second most votes, subject to item (a) below, among all persons in a region running for Board seats. A Regional Representative will be responsible for assisting the Regional Director in regional matters as outlined by the Regional Director. Both the Regional Director and Regional Representative will sit on the Board of Directors and will exercise independent and equal voting rights.

(a) At least one Board member from each region must be a person who is not an examiner or employee of the organization; provided that at least one such individual is on the ballot.

Being an elected or appointed official requires some commitment. We urge members who have the interest, time and capability to submit candidacy forms. Board members should plan on two Board meetings a year (mid-October and mid-June), one or more regional meetings, and involvement in at least one ongoing project. Board Officers serving on the Executive Committee must commit to more time and participation than others.
